

SINCE 1900 THE BEST FAMILY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER FOR ALL OF PUTNAM COUNTY AND THE WHOLE WORLD

SINGLE COPY 60¢

Filing for offices of County Commission, Circuit Clerk, County Clerk, Board of Education, and Conservation District Supervisor commenced on Monday, January 10th at the Putnam County Courthouse and will continue until Saturday, January 29th. In the Tuesday May 10 Primary Election, registered voters will select the Republican and Democratic candidates which will run for office in the November General Election. Voters will also elect three members to the non-partisan Board of Education and a non-partisan Conservation District Supervisor to four-year terms.

First day filers for County Commission were Ronald Foster of Winfield and Todd Dillon of Scott Depot, both Republicans. The only other day-one political office filer was Michael Thompson (R) of Poca who is running for Circuit Clerk. A candidate's official announcement requires the payment of a filing fee, $413 for County Commission and $620 for Circuit Clerk and County Clerk.

Joseph Reynolds of

Hometown, Stephanie Smith of Winfield, and Donald Underwood of Hurricane have all filed pre-candidacy papers and are expected to announce their candidacies for Circuit Clerk as Republicans. Current Circuit Clerk J.J. Mullins is not seeking re-election.

At least one additional candidate is expected to file for County Commission as a Republican. Former Sheriff Steve Dewese, a Buffalo (Cross Creek Road) resident, filed precandidacy papers on November 16. All candidates for County Commission must reside in Magisterial District 1. The statewide redistricting for the House of Delegates made it necessary to redraw magisterial lines. The new lines place both the Buffalo and Winfield areas in District 1.

Incumbent Brian Wood (R) will be seeking re-election as County Clerk.

The new magisterial district lines have placed three current Board of Education members (Wade Neal, Calvin Damron and Bruce Knell) in District 2. No more than two members can represent the same district. Knell of Poca

Hurricane High School's two show choirs, Red Hot and Heat Wave, held their annual dinner theater last weekend, January 7th through 9th. During the dinner theater portion of the show, students performed solos in the school gymnasium, while other students served the guests their meals. Rudi Arrowood, owner of Putnam Princess Parties LLC, served as this year's master of ceremonies. Door prize drawings were held throughout the event.

Heat Wave, Hurricane High's all-girl show choir, debuted their competition performance first. The show had the theme of "Shoes," and featured songs about shoes and shopping. Some of the song lyrics were altered to fit the show's theme; George Harrison's "I Got My Mind Set On You" became "I Got My Mind Set On Shoes." The show had a lighthearted, exuberant mood, with many shoe-related puns.

The Red Hot Show Choir's competition show had the theme of "Spies and Secrets." Performers dressed up as secret agents, with boys in tuxedos and girls in fancy red cocktail dresses with half of a red trench coat to symbolize the spy theme. They danced to themes from the James Bond film "Skyfall," the Mission Impossible theme, and other exciting songs. The grand finale featured the song "Four Minutes to Save the World" by Madonna, Timbaland, and Justin Timberlake. As the song played, a countdown timer on a screen above the stage ticked off the seconds. When the dancers finished their performance, the words "Mission Completed" showed over the screen.

This weekend, Red Hot and Heat Wave will be traveling to Beavercreek, Ohio, for a competition. The show choirs will return again to Putnam County for the Red Hot Championship held at Hurricane High School on Friday 4 through 5, and then travel to Winfield High School on February 19 for the Emerald Classic Competition.

The Red Hot Show Choir was founded in 1992 under the direction of Kristin Ball, and

The Centennial History of Hurricane

In 1988, The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV was published to commemorate the town's 100th anniversary. Since the Centennial History is now out of print, the Breeze is reprinting articles from the book as space allows. This week's selection will be the 226th installment of the Centennial History.

About 1895 Arthur Nathaniel Sumner came to the Hurricane area from Christiansburg, Virginia. His family settled on Trace Creek, where he met and married Lula Estelle Rupe April 5, 1898. They established a home and farmed until 1913, when they moved to Hurricane.

Three sons and two daughters were born of that union. The boys- Clive (1899- 1901), Ronald Earl (1900-1976),

Winter Issue of GOLDENSEAL Now Available

The winter 2021 issue of GOLDENSEAL magazine is now available. Since 1975, GOLDENSEAL has been West Virginia’s Magazine of Traditional Life. Attached is a list of retailers where G O L D E N S E A L magazine is available.

