There is nothing that says spring like cheerful decorations featuring flowers and bunnies. On Friday, March 18, the So-Kai Clubhouse hosted an Easter craft workshop in the Putnam County

Commons at Valley Park, allowing participants to choose from a variety of colorful spring crafts. Projects included bunny wreaths, round mirrors, flower and egg centerpieces, and bunny and cross plaques. The workshop was led by Alisha Dumrongkietiman, the founder of So-Kai. "I always have too many options to choose from," she says. "It gives people variety."

While So-Kai Clubhouse offers weekly children's craft classes and playdates. There are

Putnam Registers Covid-Free Day

By Ron Allen

Saturday, March 19, was a day of note for Putnam County. It was the first day since July of 2020 in which there were zero new cases of Covid-19 reported in the county.

Both active and new case numbers have been dropping since January.

Active case numbers hit a seasonal high on January 23 with 902 reported by the DHHR. The active case number stood at 12 on Tuesday, March 22.

The Covid infection total (including re-infections) since the onset of the disease was 18,575 cases on Tuesday, March 22. Of that number,

State Covid Czar Dr. Clay Marsh stated on Tuesday, March 22, that West Virginia was not necessarily out of the woods on Covid. Marsh said that a resurgence cannot be ruled out. Marsh reported that a variant of the Omicron variant is causing numbers to increase in the United Kingdom.

Poca Captures Third State Basketball Championship

Isaac McKneely scores from close range against Magnolia.

By Ron Allen

The Dots did it again! Poca brought the State Class AA Basketball Championship trophy home for the third time on Saturday, March 19. Poca plowed through Magnolia, 43-19, in the quarterfinals and crushed Ravenswood, 60-32, in the semifinals on Friday before outplaying Bluefield, 65-48, in Saturday's finale.

Last year, Poca fell to Williamstown, 50-47, in the State Championship game. The agony of that defeat was largely erased by the thrill of Saturday's victory.

The Dots were led in scoring by West Virginia Player of the Year Isaac McKneely's 22 points but it was team defense which brought the title home. The Dots did not allow a single fast-break point.

Poca had previously won Class AA basketball titles in 1997 and 2015.

Veterans and Heroes to Agriculture Grant Program

The West Virginia Department of Agriculture (WVDA) has announced Request for Applications for FY22 Veterans and Heroes to Agriculture Grant Program (VHAGP). Grant recipients have one year to plan, implement and gather data on their respective projects. The total grant funding available is $24,000. Applications are due April 1, 2022.

"As we continue to see the age of the farmer rise, we need to identify the next generation of those who will grow our food. Active or retired veterans and emergency response personnel are the perfect group to target as they often seek hands-on careers," said Commissioner of Agriculture Kent Leonhardt. "We hope to provide some support to those organizations who seek to help these groups through agriculture."

The purpose of the VHAGP is to provide funding to organizations around the state who work directly with or provide support to law enforcement, fire fighters, emergency medical service, first responders, veterans, active-duty military and/or their spouses and family within an agricultural capacity. The grant program provides an opportunity for organizations to develop and enhance programs and activities targeted at our veterans and heroes entering or currently working in agriculture to benefit their health and welfare, as well as the state's agricultural economy. The program also seeks to further promote the development of agricultural industries, products, and marketing opportunities across the

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

After Mother was buried, and my life dissolved... I managed the doctors' office in Charleston, having rented a tiny apartment in Hurricane. Not only did Mother die, my husband and I divorced after being together 30 years... everyone knew we were not thinking straight.

We know that God watches over us...every day...every hour...that is the only reason I am writing this...He took care of my family when I could not...

Weekends I spent at the roller rink in the valley... thanks to the Hodges... After church on Sundays, I often ate a meal at the home of Linda's mom... I was suffering PTSD... hardly getting through. My sweet daughter helped me as much as she could... my son also...

