SINCE 1900 THE BEST FAMILY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER FOR ALL OF PUTNAM COUNTY AND THE WHOLE WORLD

Three Putnam High School Seniors Named National Merit Scholarship Semifinalists

Officials of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) announced the names of more than 16,000 Semifinalists in the 71st annual National Merit Scholarship Program on September 10, 2025, in Evanston, Illinois. Among 16,000 were Hurricane High School's Emma Klinebriel, Eli Crimmel, and Winfield High School's Erin Walls. These academically talented high school seniors have the opportunity to continue competing for some 6,930 National Merit Scholarships, worth nearly $26 million, that will be offered next spring.

To be considered for a Merit Scholarship award, Semifinalists must fulfill several requirements to advance to the Finalist level of the competition. Approximately 95 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to attain Finalist standing, and around half of the Finalists will win a National Merit Scholarship, earning the Merit Scholar title.

NMSC, a not-for-profit organization that operates independently of government assistance, was established in 1955 specifically to administer the annual National Merit Scholarship Program. NMSC underwrites scholarships with its own funds and with contributions from approximately 300 business organizations, higher education institutions, and individual donors who share NMSC's goals of honoring the nation's scholastic champions and encouraging the pursuit of academic excellence.

Steps in the 2026 Competition

Over 1.3 million juniors in about 20,000 high schools entered the 2026 National Merit Scholarship Program by taking the 2024 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which served as an initial screen of program entrants. The nationwide pool of Semifinalists, representing less than one percent of U.S. high school seniors, includes the highest-scoring entrants in each state. The number of Semifinalists in a state is proportional to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating seniors.

To become a Finalist, the Semifinalist and a high school official must submit a detailed scholarship application, in which they provide information about the Semifinalist's academic record, participation in school and community activities, demonstrated leadership abilities, employment, and honors

Pageantry was on display Thursday, September 25, as seniors from Buffalo, Hometown, and Hurricane gathered at the John Henson Senior Center in Hurricane to compete in the 2025 Putnam Senior Games. The Putnam Games mirror the worldwide Olympic Games with an opening ceremony in which the torch-bearer lights the Olympic flame and a parade of olympians from each center march into the central gathering area.

Imogene Arthur, 95, of the Hometown Center, the eldest present, performed torch-bearing duties. Following the lighting of the flame, participants carrying a banner identifying their center entered the assembly.

Participants dispersed to compete in events of their own choice and at their own pace. Events were baseball, softball, football and wiffleball throws; 20-yard walk; corn hole; ladder ball; axe throw; lawn darts; Frisbee golf; billiards; washer toss accuracy; and precision football.

Senior Olympic winners were named after judges tabulated the scores. Hometown won gold medal center honors. Hurricane was the silver medalist with Buffalo taking the bronze.

Imogene Athur captured top individual honors by registering the most first place finishes in any age grouping. The Center MVPs were: Imogene Arthur, Hometown; Mike Weaver, Hurricane; and Connie Reddington, Buffalo.

The MVP of each center won a free trip to the 2026 State Senior Olympics which will be held in Keyser next June. When an MVP chooses not to make the long journey to Keyser, the center second place finishers may represent Putnam in the statewide competition.

WV Division of Forestry Urges Caution During Fall Fire Season

Fall fire season begins Wednesday, Oct. 1, and continues through Dec. 31, the West Virginia Division of Forestry (WV DOF) recently announced.

During this time, residents must confine their outdoor burning to the hours of 5 p.m. to 7 a.m., according to the West Virginia State Code Chapter 20-3-5. Fires set during that time must be put out before 7 a.m.

"As West Virginia approaches its fall fire season, I urge all citizens to prioritize safety and adhere strictly to our state's burning laws. Wildfires pose a significant threat to our communities, forests, and natural resources. By exercising caution and following established regulations, we can collectively prevent devastating fires and protect our beautiful state. Please familiarize yourselves with the current burning laws. Your cooperation is vital in ensuring a safe fall season for everyone."

Outdoor burning is restricted during the day due to the abundance of dry leaves and forest floor debris that may cause fires to spread. Relative humidity typically increases during the evening and overnight, which is why burning is permitted only from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Debris burning is West Virginia's most common cause of wildfires, averaging more than 35% of all wildfires over the past 10 years.

