County Commission Imposes $100 per Day Fine upon Property Owner

By Ron Allen

Raymond Davis of Charleston became the first property owner to be subjected to fines for failure to comply with an order to remedy conditions on his property at 67 Marina Park, Hurricane. Davis was given notice in January that fines of $100 per day would begin in sixty days if he failed to clean up the cited conditions. The fines began on April 20, the date of the Commission meeting.

A second property owner, John Cook, was also given notice that he would be assessed $100 per day fines for conditions existing at 55 Marina Park, Hurricane. The Commission, citing a request from Cook, opted to delay the assessment of fine for an additional 30 days.

The Commission approved a request from Bancroft Mayor Donna McKneely to have the town's corporate limits be made subject to Putnam County's Dilapidated and Abandoned Ordinance. Beginning Tuesday, April 20, anyone (even an anonymous source) can file a complaint with the DAEA Board concerning property conditions within the municipality and the DAEA Board will investigate and issue a corrective action if necessary.

One item on the agenda for Tuesday's meeting which the Commission did not act upon was a request to purchase property located at 6321 Poca River Road South. A grant for the purchase was approved in February of 2020 but the Commission, after determining that the property could not be developed for any purpose other than recreation, is now considering returning the grant funds to the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program. The matter was tabled to a future meeting.

In other business, the Commission adopted levy rates for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 2022. Putnam residents will be subjected to the same rates on July 1, 2021 as were in effect on July 1, 2020.

The Commission also approved a request for a letter of support for the WVDOT to proceed with a full engineering design to widening Sleepy Hollow Road in Hurricane and for the Regional Intergovernmental Council to explore funding options for the project.

In another agenda item, the Commission approved a Violence Against Women Act grant application.

The next Commission meeting is scheduled for Thursday, April 29.

Cops-N-Rodders Classic Car Club Aims to Expand Cruise-In Opportunities

Cops-N-Rodders Classic Car Club held its first cruise-in of the year on Saturday, April 17, at the parking lot of the Putnam County Bank Loan Center. Last summer, because of the COVID shutdown, Cops-N-Rodders was only able to host one cruise-in.

The club usually does not start hosting events at the Putnam County Bank Loan Center (formerly the interstate branch) until May, but this year they decided to start early.

Larry Wingo, president of the club, says that this early start will provide more opportunities for shows, in case of rainy days or cancellations.

D&L Produce and Flowers Makes Seasonal Opening at Hurricane Location

By Betsy Allen

D&L Produce and Flowers is once again open for business. David and Lynn Young of Hurricane sell Amish-grown produce and flowers, yard décor, and canned and packaged foods. They have two locations: across the road from Hurricane High School, and by AutoZone in Teays Valley.

Their current offerings include petunias, pansies, million bells, dahlias, daisies, hostas, canna lilies, marigolds and geraniums. They are also selling tomatoes and onions, and expect to have cucumbers and ferns in this weekend. In addition to the flowers and produce, they also sell Amish-crafted wooden yard furniture and wooden planters they made themselves. The AutoZone location is not open for the season yet, but when it opens, the hours will be 10 a.m. through 6 p.m., seven days a week. The location across from the high school is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. "Come and see us," says Lynn Young.

The Hummibirds Have Returned to Washington Hill Road

By Linda

On Saturday afternoon April 17, 2021 at 2:30 was an exciting siting when I looked out the patio door and saw my first hummingbird of this season sipping from "Linda's Delicatessen"! George was at the back door coming inside with Frosty. I hurried to him and asked him if he had seen the bird but he hadn't. I called my mother, Eva Fisher but she didn't answer her phone. Then I called Ron Allen at the Hurricane Breeze and shared my thrilling experience with him. He seemed delighted. Then I posted it on Facebook and received several comments from well-wishers who were anticipating their first arrival. Isn't it amazing how we like the bigger things in life but when something as small as a little hummingbird arrives it is so very exciting?!

Putnam Records 100th Covid Death

By Ron Allen

The DHHR reported the deaths of 16 West Virginians on April 15. Among the coronavirus victims was a 62-year old male from Putnam, the 100th Covid death in the county. Seven county residents have succumbed to the disease in the last two weeks.

The deaths per thousand residents in Putnam since the beginning of the pandemic is 1.8. In comparison, both Cabell and Kanawha are higher with death per thousand counts of 2.0 and 1.9, respectively. Statewide, deaths per thousand average 1.6.

