The Darkest Day Hurricane Parade Makes It Official — Christmas Is Here

By Ron Allen
The darkest day of 2021 will soon pass. On December 21st, the sun will stop on its southward journey, momentarily hover over the Tropic of Capricorn, and begin its march northward. Daylight hours will gradually increase, and, after a fashion, the temperatures will warm. The grass will grow and trees will put forth their greenery. All will be well. Well is an illusion.

December 21st also marks the shortening of days in the southern hemisphere. Sunlight hours will decrease. Everywhere south of the equator, the conversion of carbon dioxide to oxygen and carbon containing molecules will slow. While the process of photosynthesis will slow in the southern hemisphere, it will increase everywhere in the northern hemisphere. Seasonal changes are as old as the Earth and the Sun. Carbon dioxide removal from the atmosphere by photosynthesis, however, is not equal for the two hemispheres. Carbon dioxide removal from the atmosphere is slightly higher in the southern hemisphere because the ocean surface area is greater.

Century after century, both hemispheres have been doing their part in removing carbon dioxide from the air. Researchers have determined that the carbon dioxide level has bounced between 200 ppm (parts per million) and 280 ppm for millions of years until the present time. In 2013, the carbon dioxide level exceeded 400 ppm.

Many scientists believe the increased level can be attributed to carbon dioxide produced by the burning of fossil fuels. World fossil fuel usage is 23 times greater today than in 1900. In 1900, the atmospheric carbon dioxide level was below 300 ppm. It would seem that natural photosynthesis cannot keep pace with the new carbon dioxide introduced by fossil fuel usage. Environmentalists are concerned because in past times global carbon dioxide levels have been highest during interglacial periods and lowest during ice ages. There is good cause to believe that atmospheric carbon dioxide is the driving force that produces alternating periods of global cooling and global heating.

Photosynthesis is a chemical reaction. The rate at which photosynthesis produces oxygen speeds up during interglacial periods in which global temperatures are warmer and slows when global temperatures are cooler. In past interglacial periods, photosynthesis has removed carbon dioxide from the atmosphere at a rate faster than the rate at which CO₂ is introduced by natural processes. In the 1950's and 60's, school-age children were told that the planet was on the verge of a new ice age. The beginning of that ice age is nowhere in sight. Photosynthesis has been converting CO₂ to O₂ at an increased rate but not at a rate sufficient to offset the carbon dioxide produced by fossil fuel usage. The promised cooling is not happening. Alarmists believe that global temperatures will increase and make it impossible for Planet Earth to satisfy the future needs of its current 7 billion people.

Only time will tell if the alarmists of today are correct. Historically, mankind has always done that which is necessary to survive. Civilization is dependent upon doing that which is best for all. Fossil fuel usage has allowed civilization to flourish. World population has increased more than seven fold since the invention of the steam engine produced the need to rely upon fossil fuels.

The push by globalists to replace fossil fuels

Santa and Mrs. Claus took time off from checking the nice and naughty lists to ride in Hurricane's Christmas parade. When asked about the absence of Rudolph and the other reindeer, Santa informed the Breeze that he had given them the day off to rest up for the big journey on Christmas Eve. (Photo by Ed Conner)

The Putnam County

Farm Bureau held a holiday gathering on Monday, December 6, at the courthouse in Winfield. The main theme of the meeting was reuniting with friends and acquaintances after a long pandemic-related absence.

After refreshments were served, the Bureau called to order a brief meeting. One of the topics discussed was the 102nd West Virginia Farm Bureau annual meeting, which was held from November 14 through 16 at Oglebay Resort in Wheeling. Other topics included various bills which could negatively affect West Virginia farmers.

The Putnam County

Farm Bureau is open to anyone with an interest in farming or agriculture. The Bureau will meet again on the second Monday of January at 6:30 p.m. at the old Putnam County Courthouse.

The Centennial History of Hurricane

Meet Some of Hurricane's Oldest Families

In 1988, The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV was published to commemorate the town's 100th anniversary. Since the Centennial History is now out of print, the Breeze is reprinting articles from the book as space allows. This week's selection will be the 223rd installment of the Centennial History.