West Virginia residents are encouraged to familiarize themselves with state laws before burning. A summary of forest fire laws and safe fire practices can be found here on the state Division of Forestry website. The WV DOF also publishes a Daily Fire Report highlighting the current active fire season.

The fall fire season state law restrictions include:

- No outdoor burning from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

- Any fire set between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. must be extinguished before 7 a.m.

- Fires must be attended at all times.

- Before leaving any fire for any length of time, the fire must be completely extinguished.

- Clear at least a 10-foot area (safety strip) around the fire and make sure all burnable material has been removed.

- Any equipment that can throw sparks and operating on land subject to fire by any cause must be provided with an adequate spark arrestor.

- If your fire escapes, you are liable for the costs of fighting the fire and any damage the fire may cause.

- Violation of the burning law is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000.

The WV DOF can issue commercial permits to burn during the prohibited periods.

The Division of Forestry protects nearly 12 million acres of forestland across West Virginia. For more information on fire safety and programs like forest legacy, logging and landowner assistance, visit wvforestry.com.

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

THANK you to my readers for emails and texts... I appreciate each one. bburke701947@gmail.com... thank you... thank you...

It looks like there might not be a sixty year reunion for the HHS Class of 1965... if there is, I have not read about it... or heard about it... I had hoped to come, but alas... that is fine... probably too difficult to plan this late.

Moving again... yes... I am in Greenwood, Indiana... still moving in and getting furniture... dealing with paperwork... that will be for months... missing the Florida family... enjoying family here... I am older... birthday September 30... do NOT ask which one... I am now as old as Linda and Sonny though... all of the kids in our class except those born later, Barbara C., Kay S., Sandy B., etc., the younguns, as we used to say.

Recently, I read on a website the story of a murder that happened in our area, there, years ago. THANK you, Mayor Edwards for bringing this to our attention again. I do remember hearing about this growing up... I remember the members of our families and our friends using this story to frighten us to be safe and careful. I am glad we have The Breeze for stories and history... thank you, Betsy and Ron. We all miss Cookie and Irene, of course.

Living in Indiana, I am close enough to visit Hurricane more often... my hotel in Hurricane... the one I really like... can't wait to go there again...my friends can meet me at Pizza Hut... yum... fun... won't be long... we are working on dates now. In the meantime, I am liking this new apartment...some quirks, but those will be worked out. We had a pizza party, Pat, Kathy, and I on Saturday...football, pizza and snacks... and later, Kathy and I watched our home shows. We do plan some projects this winter.

Not sure if I wrote about the empty box arriving at my daughter's home... some say I did... others say I did not... that is a story for another column... it is bittersweet... some of my life just wiped out... oh well.

It seems to be zapping my energy... this moving again... maybe it was the heat in Florida while packing... maybe it was the wonderful time at the Magic Kingdom... maybe the long trip here...not sure what... but we have not stopped yet. I will be doing paperwork until the first of the year for sure.

Just a short column to thank some important people... my readers... the Mayor... and others... in the meantime, I am enjoying another birthday...

A new book: The Mad Wife... Meghan Church... do not miss this one... set in the 1950's... she wrote THE GIRLS WE SENT AWAY, written in the 60's... loving loving these books... don't miss them...

We read because the way we were is the way we always are... loving our books... another author I like: Victoria Gilbert...

WVDA Issues Guidance for Farmers Amid Ongoing Drought Conditions

The West Virginia Department of Agriculture (WVDA) is urging livestock producers to take proactive steps as drought conditions continue to impact much of the state. To prevent long-term damage to pastureland, WVDA recommends confining cattle if feeding hay and reducing grazing pressure until rainfall improves conditions. Overgrazing during drought can weaken forage stands, making it more difficult for pastures to recover.

Additionally, funding is currently available for temporary fencing from Conservation District offices to help confine animals and prevent damage. Farmers are encouraged to contact their local District office to learn more about available relief programs and eligibility requirements.

As of September 18, 2025, ten West Virginia counties are classified in D3 (Extreme Drought): Hancock, Brooke, Barbour, Braxton, Nicholas, Webster, Pocahontas, Randolph, Upshur and Lewis. The remainder of the state is also experiencing worsening dry conditions.