This issue is dedicated to the 50th anniversary of the Buffalo Creek Disaster, Logan County, which occurred on February 26, 1972, killing 125 people. It was the deadliest flood in West Virginia history, but it was not a flood in the natural sense. It was caused by the collapse of improperly built coal impoundments on the Middle Fork of Buffalo Creek, which unleashed a torrent of black slurry that obliterated virtually everything downstream. In all, some 1,000 people were injured, and 80% of the residents of the narrow hollow were left homeless.

Authors Andréa Fekete, Christine M. Kreiser, Randy Yohe, Aaron Parsons, Brad Crum, Lisa Shrewsberry, Carl E. Feather, Travis D. Stimeling, and Jessica Lilly—as well as photojournalist Chuck Wyrstock—examine the tragedy from different angles, including the causes of the disaster and how survivors pieced their lives back together. Other articles discuss the memories of those who survived, the disaster’s “miracle baby” Kerry Albright, the use of the Buffalo Creek Therapy Quilt as a coping mechanism, ongoing efforts to honor the victims, books and songs about Buffalo Creek, Mimi Pickering’s classic

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

I was working some puzzles the other day from the 50’s and 60’s... Yes... I do all I can to keep this brain active. I have so many hobbies that I almost have to schedule them. Not to mention that in 2020, I walked 1,900 miles, step by step... and that was after my eldest grandchild gifted me with a Fitbit in March... before that, I counted on my phone, so let’s face it... I probably did more. Much with a cane, but thanks to the advice of Dr. SMITH (WV), this year, my miles... over 1,500... mostly without the cane... thank you, Dr. Stephen Smith, always... I digress...

The 50’s and 60’s... the time that I and my friends grew up...

documentary “Buffalo Creek: An Act of Man,” and Buffalo Creek today.

Additional articles in this issue look at the new online West Virginia Folklife Collection, new books about West Virginia, and tributes to folks we’ve lost recently, including Bernard Cyrus, Bill Gillespie, Jeanne Mozier, Barbara A. Smith, Charlie Cooper and Charly “Jupiter” Hamilton.

GOLDENSEAL is published quarterly by the West Virginia Department of Arts, Culture & History. You can order subscriptions from GOLDENSEAL’s online store or individual copies by calling 304-558-0220, ext. 134. Issues are $5.95/issue + $1.00 shipping, or you can order subscriptions for one year ($20), two years ($36), or three years ($50). GOLDENSEAL subscriptions also make great gifts, especially for friends and family who may no longer live in the Mountain State. <https://wvculture.org/discover/publications/goldenseal/>

Have You Seen This Cat?

Normy lived in Rosewood Place in Hurricane with her caretaker, Eddie King. She was trapped by a resident of the subdivision and dropped in an unknown location. There is a considerable REWARD for her return or the location where he dropped her.

Normy is a longhair gray and white female cat with a black back and tail. She is around six years old.

If you have seen this cat, call Eddie M. King at 304-543-3529 and leave a message. Mr. King lives at 501 Rosewood Place, Hurricane, WV 25526.

what has amazed me often is that there were happenings that we (or I) never new about... the NEW AGE... Drugs... Free Life and Love... where was I when all of this was happening? Well... the answer is simple... I was in that small town, Hurricane, where life was free indeed and simple... safe... wonderful... oh my... what a way to grow up...

Yes...my columns can be repetitive... Yes... I understand that I love the past... however, the readers do not have to continue if they are not interested...

When I see what my grandchildren are doing... the world in which we live now... not to mention the Pandemic... I wish for them simplicity... Thankfully, my children are attempting to live that way... raising their families in a way that they appreciate what they have... and work for what they want.

One of the things that influenced me more than others was that I attended a small school where we knew pretty much everyone in our class, the class above us, and the class below us. We attended daily, never in fear, unless we worried about getting that disgusting sawdust on our shoes or slipping on a wet floor... the other day, I was reading online, and I realized that HHS had been locked down due to a possible incident... my... what would we have done? I can just see us huddled in Mrs. Boggess’ room, around that little stove, sitting on the cold floor, wondering what was going on. Never... perhaps we would go to our old metal lockers, try to open them, and get out belongings before going home. I can assure my readers that we would NOT have been phoning our parents to come and get us... we would have walked or waited on the buses. No cell phones... most likely no family cars at home while the fathers were at work... how did we manage I often wonder?