On the DHHR Covid-Alert Map of April 20, Putnam displayed an orange coloration with a percent positivity of 5.6%, while Cabell showed green with a percent positivity of 1.8% and Kanawha was gold with a 4.9% positivity.

Meet Some of Hurricane's Oldest Families

In 1988, The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV was published to commemorate the town's 100th anniversary. Since the Centennial History is now out of print, the Breeze is reprinting articles from the book as space allows. This week's selection will be the 189th installment of the Centennial History.

We, the wife and children, could write a book about our beloved husband and father, but instead we will condense this into just a few words. On December 6, 1898, Royal S. Phelps was born to William Pearl and Mary Jane (Moore) Phelps on Cow Creek in Hurricane, West Virginia. He spent his childhood on Cow Creek, attended Oak Dale School, working for his father on the farm, and cutting hair only in his spare time. He became so well known in and around the community for his work, that the people who came to him on a regular

West Virginia State University Criminal Justice Program Ranked Among Nation's Best

The West Virginia State University (WVSU) Department of Criminal Justice has been ranked the 12th best bachelor of criminal justice degree program in the United States by online educational resource Study.com.

In the organization's rankings of the top 50 criminal justice programs in the country, WVSU's was ranked No. 12 based on factors such as internship opportunities with law enforcement agencies, professional experience of faculty members, accreditation from criminal justice and law enforcement organizations, and the availability of concentrations and certification programs in specific criminal justice fields.

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

We have come to think of this new living place as The Move... the 31st Move for Mom/Nana. It has gone so smoothly... unbelievable... despite all the paperwork... still have to brave motor vehicles with a file two inches thick.

My son moved me into a condo he bought for me and helped me furnish it. I own little... I am one mile from them and just about everything else, including the beach. Beautiful Gulf.

The two little grandsons love to come to Nana's place... we still work on school together, play games, and walk around the complex. Once my son has both of his vaccinations, they will be going to the park to meet friends and have other activities going on. They are almost nine and six and ride their bikes almost 20 miles and the miles they run is fantastic. So sweet and good and kind. Today, they washed my car for me.

Always helping Nana. Florida is gorgeous. I sit on the patio and enjoy the palm trees... I won't mention the squirrels and lizards... the breeze from the ocean is comforting. Love it... Life has come full circle. Mother loved Florida during her last years... now I am here.

My family, the Indy group and the Florida

University is now enrolling for the summer and fall 2021 semesters. For more information, visit www.wvstateu.edu/applynow.

Available Pets at the Putnam Animal Shelter

These are a few of the many pets up for adoption at the Putnam County Animal Shelter. By the time that this issue of the Hurricane Breeze is published, these animals may have already been adopted and found their forever homes. However, there are many pets at the shelter that still need homes.

For more information, call the Putnam County Animal Shelter at 304-586-0249.

Meet Piper! (ID #44634) Piper is a male one year old cat looking for a new home to call his own! Come meet this very handsome guy!

Meet Oscar! (ID #44625) Oscar is a great neutered male six-year-old beagle mix dog. He has always been an outside dog and is not housebroken or crate trained. He can be aggressive if you try to force him into a crate; otherwise he is a great guy!

group, continue to be good to me... I am a blessed woman. My daughter hopes to return in April... she will be fully vaccinated by then. As I said, Indiana has followed rules and gone by age. Florida... my son waited in line for hours... West Virginia... I still have elderly friends not fully vaccinated... something isn't right about that.

Moving can be fun... starting over... with minimal furnishings and items... a good time to purge what one does not need. I can't stand clutter and hoarding... drives me up the wall. I know every item I have and what it is used for.

Things that just sit around... well... I am over collecting... dusting those items... past things I enjoyed... now... life is more simple.

My daughter-in-law picks up grocery items, fresh fruits and veggies for me... just as the Indy group did when they got my groceries for me. I do go to my favorite, Dollar General... and the local Publix, now that I am fully vaccinated also. I don't mind driving in new areas... If I could do it in Indianapolis with 8-12 lanes, daily, I can do it here. Beach traffic is sometimes overwhelming but doable.

I like this area. Palm Harbor is beautiful, and let's face it, I have two little guy reasons to be here... I still can't beat them in board games or card games. One day... There are so many places that I enjoy, but Florida is a favorite. I am glad we all made the decision that it was time for the boys to have a grandparent nearby... I am glad the Indy family will come often...