The WVDA will continue to work with state and federal partners to identify additional resources and provide support to farmers if conditions worsen.

For more information and drought resources, visit <https://agriculture.wv.gov> school official, write an essay, and earn SAT® or ACT® scores that confirm the student's earlier performance on the qualifying test.

From over 16,000 Semifinalists, more than 15,000 are expected to advance to the Finalist level, and in February, they will be notified of this designation. All National Merit Scholarship winners will be selected from this group of Finalists. National Merit Scholarships

Three types of National Merit Scholarships will be offered in the spring of 2026. Every Finalist will compete for one of 2,500 National Merit® $2500 Scholarships that will be awarded on a state-representational basis. About 830 corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarship awards will be provided by approximately 150 corporations and business organizations for Finalists who meet their specified criteria, such as children of the grantor's employees or residents of communities where sponsor plants or offices are located. Additionally, approximately 150 colleges and universities are expected to finance around 3,600 college-sponsored Merit Scholarship awards for Finalists who will attend the sponsoring institution.

The 2026 National Merit Scholarship winners will be announced in four nationwide news releases, beginning in April and concluding in July. These scholarship recipients will join approximately 389,000 other distinguished young people who have earned the title of Merit Scholar.

October is Bullying Prevention Month

If you've ever dealt with someone making threats against you, been the subject of physical or verbal attacks, had rumors said behind your back, or been purposely excluded from a group, then you know what it's like to be bullied. October is recognized as National Bullying Prevention Month. A time to raise awareness and take a stand against bullying. National Stop Bullying Day is on the second Wednesday in October. It brings together students, faculty, and parents to work toward ending bullying.

Bullying is any unwanted and aggressive behavior that involves a power imbalance, whether real or perceived. It's typically behavior that is repeated over a period of time. While technology offers many benefits, it has also made bullying easier and more widespread. Cyberbullying can include sending mean or inappropriate emails or text messages, posting rumors or embarrassing photos and videos to social media, and even creating fake profiles to harass others. No child should be afraid to ride the bus or go to school because a classmate threatens them.

If your child has been a victim of bullying, or if you know someone carrying the heavy burden of depression or contemplating suicide, it's crucial to seek help immediately. The 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline is a beacon of hope, providing free, 24/7 support for anyone in emotional distress or crisis. Trained counselors and mental health professionals are available around the clock to lend an empathetic ear and guidance to anyone in need.

Another invaluable resource is The Jason Foundation (JFI), a national leader in suicide prevention. JFI is dedicated to raising awareness and providing educational programs aimed at equipping youth, parents, educators, and communities with the knowledge and tools necessary to identify and support at-risk youth. Their commitment is profound—JFI has never charged a school, community, or individual for its programs or resources. Visit The Jason Foundation's website to dive deeper into the issues surrounding youth suicide, recognize the warning signs, and discover how you can be part of a solution that makes a real difference. The Freedom Car Show is rolling back to the Boulevard!

A Dose of Heart Behind Every Headlight

Set for October 4, 2025, at Haddad Riverfront Park, the Freedom Car Show is organized by the WV Statewide Independent Living Council (WVSILC).

This vibrant gathering will feature hot rods, muscle cars, daily drivers, trucks, bikes, and some of the most innovative vehicle modifications you'll ever see. From adaptive controls to specialized seating, ramps, and assistive technologies, many of these vehicles are engineered to restore what many of us take for granted: the ability to move freely, safely, and with dignity.

More Than a Car Show: Community + Cause

It's not just the cars that make this event special. The Freedom Car Show promises something for everyone:

- Live local music to keep the energy humming.
- Food vendors offering everything from comfort food to local favorites.

Family-friendly activities like giant Jenga, cornhole, games for kids, and more.

An opportunity to meet exhibitors, engineers, and organizations who are pushing forward the frontiers of accessible transportation. If you or someone you know has ever thought about modifying a vehicle for mobility, this is the place to learn and connect.

Why It Matters: Turning Waitlists Into Wheels

The Freedom Car Show isn't just for show; It supports real, tangible change. All proceeds go to the Community Living Services Program (CLSP), run by the WV Independence Network (WIN), which helps people with disabilities in West Virginia.

What does that mean in practice?