One of my favorite GSC professors, Dr. Craig Etchison, wrote me... Mike brought me the letter... Dr. E. told me he had gotten me financial aid at GSC... I was astonished. I hocked a couple of items, packed my daughter's old car, and moved into that horrible first place I lived at Glenville, keeping the little apartment in Hurricane... eating three days a week, no telephone, few clothes... I kept the Hurricane place so daughter could visit every other weekend from Indiana University... son in Texas at college and law school.

The first place at GSC was so bad, I finally moved into an old house, sharing with two other women. I had one room... $75.00 per month. I couldn't

Available Pets at the Putnam Animal Shelter

These are a few of the many pets up for adoption at the Putnam County Animal Shelter. By the time that this issue of the Hurricane Breeze is published, these animals may have already been adopted and found their forever homes. However, there are many pets at the shelter that still need homes.

Meet Laken (Id #46758), a six-month-old hound mix who is looking for a forever home.

Meet Leila (Id #46708), a two-year-old Boston terrier mix. She doesn't do well with men. She is looking for a forever home.

wait to get to my valley apartment on weekends. I remember water running onto the floor in that house... anytime we used the kitchen sink... I am not sure the door locked... I used a sheet as a curtain... Dr. E. and his wife loaned me an electric blanket... it was so far from what I was used to when married... having it all... to having little... financially.

I was fulfilling my dream finally... I took more hours than one should... I was determined to graduate as quickly as I could. I had gone part time for the Associate Degree, counting some hours I had from WVSC in 1965. I needed three years... I did it in two... plus I worked in the English Department at GSC, and I continued to go to our Burke's Hallmark as much as I could in Summersville... WV Strong...

Those years are almost a dream... some of them nightmarish... it was difficult for me to accept that Mother was gone. So young... I kept dwelling on that... also, I had no way to help my kids, but we had helped them somewhat... they pretty much did the college thing on their own... after our lives dissolved as we knew them... I am so proud of those two... Nathan graduated from Texas Christian University... he was almost a senior when Mother died. Kathy was a junior at Indiana University... both graduated... despite the turmoil they were going through, losing their beloved Grandma... and experiencing the divorce of their parents... totally surprised.

There were times at GSC that I didn't think I could make it through a class... I walked hours at night... around town until a police officer told me it was too late to be walking... I continued to walk... but at the football field. The exercise helped me think... helped me get through the pain... we lost so much in the first year... more than I can ever write about.

The college administrators gave me permission to move into faculty housing where I would be more comfortable. The rent was somewhat more, so I had to let the little apartment in Hurricane go. That meant that when Kathy and I traveled to see one another, we had much longer to drive. However, we did it... I missed going to that home on weekends, skating... seeing Linda, Phyllis, and their mom... they helped me cope.

I knew that I could not continue with little money, so I talked the college into letting me take more and more hours... in May of 1994, I received my degree... English/Language Arts and Psychology... in debt, owning not one piece of furniture... an old car falling apart... wondering what I would do next... my children were making it the best way they could. (All of my money working in Burke's Hallmark went to help the kids in college... and the first two years they received free tuition as valedictorians in a WV school... then they moved out of state where they always wanted to go.) They did graduate with a few loans... Nathan put himself through law school... never asking for anything. The three of us graduated college within a year of each other...

Never realizing how tough life would be after losing Mother and going through the divorce, I was a basket case. I never dreamed what the future held... I knew I had a degree... my kids had theirs... we would get through whatever we had to... I remember going to Ohio to speak to the church there on a church anniversary (Mike and I and other friends started the church.) and I told those in the sanctuary... don't think that something bad won't happen to you because you sit in this church on these pews that we and our friends sacrificed to purchase... it can... but don't worry... God will watch over you... take care of you... be there for you as He has been for our family... was not mouthing platitudes... I was speaking the truth as I experienced it. I digress.

After graduating, I spent the summer looking for a job... at a job fair in the south, I was offered several. West Virginia did not have job openings for teachers at that time, and I realized I would have to go out of state. My first job as a teacher, after 40 years of dreaming... was at Ronald E. McNair Jr. High in Lake City, SC... 7th grade.