First Baptist Church of Hurricane performed "Run to the Hope," a Christmas musical, on Sunday, December 12. The church offered both an afternoon and an evening showing, which featured the musical talents of the church choir.

The cantata was directed by Beth Davenport, with Belinda Vance as orchestra rehearsal director. Mattie Clay did the narrations. Many of the featured songs included the word "hope" in them, emphasizing the hope brought about by the birth of Christ.

The Christmas cantata is a long-standing tradition at First Baptist Church.

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

My friends would be surprised to learn how early I get up in the mornings... gone are the days of sleeping late... I was so excited when I retired... no more alarm clock... well... I have learned that as we age, we need less and less sleep. So be it...

When I was a young mother, my husband made sure that I could sleep in on Saturdays and/or lie in bed reading a favorite book while he dealt with our little boy and girl... awww... the memories..

As the years passed, I would be up and about taking the kids to school... dropping off my husband at work (often we had one car)... going about my errands or going to work myself... the days of sleeping in a thing of the past... remembering the teenage years when Mother let me lie in bed and read...

My mother-in-law Burke told me that I was often wasting a good part of the day... I replied, "Well, my family can have me at six in the morning when they are sleeping, or they can enjoy MOM in the evenings when they are up." She grinned that sweet grin of hers.

When we owned Burke's Hallmark, I worked seven days a week from 8 to 7:30, plus all the household chores... sleep was a dream... Later, when I started teaching, I was often at school by 6:00 A.M. I loved it.

Now, I am in bed by midnight, and I am up by 4 or 5 in the morning... I watch the sun come up... I read a book for Netgalley, an electronic site that sends me free books... I start my daily chores early... do my correspondence... Yes, my friends and I still enjoy snail mail... By noon, I have had a full day... I teach one grandson before he goes to school (Facetime)...

I love the mornings... I just don't need to sleep... Yes, others would be surprised... this is just what life is as one grows ancient... old... older... and I am doing that...

I have some friends who are doing the same...

they can't sleep either... just don't need that many hours dozing... we are productive and active... I have been outside walking half a dozen times by mid morning... I enjoy it... last year, I walked 1900 miles doing my steps... this year, I have cut down from five miles a day to four miles a day... each step painful but necessary... such is growing old... older... ancient...

As I type this column, it is five in the morning... rain pouring down... we are having a cold front today... 70... and chilly compared to the 90's... we are used to hot... I like this morning... I like the rain... also, my dear daughter is asleep in the other room... this is her sixth visit or more to see me... she comes monthly... love it...

We will venture out in the rainy weather to a favorite used bookstore... to a favorite restaurant... eating outside of course... not ready to go in places... we will read... play with the boys... and do our thing... mother daughter... friends...

Up early and out... walking... reading... getting on with my day... I love this time of day...

am I sorry I missed it for so many years? No... I loved the times when the little ones brought me breakfast in bed... peeking around the door to see if mommy was awake... I enjoyed the times when I taught school, and I was the first on my floor getting ready for students... often a custodian would let me in or one of the cooks... I also enjoyed sleeping late on vacations... resting... but now things are different... in this winter of my life, I do not need those hours of sleep and rest... there will be plenty of time for that as Robert Frost said, "I have places to go before I sleep..." "I have things to do before I sleep..." (Paraphrased) because the way we were is the way we are... always changing... prayers to all my readers... we are making it through 2021... just as we did 2020... mask, isolate, distance, vaccinate... please... let's end this pandemic...

WVSU Extension Service to Discuss Wild Birds

West Virginia State University (WVSU) Extension Service's monthly AgTalk Tuesday series continues Tuesday, December 14, at 6 p.m. ET with a live discussion of wild birds in West Virginia.

WVSU Extension Service will be joined by Katie Fallon, executive director and co-founder of the Avian Conservation Center of Appalachia (ACCA). Fallon will discuss what to do if you find an injured wild bird, as well as some typical injuries and causes. She will also provide an overview of the ACCA and ways to help wild birds in general.