We were independent. When we left in the morning, our families were assured we would be safe in school. We didn’t need to text or call them during the day. We just were concerned about our classes... no distractions...no multitasking... just being... in class... sitting at our desks... doing our work... our families were going about their business... not keeping track of our every movement.

I realize that there is a place for cell phones. I have one... I use it for calling and texting regularly... however, I do not maintain that kids need to be checked on 24/7... some trust and faith has to come into this life... and checking like that can’t make for independent young people... Just a thought...

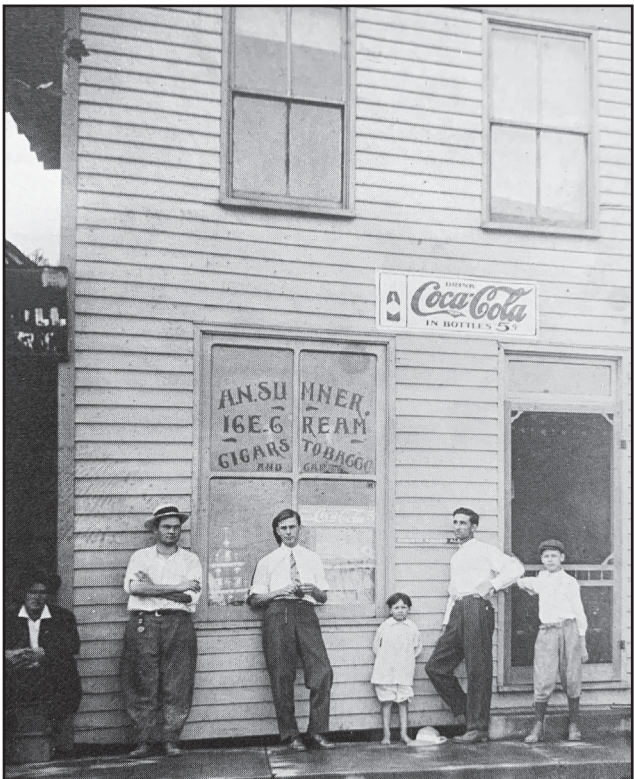

When we were growing up, we walked where we wanted to go... I do remember, Mike using his family’s car to take us on dates... we included Betty and Marshall often... or Dorothy and David... other friends... groups went together... However, when Marshall started dating Betty, Mike started sharing the vehicle... we stayed at the Burke’s and played Canasta or at Mother’s and played Rook. Marshall and Betty did the same at her parents or the Burke’s... what fun...

Where do kids go today for fun? We had a bowling alley... skating rink... drive in movies... drive in restaurants... football games... parties... always something to do and somewhere to go... safe... we left the house; we returned at a decent time; we did not call or text our families while we were gone... it was not necessary... today is it?

Often, I wish for that gentle, trusting time... I wish my grandchildren could know what it was like to grow up in that time period... to know what it was like to go all day at school (my grand girls are home schooled) and know we would be safe... I can just see Mr. Burns brandishing a Bunsen Burner to protect us, or Mrs. Chapman hiding us in the choir room... brave souls to take us on... Mrs. Coyner would give us a history lesson on what happened before and could be happening now... I wish for the students at my alma mater, HHS, to know what it was like to go across the street for lunch at The Redskin or down the street to The Papoose... to know what it was like to decorate that smelly, old gym for prom night... to make a million flowers from tissue paper... I wish for those students at HHS to know what it was like to sit in a class with no cell phones... no distractions... just listening to the teachers or to the wind blowing in the cracks around the windows and doors (well, maybe not the latter...)

Those days are gone; they are never coming back, and truly, we would not wish them back... we love life today because the way we were will always be the way we are... adjusting to life today... not as innocent... not as safe... but our lives are what they are... I have lived a life of love... prayers for those with Covid... prayers for those who are not vaccinated to get VACCINATED please... I have always said... protect yourself and your loved ones...

and Clay (1906-1985) are deceased. The daughters, Merdith F. and Lillian M. Sumner Roach still reside in Hurricane.