• Funding adaptive modifications for vehicles so people with mobility challenges can drive or ride comfortably.

• Providing assistive devices, durable medical equipment, home modifications, and accessible ramps.

• Addressing a backlog: there is currently a waitlist of people who need help getting the vehicle or adaptive equipment they require, but funds are limited.

Every car on display, every food vendor, every donor, every spectator helps move someone off that waitlist.

Rushing Air

By Velma Kitchens of Culloden

I see the trees swaying in the wind – it is fall
And the wind moves them all
From my window I see the wind sway the trees in unison as they
Have no power to stop the wind
I see the leaves touching one another and wonder if they know
The unseen wind makes their home bend
Effects of wind can be seen but wind is a mystery to me
But not when I see the wind swaying a tree.

Support Immune Health With Four Everyday Habits

(Family Features) The coughing and sneezing you hear at home, in the office and at the gym means one thing: It's cold and flu season. Although it's impossible to guarantee you won't get sick, adopting a few healthy habits can go a long way toward avoiding the sniffles and sneezes.

Start by talking with your health care provider about any concerns you may have then follow these lifestyle recommendations for natural immune system support.

Wash Your Hands: While it's probably the first rule you learn about getting sick as a child, washing your hands remains a critical first line of defense. Use warm, soapy water and rub your hands together for at least 20 seconds. Don't forget the backs of your hands, wrists and under your fingernails. Rinse off the soap then dry with a clean towel.

Commit to Healthier Eating: Foods like fruits, vegetables, nuts, seeds, legumes and whole grains are recommended by experts as essential foods for optimizing your immune system. Consider fresh grapes, a prime example of food that contains beneficial plant compounds linked to health benefits in humans.

Healthy cells are the foundation of good health, and the antioxidants and other polyphenols naturally found in grapes help protect the health and function of cells. The good news is that improving your diet doesn't require a complete overhaul – small steps such as swapping in fresh California grapes for processed snacks or simply adding a handful of fresh grapes to your day will add these beneficial compounds to your daily routine.

Or, you can add grapes to recipes like this Lemony California Grape and Beet Salad, a vibrant and fresh melody of color and flavor. Roasted red and yellow beets meet sweet and juicy grapes, peppery arugula and pumpkin seeds all brought together with a zesty lemon vinaigrette.

Studies suggest some grape compounds may positively influence immune function, including resveratrol and certain flavonoids. Additional studies show adding heart-healthy grapes to your daily diet can help support brain, colon and skin health. Grapes are also a good source of vitamin K, which may help support lung health.

Avoid Others Who are Sick: Along with washing your hands frequently, steering clear of people who are ill may sound like a no-brainer, but sometimes it's easier said than done. When loved ones, close friends or coworkers come down with a cold or flu, do your best to keep your distance and avoid touching items with which they came into contact. After bedtime routines with a sick child or afternoon meetings with an under-the-weather associate, thoroughly wash your hands and clean commonly used surfaces like doorknobs or conference room keyboards.

Prioritize Hydration: Even during cooler weather, staying hydrated remains important for immune health by keeping the body's defenses functioning properly. Drink water throughout the day, and for an extra dose, increase hydration by eating foods with high water content like grapes, which contain about 82% water. Find more health and nutrition information at GrapesFromCalifornia.com.

BASIC BIBLE

God Warns Pharaoh through Dreams

Genesis 41:25-36

"And Joseph said unto Pharaoh . . ." (v. 25a). All familiar with children's Bible stories know who Joseph and Pharaoh were. Joseph was sold into slavery by his jealous brothers and Pharaoh was the king of Egypt.

Being sold into slavery turned out to be Joseph's ticket to Egypt, a place that he did not intend to go. Neither did he seek an audience with Pharaoh. Joseph came before Pharaoh because Pharaoh learned that Joseph could interpret dreams. Pharaoh had a troubling dream which none of his advisors could explain.

Upon learning the reason that Pharaoh had summoned him and before hearing the dream, Joseph said: "It is not in me: God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace" (v. 16). There is no reason to believe that Pharaoh had any knowledge of the God which Joseph had just referenced. Joseph knew the God who speaks to men through dreams because God spoke to him in dreams in which his brothers bowed down before him in obeisance (Gen. 37). Joseph knew the God who spoke to Pharaoh to be the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Furthermore, he knew God as the God who spoke all creation into existence (Gen. 1:1).