My readers know that I am West Virginia born and West Virginia strong... I miss my home state... my home on Green Acres Drive... my big yard... big rooms... however, that house was empty... I lived alone... here I have little ones coming to the patio doors... my son and his wife coming... in Indy, Kathy's family visited often... my youngest granddaughter and I spent so much time together... it is difficult—missing them... but I am thrilled with my life... here or there... because I am blessed with the four best kids in the world (son and wife... daughter and husband) and the most magnificent five grandchildren ever... I adore them... love them... thank God for them... because the way we were is the way we are... always thankful and caring... I wish my Mother could be in her favorite place and see her grandchildren and great grands... I wish she could see them jump out of their truck or car, run to the doors and shout, "Nana... we are here... I wish Mother could see them sitting at the desk studying (my son bought that also... after remodeling the condo... new appliances... new floors... and on and on...). I wish she could see them in the complex pool (or their family pool)... playing tennis... so many activities she would enjoy seeing... I wish...

Brandon Davis of Branchland brought his recently acquired 1984 AM General M923A1 cargo truck. The vehicle itself weighs 11 tons, and can haul 5 tons; it also has a six-wheel drive. The truck originally came from an Air Force base. Davis plans to take the truck to car shows and parades, and possibly use it for trail riding and off roading on ridges. (Photo by Betsy Allen)

This blue 1964 Dynamic Oldsmobile is owned by Nola and Robert Simpson of Ripley. In this photo, Robert is holding the family dog, Little Liza Jane. A month after the Simpsons first bought the car, it rolled down over a hill and the front end was totaled when it hit a tree. They did significant work to fix the vehicle. The organizers of the YMCA Girls' Night Out event borrowed the vehicle for their August 2018 fundraiser for victims of domestic violence. The theme of the event was blue, and since the Oldsmobile is blue, they wanted to use it for photo opportunities. Nola says she is very proud that the vehicle could be a part of this event. basis asked him to open a shop in Hurricane, which at that time was needed. So in 1925, he started his own shop, charging twenty-five cents for haircuts, and fifteen cents for shaves. In the span of forty-five years that he was a barber, there wasn't a man or boy who didn't come to him at one time or another for a haircut. He had four locations. The first barber shop was in the alley behind the old post office on Main Street. From there, across the railroad on Front Street near Billups' Store, then later back to Main Street in the Conner building close to Bill Black's Grocery Store and Doc Raines' Drug Store. His last shop was in a small building he remodeled behind the house on Rhoda Street where he worked until he retired in 1972. On August 26, 1923, he married Eunice M. Boothe of Salt Rock, West Virginia. They had two sons and two daughters, but lost their first son at the tender age of sixteen months with pneumonia. In 1938, he joined the Hurricane Church of the Nazarene, and was a very active member. It is our belief that everyone who knew him loved and respected him. He loved to fish, hunt, meet and talk to people, but above all he loved God and his family. After his retirement in 1972, he and his wife moved to Culloden, West Virginia. He passed away October 23, 1979, two months before his 81st birthday. His wife and youngest daughter, Lorena Mae Miller, live in Columbia, South Carolina; a daughter, Norma Jean Williams, in Thornville, Ohio; and son, Eddie, lives in Elyria, Ohio. There are seven grandchildren, two great grandchildren.

If he were alive today, we know he would join us in saying, "Happy 100th, Hurricane."

Much hard work and effort by many people went into the compilation of The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV. Published in 1988, the history incorporated family and business histories and local history. All this information was enclosed in a beautiful red and gold hardback volume, the pride of anyone wise enough to have purchased it. Unfortunately, the book is now out of print, so finding a copy will be difficult, if not impossible. It is a great shame that many do not know the existence of this fine book, so the Breeze is reprinting the articles in serialized form as space allows.

A digital copy of the Centennial History can be obtained from the Hurricane City Hall for a small donation. For more information, call the City of Hurricane at (304) 562-5896.

was originally intended to reflect the danger of the disease. The map was used to determine the instruction that county school systems were required to provide until the DHHR and others determined that the discontinuing of in-person instruction was more detrimental to students than Covid-19. Today, the map does not have a use. The map is still regarded as measure severity of the virus. While a measure, it was never a measure of the danger within a county of contracting the disease. A direct measure of danger of contracting the disease is the number of active cases per one thousand population. The actual danger in Putnam, Cabell, Kanawha and West Virginia statewide per thousand on Tuesday, April 20, determine by active case numbers was Putnam - 6.4, Cabell - 3.7, Kanawha - 4.9, and West Virginia - 4.1.