The free Ag Talk Tuesday series began last year and takes place the second Tuesday of each month via Zoom. Participants register to join the live event and can submit questions ahead of time through the WVSU Extension Service Facebook and Twitter platforms or via email.

To participate in the Zoom sessions, register at wvstateu.edu/ANR.

While live questions will be answered during each session, participants are also encouraged to submit questions, as well as ideas for future topics, ahead of time to anr@wvstateu.edu.

The ACCA is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization dedicated to conserving the region's wild birds through research, education and rehabilitation. Each year it admits more than 500 injured wild birds and gives environmental education programs featuring 13 non-releasable raptors. Learn more about the organization at https://www.accawv.org lived with her parents, Sheradan and Janie Racer Thacker (both deceased) on Crooked Creek, Scott Depot.

Ernest went to school in Hurricane, graduating from Hurricane High School in 1961. He was married April 24, 1963, to Ruth Ann Sowards, the third child of George and Frances Phelps Sowards, former owners and operators of Sowards Dry Cleaners. They were located on Main Street at the site of what is now Hurricane Floral until a structural fire forced them to move to Second Street.

Ernest went to work for the City of Hurricane in August, 1965, after being laid off from Union Carbide's Institute plane. He worked for Hurricane as an assistant under John Chapman until Mr. Chapman's retirement.

Ernest is the father to two children: Paula and Matthew. Paula is married to Jeff Lewis and resides in Henderson, Tennessee. Matthew is a student at Marshall University and lives at home.

Ernest has two sisters: Sue and Pat. Sue is married to Billy C. Stowers and Pat is the widow of Johnny Stevens. All are still living on the home place just off Route 60 on Stricklin Road.

A digital copy of the Centennial History can be obtained from the Hurricane City Hall for a small donation. For more information, call the City of Hurricane at (304) 562-5896.

The Darkest Day

with renewable energy sources may be a case of doing what is best for all. The forced transition to renewable energy by edict is, however, contrary to the manner of past transitions. No one switched from the horse and buggy to fossil fuel consuming automobiles because they thought it was best for all. The switch to new technology was spurred by that which was best for individuals.

Great division of people exists today because some believe what is best for individuals is best for all while others believe that what is best for all should dictate individual choice. Hypocrisy reigns supreme as advocates of renewable energy jet from one continent to another.

A major stumbling block to doing that which is best is the disagreement of what is best. Some would argue that discontinuance of fossil fuel usage is not a solution because the carbon dioxide levels resulting from 200 hundred years of fossil fuel use cannot be undone by natural photosynthesis in the span of several human lifetimes. A solution must produce a measurable outcome.

Seventeenth century alarmist Thomas Malthus believed that the quality of human life would collapse because the Earth's finite resources could not supply the needs of an ever increasing population. Malthus was wrong. Mankind discovered technologies which allowed limited resources to supply increased human needs. Fossil fuel usage was instrumental in providing a solution an unsolvable problem.

The solution to elevated greenhouse gas concentrations may or may not be their removal from the atmosphere by photosynthesis. New technologies will emerge. Alternatives to removal by photosynthesis may be discovered. Technologies capable circumventing elevated temperature constraints may be available. The future, while unknown, is as certain as the darkest day.

December 21 is a day without any sunlight in northern polar regions. Year round inhabitants of these northern reaches do not see the sun but they are confident that it shall return. We, too, know that tomorrow the sun will shine.

BASIC BIBLE

By Ron Allen

A Mission from Birth

Luke 2:25-35; John 12:23-26

We are introduced to Simeon in the opening verse before us. He is described as just and devout. The Greek word which is translated as "just" is dikaios. Dikaios appears 81 times in the New Testament. On 41 occasions, including Romans 3:10, it is translated as "righteous." Romans 3:10 declares "There is none righteous, no, not one."

Simeon is described as just because his belief, like Abraham's belief, was counted to him for righteousness. What did Simeon believe? Simeon believed that which is written in the scriptures. Simeon believed that God save would Israel. Simeon waited for the consolation of Israel.