"God hath showed Pharaoh what he is about to do" (v. 25b). Joseph heard Pharaoh's dream and was immediately given its meaning. God did not delay in supplying Joseph the words which he was to speak to Pharaoh.

Joseph explained that the seven good kine and the seven good ears were seven years of plenty which would soon come to pass in Egypt. The seven thin kine and the seven empty ears were seven years which would follow the seven years of plenty — years which would cause the years of plenty to be forgotten. Upon making this known to Pharaoh, Joseph advised him to find "a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt" (v. 33). This man was to be given authority to appoint officers who would take up one fifth of the harvest during the seven years of plenty. The surplus of the fat years would be held in store to meet the needs which would arise in the seven years of famine (v. 34-36).

With the exception of the first five words of verse 25, the entirety of the text before us is words spoken by Joseph to Pharaoh. Every word which Joseph spoke was from God. Pharaoh heard and acted. Pharaoh selected Joseph as the discreet and wise man who would appoint officers to gather a fifth of the harvests during the seven plenteous years.

The entire passage before us could be rephrased and shortened to read: "God caused Pharaoh to hear the words which He gave to Joseph." Knowledge that Egypt would experience seven years of plenty followed by seven years of famine was part of that which God wanted Pharaoh to receive. God wanted Pharaoh to act upon the information and specified that which Pharaoh should do. Pharaoh responded by setting Joseph over the land of Egypt. Pharaoh chose Joseph because Joseph was discreet and wise in his eyes.

All scripture exists for God's purposes. The account before us exists such that men might know God and act in accordance to that which He makes known. We must look beyond the text before us to view the picture that God would have us to see and to act upon.

In Genesis 37:5-9, God told Joseph through two dreams that his brothers would bow down before him. His brothers bowed in obeisance following the first of the seven years of famine, 21 years following the dreams from God (Gen. 42:6). Consider that which transpired in the span between the dreams and fulfillment. Joseph was sold to Pharaoh's captain of the guard (37:36). Joseph was falsely accused and placed in prison (39:20). Joseph interpreted the dream of Pharaoh's butler (40:13). Pharaoh's butler informed Pharaoh of Joseph's interpretation (41:12). Joseph's wait was long but his elevation from prison to power was in a flash of time.

When God revealed to Joseph that his brothers would bow before him, God did not reveal the time when it should come to pass. When the time did come, Joseph's brothers were not aware that they had fulfilled that which God revealed 21 years before (Gen. 42:8). While Joseph recognized his brothers when they bowed, he did not remember his dreams until after they had bowed. Joseph believed the dreams; his brothers did not. Both Joseph and his brothers failed to realize that God had caused what He had said (obeisance to Joseph) to happen until after it had happened. Neither the believer nor the unbelievers knew what had happened until it had come to pass. Such are God's ways.

While Old Testament scriptures reveal God's ways, God speaks clearly and directly in New Testament scripture. "And this gospel of the kingdom and shall be preached in all the world to a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come" (Matt. 24:14). New Testament believers have been forewarned. In Matthew 25, Jesus likened His coming (the coming of the bridegroom) to ten virgins. Half were wise; half were foolish. Both the wise and the foolish slumbered and slept. Both heard the midnight hour call and awoke. The wise were ready; the foolish could not answer the call.

That which God said would happen shall happen in the manner that He has said. All shall be asleep but the wise shall be ready because they ever seek Him and feast upon His word and are filled. To the church at Philadelphia, Jesus said, "Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth" (Rev. 3:10).

Let us hear and act upon that which the Spirit has spoken.

KIDS TALK ABOUT GOD

BY CAREY KINSOLVING AND FRIENDS

When Is Anger Right?

"It's okay to get mad when someone is not following God's rules," says Talon, 6. "Like if someone steals a toy from another person, it's okay to get mad. The angry feeling can help you do something to make things better."

At six years old, Talon has given us a nugget. Righteous anger will motivate us to do something to make things better. Sinful anger will always make things worse.

"Jesus was angry when he drove moneychangers out of the temple," says Madalyne, 11. "This was righteous anger. It is okay to get angry if we know something is wrong, and the people who are doing it know it is wrong, too."