From an active case determination, Putnam would seem to be an undesirable location. The active case numbers are projected to rapidly nose dive when the number of vaccinations increase. On Tuesday, April 20, the percentage of fully vaccinated citizens in Putnam was 25.4. The county is likely to remain a hot spot for the virus until the percentage fully vaccinated nears 50%. There will be unnecessary Covid deaths until that time.

Let Us Love One Another

By Velma Kitchens of Culloden

I talk with a lady every week who lives in another state and she always says we should all love one another more and all the violence needs to stop. I agree with her. She says where she lives in Georgia, she hears almost every day where someone has tried to hurt someone else, and she prays for the peace of her city.

We all know what it is like and we continue to pray for our communities where we live and our country. We all can do our part to be kind, but the answer to all the violence is Jesus. If we loved our neighbor as ourself, there would be no hurting each other. We should all love one another, but not to point of being taken advantage of.

God is love, and if we say we love God and we don't love our neighbor, we are liars, as the Word of God tells us. Let us all pray for one another and love each other more. In Jesus Christ we become new creatures and we are changed from the darkness into His light. Let us reach our loved ones with the Gospel of Jesus Christ before it is too late.

I Corinthians 13 — Entire chapter is good to read.

IN GOD'S GARDEN

If a new blossom is not protected from harm, the future of the flower is lost – but with the right tending and nourishment it blooms beautifully. Those of us who have children realize how difficult it is to protect a child from any harm. No matter how we try, at times we feel inadequate. We may become frustrated and sad as we see our perfect infant grow up and be influenced in ways we cannot control. God can help. This week, visit your chosen place of worship as a family and grow together in the garden of the Creator.

BASIC BIBLE

By Ron Allen

Anticipating Redemption

Romans 8:18-27

In the first chapter of his epistle to believers at Rome, Paul expressed his desire that they might be established in the mutual faith. Believers of today know the mutual faith includes the earnest expectation that we be part of the glory which shall be seen when Jesus rules and reigns. The mutual faith includes knowledge of the Spirit which dwells in us. All this and more is contained in the text before us.

“For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us” (v. 18). Both the suffering and the glory of which Paul speaks refers back to verse 17. The suffering is that which believers suffer with Christ. The glory which shall be revealed in us is that glory which shall be revealed when Christ returns to reign for one thousand years.

In verse 19, the apostle describes this glory to be the earnest expectation of the creature (or creation). God cursed the ground because Adam ate of the fruit of tree which God had forbidden (Gen. 3:17). All creation suffered for the curse and all creation waits for the curse to be lifted. The curse shall vanish when the sons of God will reign with Christ for one thousand years. During that time, the wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox: and the dust shall be the serpent’s meat (Isa. 65:25).

Paul states the reason that the creature (creation) possesses this earnest expectation in verse 20. When God cursed the ground for Adam’s sake, Adam had cause for hope. God told the serpent that He would place enmity between the seed of the serpent and the seed of the woman and that the seed of woman would bruise “thy” (the serpent’s) head. The serpent would bruise the heel of the seed of woman. Adam’s hope lies in God’s promise that the seed of woman would bruise the serpent’s head. The hope of all creation is found in the person of the seed of woman. The glory which shall be revealed in us will be the manifest glory of the seed of woman.

The seed of woman shall deliver all creation from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. Grace through faith has delivered us from the bondage of sin. That same grace shall make all creation free from sin’s influence. It is by grace through faith that we are saved and it is the glory of Him who died for us which shall be revealed in us.

All creation continues to groan and travail in pain almost two thousand years after Paul wrote these words because “now” is ever present. Now shall cease to be when the Lord Jesus returns. The suffering of now shall not end until Satan is bound for one thousand years. Then shall His glory be manifested.

Paul states that we know that the whole creation groans and travails in pain in verse 22. In the next verse, he adds that all who have the first fruits of the Spirit also groan within because they, like all nature, wait for Christ’s return. We wait for the redemption of our bodies. We wait for our corrupted bodies to be changed. “For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality” (I Cor. 15:53).

In verse 24, the apostle states that we are saved by hope. Once a hope is realized, it is no longer hope. We hope that Christ shall soon return. We are to hope with patience. The fruit of the Spirit which is in us is “. . . love, joy, peace, long-suffering . . .” (Gal. 5:22). The Holy Spirit within us produces the fruit of patience. Believers wait for His return. We do not entertain Satan’s lies. We know that disobeying God will not make us as gods. We know that we cannot save ourselves. We cannot end sin’s reign. Our hope is in Him who died with our sins encompassed about Him and, then, rose the third day.