Ronald married Kathleen Garrett and they were the parents of one child, Vera Jeanetta Sumner Hash (Mrs. Bruce B.) of Florida. Ronald worked as an agent for the C&O Railroad for several years, and later managed the A.N. Sumner Furniture Store. He was Mayor of Hurricane for two terms. Lillian married Charles Robert Roach and taught school in Putnam County for 40 years. Merdith and Clay remained single, and became co-owners of Sumner’s Department Store in 1955.

A.N. Sumner (1877-1960) worked for several people in Hurricane, including Noah Allen. He got his start in the merchandising field under Mr. Allen, and in 1917 started his first business on Main Street. This was an “ice cream parlor” in a building beside the Conner Hotel, located between the present-day Ward’s TV and Peabody’s.

Here the family sold ice cream and sundries. In a year the Sumners moved to a larger building where the Putnam County Bank stands. In a few years they started a general merchandise store on the first floor of the IOOF building. In 1922 Mr. Sumner built a brick structure on Main Street beside the Hurricane Breeze building. Thus began Sumner’s Department Store, an establishment for general merchandise, with the slogan, “Sells Everything.”

This was a family business for 52 years, until Merdith and Clay retired in 1974. They sold the building in 1975, and it burned in March, 1979. The store had a reputation for miles around and won many honors, including an award from the Friedman-Shelby Shoe Company.

In 1949, Mr. Sumner built a new structure on Second Street which housed the A.N. Sumner Furniture Company. This store was managed by Ronald Sumner and Bruce Hash until the building was leased and later burned in 1969.

Mr. Sumner was a civic-minded person who was Mayor of Hurricane for two terms. He had a great interest in education, serving on the Board of Education for several years, first on the Curry District Board and later on the Putnam County Board, being president of both. He was a charter member of the local Lions Club, and a member of the IOOF Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner joined the First Baptist Church in 1914, and were devout Christians and faithful church members through the years. Mr. Sumner served as deacon and Sunday School superintendent, and in the latter role, conducted the first meeting in the new church building on November 9, 1924. He was a large contributor to the building program for the new edifice, completed in 1924. Mrs. Sumner (1880-1971) served as Sunday School teacher and deaconess for several years.

A digital copy of the Centennial History can be obtained from the Hurricane City Hall for a small donation. For more information, call the City of Hurricane at (304) 562-5896.

Winter

Velma Kitchens of Culloden

My grandmother lived out Route 34 as I have mentioned in the past, but this week’s snow has me thinking of the cold, cold winters we used to have. The snow would be piled up for weeks and I don’t remember very many snow days... She did not have running water, and when we helped draw water from the well, we had to prime the pump, that is, putting a little water down the pump so the water would come up from the well. I loved to pump the water and carry the water bucket in the house. The well was out the back door and not many feet away, so it wasn’t a bad trip in the winter if you had your snow boots on, or as we called them, your rubber boots. Grandma had a pair that were men’s that buckled up. She would put them on and away she would go, but she didn’t forget one important thing—you must cover your head in the winter or you will get a cold or ear ache. She had a head scarf and used it all the time in the winter. I still to this day do not go outside in the cold without something on my head. I don’t wear scarfs, but I do wear a toboggan, and don’t forget the gloves. Most of us endure winter, but we should thank the Lord that we are here to see another winter and see the snow. Some states don’t have the changing of the Seasons, but I love West Virginia. I look forward to the springtime when everything comes back to life. To see the leaves on the trees the beautiful flowers the grass and all the beauty around us is a blessing. I wouldn’t want to live anywhere else unless it would be part time, well, I could be a snow bird or not. The winter will eventually go away and we will move on as we do, year by year, season by season. We need to be content in whatsoever state we are in. How is your Bible reading going?

Butter Pecan Waffles
Yield: about 6 waffles (4 inches each)

Browned Butter:
2 tablespoons unsalted butter
1/2 cup chopped pecans

1 cup Pearl Milling Company Original Pancake & Waffle Mix
3/4 cup milk, plus additional if necessary, divided
1 egg
Pearl Milling Company Syrup, for topping
toasted pecans, for topping (optional)

To make browned butter: In small skillet over low heat, place butter. Increase heat to medium-low, stirring butter with heat-proof spatula. Cook and stir until butter reaches desired brown color. Remove from heat and stir in pecans. Place pancake mix in large bowl. Add 3/4 cup milk, egg and browned butter. Stir until large clumps of batter disappear. If batter seems too thick, add additional milk 1 tablespoon at a time to reach desired thickness. Let batter stand 4-5 minutes before cooking. Pour batter into lightly greased waffle iron. Bake until steam stops or as directed by waffle iron instructions. Top with syrup and toasted pecans, if desired.