"If someone lies, for example, we have the right to be angry at him or her. But we should also remember that we have lied in the past and not be harder on them than we are on our self."

"You should not correct someone for doing a wrong thing if you have done the same thing or something else wrong and not resolved it. If you have done so, then first resolve it before correcting your friend."

"Yes, it's okay to be angry, but only when you yourself have resolved your own problems, which could cause others to be angry at you! Otherwise, let someone who has resolved his problems handle it, and (you) handle your own problem."

Jesus spoke of removing the plank from your own eye before you try to remove a speck from someone else's eye. Don't be a hypocrite (Luke 6:41-42).

Fear of appearing self-righteous or being called a hypocrite shouldn't make us passive in the face of obvious injustice.

"When Martin Luther King Jr. fought for civil rights, he was angry because blacks were not treated equally back then," says Nathaniel, 8. "But sadly, he was shot. That is one of the times that it is good to get angry."

The Apostle Paul put it this way: "Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor what is evil. Cling to what is good" (Romans 12:9). He also wrote: "Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep" (Romans 12:14-15).

Every Christian lives in a world full of injustice. Our call is to love and bless those who persecute us unjustly. At the same time, we are to be people of compassion in rejoicing with those who rejoice when justice is served and weeping with those who weep when people suffer from injustice. We should be first to speak up for those who suffer unjustly, and at the same time be willing to bless those who unjustly persecute us for Christ's sake.

"When we get angry for a good reason, we must be sure that our anger only targets sinful behavior and true injustice, is properly controlled and does not last for a long time or turn into bitterness," says Alice, 12.

The Apostle Paul wrote: "Be angry, and do not sin: do not let the sun go down on your wrath, nor give place to the devil" (Ephesians 4:26-27).

Think about this: Jesus got angry when he encountered those who used his father's house for personal gain (John 2:12-17). He also got angry at the hardness of heart that religious leaders showed when they tried to trap him (Mark 3:4-6).

Memorize this truth: Ephesians 4:26-27 quoted above.

Ask this question: Do you get angry at the things that made Jesus angry?

CASE NO. 25-0688-G-390P MOUNTAINEER GAS COMPANY Infrastructure Replacement and Expansion Program Filing for 2026

NOTICE OF FILING AND HEARING

On July 31, 2025, Mountaineer Gas Company (Mountaineer) filed its annual Application for approval of an Infrastructure Replacement and Expansion Program for 2026 (2026 IREP) with revised IREP rates for 2026, pursuant to W.Va. Code § 24-2-1k, which authorizes the Public Service Commission of West Virginia to approve cost recovery of projects to replace, upgrade and expand natural gas utility infrastructure that are deemed to be just and reasonable and in the public interest.

In its Application, Mountaineer forecasts capital investment for calendar year 2026 of $77,000,000 as part of its multi-year plan. The 2026 IREP covers several categories of plant asset replacements and improvements, including mains, service lines, measurement and regulator stations, and house regulators. These plant investments are proposed to be made in Mountaineer service territories throughout the State. These investments are identified in the Application, which is on file and available for public inspection at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia and which may be viewed on the Commission's website, www.psc.state.wv.us.

Mountaineer proposes to increase IREP revenues by approximately $5,239,000 for IREP investments made from 2023 to 2026 through an increased IREP rate component to be effective on January 1, 2026, within the fixed or volumetric base rate component of its rates, depending on the applicable rate schedule under which service is rendered. Mountaineer projects that if the program and IREP rate increase are approved as requested, the average monthly bill for its various classes of customers will be changed on January 1, 2026 as shown below:

Table with 3 columns: Type of Customer, Increase, % Increase. Rows include Residential, Commercial, Large Commercial (), Large Commercial - I (), Industrial (*), and Wholesale.

(*) Percentage increases for Large Commercial and Industrial customers assume transport customers purchase their natural gas at the same price as the Company's Purchased Gas Adjustment rate.

The increases shown above are compared to the rates currently in place and are based on averages of all customers in the indicated class. Each class may receive an increase greater or less than stated here. Individual customers may receive an increase that is greater or less than average. Furthermore, the requested rates and charges are only a proposal and are subject to change (increase or decrease) by the Commission in its review of the filing. Any change in rates and charges will not become effective until authorized and approved by the Commission.