The Spirit within us guides us in ways which “helpeth our infirmities” (v. 26). The Spirit makes intercession for us with groanings that cannot be uttered. The Spirit interprets a believer’s innermost feelings – feelings that words fail to express.

In verse 27, Paul reveals that “he that searcheth the hearts” knows the mind of the Spirit. Christ Jesus is He who searches the hearts and makes intercession for us. We know that all which we ask according to His will, He hears (I John 5:14). Our Lord and Savior knows the mind of the Holy Spirit who makes intercession for us.

Knowing these things, we can reckon with Paul that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. May the power of the Spirit be manifest in us.

Hurricane Native Among Students Participating in Dance Concert

Slippery Rock University's Dance Department hosted its BFA Senior Dance concert, "Against All Odds," on April 17 via a livestream on the department's YouTube channel.

Jade Daniels, dancer, a senior dual dance and exercise science major from Hurricane, was one of the performers in the production.

"Against All Odds," as the title implies, is meant to represent the perseverance - in the age of COVID - of the dancers who will be featured and the diverse ways in which they express themselves through dance, styles including modern, contemporary, hip-hop and cultural dance.

Production of the concert began last semester when participating seniors were registered for the department's BFA Capstone II: Performance, Choreography and Credit Hours Entrepreneurship course. As part the course, students were challenged to develop a research question, which would also shape the design of the dances featured during the concert.

Some of those research questions revolved around the use of architectural structures in dance and gravity defying movement, improvisation's role in the choreographic process, and how physical art, in this case dance, can influence and create visuals and in return how visuals influence dance.

"A BFA is a professional degree, so each dancer is held to rigorous standards as established by the

Katelyn Sette Inducted into Phi Kappa Phi

Katelyn Sette of Hurricane was recently initiated into The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, the nation's oldest and most selective all-discipline collegiate honor society. Sette was initiated at Mississippi State University.

Sette is among approximately 30,000 students, faculty, professional staff and alumni to be initiated into Phi Kappa Phi each year. Membership is by invitation only and requires nomination and approval by a chapter. Only the top 10 percent of seniors and 7.5 percent of juniors are eligible for membership. Graduate students in the top 10 percent of the number of candidates for graduate degrees may also qualify, as do faculty, professional staff and alumni who have achieved scholarly distinction.

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 under the leadership of undergraduate student Marcus L. Urann who had a desire to create a different kind of honor society: one that recognized excellence in all academic disciplines. Today, the Society has chapters on more than 325 campuses in the United States and the Philippines. Its mission is "To recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others."

national accrediting agency, the National Association of Schools of Dance," said Nora Ambrosio, a professor of dance and artistic director of the concert.

With COVID-19 forcing students to perform virtually, choreographers had to figure out how to transform their dances and articulate their themes through the lens of a camera.

"These virtual concerts will showcase the talent and ingenuity of our BFA senior dancers," said Ambrosio. "Because our department has always had a strong focus on dance technology, moving to all virtual performances has been pretty seamless for us; however, filming and editing does take an incredible amount of time."

To bring their performances to life, 13 student choreographers staged auditions for other student dancers to take part in the shows.

In addition to the work of the student choreographers, one featured dance was the creation of guest artist Samantha Baker, '15, an SRU alumna and New York-based professional dancer. Her piece, titled "In the Kiln," was a means for Baker to physically challenge students with a highly sophisticated dance that includes "difficult spatial patterns and moments of stillness that require deep concentration" on the part of the dancers, according to Baker.

Baker said that her ultimate goal was to "create a dance so that all of the senior BFA majors could dance with one another one last time and feel the strength and power of the group."

Slippery Rock University, founded in 1889, is a member of Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education. The University is shaped by its normal school heritage and characterized by its commitment to intellectual development, leadership and civic responsibility. SRU provides students with a comprehensive learning experience that intentionally combines academic instruction with enhanced educational and learning opportunities that will help them succeed in their lives, professional careers and be engaged citizens.

Today, SRU is a four-year, public, coeducational, comprehensive university offering a broad array of undergraduate and select graduate programs to more than 8,800 students. The University has earned full institutional accreditation through the Middle State Commission on Higher Learning and discipline specific accreditations.

Located in the rolling hills of western Pennsylvania, the 660-acre campus is less than an hour north of Pittsburgh, one hour south of Erie, and 45 minutes east of Youngstown, Ohio. Two major highways, I-79 and I-80, intersect with seven miles of the University, conveniently linking it to the entire Commonwealth and its contiguous regions.