LEADERS AND FOLLOWERS

Many of us define our role in life at an early age; some of us scramble to be leaders...the rest are content to watch from the sidelines. Leaders take us where we need to go, but we need followers to complete the scene, even in the spiritual sense. Followers show God’s goodness in their lives by example. In this way they, too, become leaders of their peers. We read in Luke 22:26, “...the greatest among you should be like the youngest, and the one who rules like the one who serves.” Though the minister, priest, or rabbi leads us in worship, there would be no service without a body of followers. Join the crowd at your house of worship this and every week!

Peace and Trouble

John 16:19-33

The gospel according to John, unlike the gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke, includes a record of the words Jesus spoke to His disciples as they walked from the upper room at the last supper to the garden of Gethsemane where He would be betrayed. In the words before us, Jesus revealed to the disciples the emotions which they would shortly experience. In verse 33, the Lord explained why He had told them these things. He said, “I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace.” The Holy Spirit moved John to record Jesus’ words such that all who believe might also have peace in troubling times.

In verse 19, Jesus revealed to His disciples that He knew their very thoughts. He knew that they were totally puzzled by that which He said in verse 17. Jesus said, “A little while, and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while, and ye shall see me.” Jesus had previously told them that which was about to transpire — that He would be betrayed, that He would go to the Father, and that He would send the Comforter to them. The words of verse 17 are different; they tell of that which the disciples were about to experience. Jesus knew the anguish which they should soon experience.

Jesus knew the turmoil of the near future and the joy which would follow. Jesus used proverbs to tell them these things (v. 25). Their sorrow would turn to joy in the manner in which the pain of childbirth is followed by overwhelming joy of precious new life. Jesus explained that they would experience joy which no man could take from them when they would see Him again (v. 22).

In verses 23 and 24, Jesus makes it known that the joy which they would experience shall not be full until after “Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name.” They would experience the joy of childbirth upon beholding Him but the fullness of their joy awaited their asking the Father in His name and receiving that which they asked.

The promise of receiving that which is asked in Jesus’ name (v. 23) cannot be separated from that which Jesus spoke in chapter 15, verse 7. Asking in Jesus’ name requires that one abide in Jesus. Words mouthed “in Jesus’ name” are not magically fulfilled. Fulfillment requires all that is asked to be an expression of the Son; it is the will of the Father.

John 1:12 states, “But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.” The Son gives power to be as He is to all who abide in Him.

The linkage between asking in His name and enjoying a special relationship with the Father is found in verses 26 and 27. The future time in which Jesus will no longer speak in proverbs (the time in which the disciple realize the fullness of their joy) is a time in which intercession is not necessary because the Father loves them as they have loved the Son believing that Jesus came out from God. The disciples, in asking in Jesus’ name, shall enjoy a relationship of love. That relationship of love would not be realized until Jesus had left this world to be with the Father (v. 28).

The disciples thought they understood. They said, “Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb” (v. 29). The disciples most certainly understood that Jesus knew all things and believed that He came forth from God but the time at which Jesus should plainly show them the Father had not come (see v. 25).

Jesus did not plainly reveal the love of the Father to them until He gave Himself upon the cross of Calvary. The love of the Father is revealed by the actions of the Son. Jesus, indeed, spoke plainly but the disciples would not fully understand until He should arise victorious from the grave and stand before them. One cannot know the Father except He be revealed by the Son.

Jesus knew that their joy to come must wait until they would see Him after “a little while” and that their joy would not be made full until they should know the Father who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that they not perish but have everlasting life. Jesus asked, “do ye now believe?” The disciples would not truly believe until they beheld Jesus after “a little while.” They would not truly believe until all that Jesus said should happened came to pass. They would scatter, leaving Jesus alone to die upon the cross.

Jesus said they would leave Him but that He would not be alone “because the Father is with me” (v. 32). God the Father and God the Son are one. Jesus alone died a physical life upon the cross. The suffering the only begotten endured, the Father knew.

Jesus spoke these things such that we might have peace. We plainly hear that which Jesus spoke if we have peace. All who know that He has overcome the world, all who know that He has done that which we cannot do, have peace and joy unspeakable. May all hear and find peace.