The Commission set a procedural schedule, including a hearing date on the Application that will begin at 9:30 a.m. on November 14, 2025, in the Howard M. Cunningham Hearing Room at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia. If no opposition to the Application is received by the Commission within one week of the hearing date, the hearing may be waived, and the Commission may issue a final order within 150 days of the Application filing date.

Anyone desiring to intervene should file a written petition to intervene within 10 days following the date of this publication unless otherwise modified by Commission order. All requests to intervene should briefly state the reason for the request to intervene and comply with the rules on intervention set forth in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. CASE NO. 25-0595-WS-DSIC

WEST VIRGINIA-AMERICAN WATER COMPANY 2026 Distribution System Improvement Charge

PUBLIC NOTICE OF CHANGE IN RATES and NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

On June 30, 2025, West Virginia-American Water Company (WVAWC) filed an application for approval of a Distribution System Improvement Plan and Charge (Application) pursuant to the direction of the Public Service Commission of West Virginia (Commission) in its February 24, 2016 Order that resolved WVAWC's 2015 rate application, Case Nos. 15-0675-S-42T and 15-0676-W-42T.

WVAWC proposes to invest approximately $37.7 million in water and $6.1 million in wastewater infrastructure replacement and system upgrades in 2026. The investment will include the replacement of transmission and distribution mains, hydrants, water service lines, meters, collection mains, services, manholes, valves, structures, communication equipment, process plant facilities and equipment and treatment and disposal (T&D) equipment, pumping equipment, wastewater troubled system acquisition investment, and post-acquisition collection system investment. WVAWC is requesting to recover the costs related to the investment through its Distribution System Improvement Charge (DSIC). The projects proposed for 2026 are identified in the Application, which is on file and available for public inspection at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia, and may be viewed on the Commission's website, www.psc.state.wv.us.

As with the DSIC currently in place, WVAWC proposes to recover costs associated with these investments through a surcharge on customer bills, calculated as a percentage of the total monthly bill for service (comprised of both the minimum meter charge and the volumetric rate component). WVAWC proposes to include a Wastewater System Improvement Charge (WSIC) as a subcomponent of the DSIC to recover qualified investments in wastewater utility plant, as authorized by the Commission Order issued March 1, 2024 in Case No. 23-0558-WS-DSIC. The proposed DSIC rate combines WVAWC's DSIC qualified wastewater revenue requirement with its water revenue requirement to calculate a single DSIC rate that is the same percentage adder for both water and wastewater customers.

WVAWC projects that if the DSIC and WSIC revenue requirement are approved as requested, the 2026 DSIC/WSIC adders will recover $5.8 million through a DSIC Rate Component of 2.79%. The average monthly bill for various classes of customers when compared with current authorized base rates, will change as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Customer Class (Average Monthly Usage), Increase, % Increase, Wastewater WSIC Rate of 2.79% (Effective 03/01/2026). Rows include Residential (3K gallons), Commercial (16K gallons), Industrial (650K gallons), OPA (33K gallons), and Sale for Resale (5,652K gallons).

If approved, the 2026 DSIC and WSIC rate increments will also directly or indirectly affect customers of the following public service districts, regional development authorities, municipalities, or other governmental subdivisions who, under agreements approved by the Commission, are charged water service or wastewater service rates that are in whole or in part based on the rates of WVAWC.

Water Boone County Public Service District Cumberland Public Service District Jumping Branch-Nimtz Public Service District Kanawha County Regional Development Authority Lashmet Public Service District Lewis County Economic Development Authority New Haven Public Service District Oakvale Road Public Service District Putnam County Building Commission Salt Rock Public Service District Webster County Economic Development Authority

Wastewater New Haven Public Service District

The increase and percentage increase for customers of the above listed utilities will be approximately the same as those shown for the WVAWC customers.

Some of the customers receiving service from these entities under Operation and Maintenance Agreements with WVAWC also pay a surcharge in addition to the rates that mirror WVAWC rates. These surcharge amounts were approved by the Commission in prior cases, and those surcharges will not increase or otherwise be affected by this filing.