Hebrews 11:6 states that God is a rewarder of those who believe that He is and diligently seek Him. The Holy Spirit revealed to Simeon that he would not die before he had seen the Christ. God rewarded Simeon. "Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart" (Psalm 37:4). Simeon delighted in the Lord and the Lord gave him the desires of his heart.

Simeon came by the Spirit into the temple. The Lord is not constrained by time. The Lord chose the time that Simeon should look upon the Christ. Many would behold the Christ thirty years after He was revealed to Simeon. The Lord chose to reveal Jesus to Simeon at this time — the time at which Joseph and Mary presented the infant Jesus to the Lord. Joseph and Mary offered the sacrifice required by the law of Moses (see Lev. 12:2-8).

The scripture before us does not state the reason why the Lord chose this time. That said, what follows in verses 28-32 would not have transpired had the Lord chosen a different time to reveal the Christ to Simeon. The words of Simeon are preserved as scripture for God's purposes. Let us listen to the words that the Lord would have us to hear.

Simeon said, "For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, Which thou hast prepared before the face of all the people; A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel" (v. 30-32). Simeon, speaking to Joseph and Mary, described the baby Jesus as the salvation which the Lord HAS prepared.

Simeon saw that which the Holy Spirit revealed to him. He saw the salvation which the Lord God had prepared for all people. In the baby that he took in his arms and lifted up, he saw a light to the Gentiles and the glory to "thy people Israel." That which Simeon saw was future. Simeon saw two different things. The baby that he beheld became a light to the Gentiles. The New Testament church testifies of that light. The light to the Gentiles has been burning from the first century A.D. until now and is the light which guides the walk of all who believe.

Simeon also saw the glory of God's chosen people Israel. The baby that Simeon held in his arms has yet to become the glory of Israel. The Lord Jesus will not be seen as the glory of Israel until the appointed time. That time has been revealed to New Testament believers. We know that Jesus shall reign from the throne of David in Jerusalem after the seven year tribulation set forth to John in the Book of Revelation. We know that Jesus shall not be seen as the glory of Israel until the time of the Gentiles is fulfilled (see Luke 21).

Simeon is not the first to declare that the promised Messiah would be a light to the Gentiles. The prophet Isaiah declared that "mine elect" would bring justice to the Gentiles (Isa. 42:1) and be a light to the Gentiles (Isa. 42:6, 49:6). Simeon saw the salvation which the Lord God has given for all people. Simeon saw "my righteous servant" who would bear "the sin of many" and make intercession for the transgressors" (Isa. 53:11-12).

The fullness of that which was revealed to Simeon is seen in the closing verses before us. "Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against" (v. 35). The child would be a sign — the stone which the builders refused (Ps. 118:22; Lk. 20:17-18). The fullness of that which was revealed to Simeon is made known to believers by the Comforter who teaches us all things (Jn. 14:26). New and Old Testament scriptures alike declare that Jesus is the One of whom the prophets spoke.

Jesus came into the world such that men might have victory over death. Believers read John 12:23-26 and hear the words of Him who died that we might live. Jesus is the kernel of wheat which died such that much fruit should come forth. He said, "If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honor" (v. 26). Let us do as He has said.

Macholah Ballet to Present "The Nativity"

The Macholah Ballet is thrilled to celebrate their 9th year of performing The Nativity Ballet!

The Nativity Ballet is the holy and glorious story of the birth of our Savior told through classical ballet. This performance is an hour long and suitable for the whole family. Tasteful costumes, uplifting music, inspiring choreography, and a team of ministry-minded dancers; it's a show you'll want to make a part of your family's holiday tradition!

The Nativity Ballet is performed by the company's high school aged, pre-professional level dancers. It features the main characters of the Biblical Nativity story including Mary, Joseph, the Angel Gabriel, Mary's cousin Elizabeth, Shepherds, Wisemen and more!

The Nativity Ballet has been toured throughout the state of West Virginia and now seeks to remain local as our gift to the community. Because we desire to bless our community and share the gospel through ballet, there is no admission fee.