Wholesale resale customers of WVAWC subject to the DSIC surcharge include Bluefield Valley Water Works Company, Flatwoods Canoe Run Public Service District, and South Putnam Public Service District. The increase shown above are based on averages of all customers in the indicated class. Each class may receive an increase greater or less than stated here. Individual customers may receive increase that are greater or less than average. CASE NO. 25-0595-WS-DSIC

PUBLIC NOTICE OF CHANGE IN RATES and NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

On June 30, 2025, West Virginia-American Water Company (WVAWC) filed an application for approval of a Distribution System Improvement Plan and Charge (Application) pursuant to the direction of the Public Service Commission of West Virginia (Commission) in its February 24, 2016 Order that resolved WVAWC's 2015 rate application, Case Nos. 15-0675-S-42T and 15-0676-W-42T.

WVAWC proposes to invest approximately $37.7 million in water and $6.1 million in wastewater infrastructure replacement and system upgrades in 2026. The investment will include the replacement of transmission and distribution mains, hydrants, water service lines, meters, collection mains, services, manholes, valves, structures, communication equipment, process plant facilities and equipment and treatment and disposal (T&D) equipment, pumping equipment, wastewater troubled system acquisition investment, and post-acquisition collection system investment. WVAWC is requesting to recover the costs related to the investment through its Distribution System Improvement Charge (DSIC). The projects proposed for 2026 are identified in the Application, which is on file and available for public inspection at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia, and may be viewed on the Commission's website, www.psc.state.wv.us.

As with the DSIC currently in place, WVAWC proposes to recover costs associated with these investments through a surcharge on customer bills, calculated as a percentage of the total monthly bill for service (comprised of both the minimum meter charge and the volumetric rate component). WVAWC proposes to include a Wastewater System Improvement Charge (WSIC) as a subcomponent of the DSIC to recover qualified investments in wastewater utility plant, as authorized by the Commission Order issued March 1, 2024 in Case No. 23-0558-WS-DSIC. The proposed DSIC rate combines WVAWC's DSIC qualified wastewater revenue requirement with its water revenue requirement to calculate a single DSIC rate that is the same percentage adder for both water and wastewater customers.

WVAWC projects that if the DSIC and WSIC revenue requirement are approved as requested, the 2026 DSIC/WSIC adders will recover $5.8 million through a DSIC Rate Component of 2.79%. The average monthly bill for various classes of customers when compared with current authorized base rates, will change as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Customer Class (Average Monthly Usage), Increase, % Increase, Wastewater WSIC Rate of 2.79% (Effective 03/01/2026). Rows include Residential (3K gallons), Commercial (16K gallons), Industrial (650K gallons), OPA (33K gallons), and Sale for Resale (5,652K gallons).

If approved, the 2026 DSIC and WSIC rate increments will also directly or indirectly affect customers of the following public service districts, regional development authorities, municipalities, or other governmental subdivisions who, under agreements approved by the Commission, are charged water service or wastewater service rates that are in whole or in part based on the rates of WVAWC.

Water Boone County Public Service District Cumberland Public Service District Jumping Branch-Nimtz Public Service District Kanawha County Regional Development Authority Lashmet Public Service District Lewis County Economic Development Authority New Haven Public Service District Oakvale Road Public Service District Putnam County Building Commission Salt Rock Public Service District Webster County Economic Development Authority

The increase and percentage increase for customers of the above listed utilities will be approximately the same as those shown for the WVAWC customers.

Some of the customers receiving service from these entities under Operation and Maintenance Agreements with WVAWC also pay a surcharge in addition to the rates that mirror WVAWC rates. These surcharge amounts were approved by the Commission in prior cases, and those surcharges will not increase or otherwise be affected by this filing.

Wholesale resale customers of WVAWC subject to the DSIC surcharge include Bluefield Valley Water Works Company, Flatwoods Canoe Run Public Service District, and South Putnam Public Service District. The increase shown above are based on averages of all customers in the indicated class. Each class may receive an increase greater or less than stated here. Individual customers may receive increase that are greater or less than average. The requested rates and charges are only a proposal and are subject to changes (decreases or increase) by the Commission in its review of the filing. In addition, WVAWC has proposed new base rates in its pending base rate proceedings, Case Nos. 25-0426-W-42T and 25-0428-S-42T, which have been