In July, I packed all my belongings in that small little Chevy Nova... headed for Florence where I rented an apartment. I had a bedroom suite loaned to me by my daughter and a few other pieces of furniture that were given to me. It was a lovely apartment, and my drive to school was quick. However, it was not an easy job for a brand new teacher, and I thought, at times, I would never make it. Also, I was so far from my children...

While Nathan was in law school, our family spent time in the summers and at Christmas with him... we were not a family unit anymore, but we did not care... we wanted to be together when we could... we did... it helped us all get through a difficult time.

As I write this journey part two, I realize that I can never find the words to explain what the Burke family experienced... what we endured... how we endured... we had always been such a great, fun loving group... and all of a sudden... it was like being in a boat in the ocean with no oars... only God and each other... we made it... I was a teacher... my daughter was teaching... my son was in law school... Mike hired several women to replace me in the store... we coped... because the way we were is the way we are... I repeat WV Strong... we come from good stock... Mother prepared me for any future I might have... knowing her daughter better than anyone could. If my readers are still reading... my message is to have faith... to stay close to God... He will be there always... no matter how bad it gets... let me tell you, it was bad for us at times... we make light of that... we speak of it on the surface... but this little girl who grew up on Virginia Avenue in Hurricane, who has seen the world... and most of this country... survived... and keeps going on... I am blessed with my family and friends still...

homes to take orders for or deliver Watkins Products. Vanilla Extract was a great sales item. She carried these products in a basket or box and walked several miles through Hurricane or Culloden, resting a little as she stopped to talk to people. She was usually dressed in dark clothing, a squashed type of hat, and carried an umbrella for sun or rain.

Julia was named for her Grandmother Julianne "Kitty" Morris Thompson, who was a twin of Cassandra "Cassie" Morris Dudding. The Morris twins were beauties in their day and lived through the Civil War with their large families in the Hurricane vicinity. Cassandra was the wife of John Booker Dudding and mother of Dr. George W. Dudding for whom Dudding Avenue is named. Julianne was the wife of Robert N. B. Thompson. Two of their sons were well known in West Virginia. They were Judge William T. Thompson of the Cabell County Court and Dr. John Morris Thompson of Kanawha County.

Julia was a devout Christian, never missing Sunday services at the Baptist Church as long as she could walk the two miles to get there and two miles back home. Before Route 60 was paved, she went by horse and buggy, but with pavement, she preferred walking as horses were shy of automobiles. She appeared to love walking the very brisk type of walk seen today.

Horse Stories

By Brenda McClanahan of Poca

When I was little, daddy let me sit on the horse while he plowed the garden, later to the spring to drink without a harness. That was my only way I ever rode a horse period. But on my 26th birthday, my husband surprised me with a horse. He wanted me to get on, I did, and he did not give me the reins.

The horse took off at a full gallop. He ran up to the road and turned right. If there had been a car, we would have hit it. I laid down and got the reins, but he did not slow down. I was screaming whoa.

The first driveway he went into and stopped. God did it! I climbed down and my knees were knocking together, and I was shaking all over.

I started leading the horse home, then my husband, his brother and my niece came, expecting to see me laying in the road.

Each time I think of that day I want to choke my husband and not let go!

I will be 79 in April.

PERSONAL BEST

What is your "personal best"? The answer is different for everyone. A champion's personal best as a cyclist is certainly better than that of the biking enthusiast who only gets out on weekends. However, both are glorifying God by using the gifts they have been given. The effort required to do our personal best prepares us for handling anything in life; God can help us, too, He can be our inspiration. When we give Him our best as we worship each week, He returns it to us with added strength and peace. Won't you give God your all this week as you worship Him?!

BASIC BIBLE

Members of Christ

I Corinthians 6:12-20

In the text before us Paul addresses the need for personal discipline of members within the church. Paul states, "All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient" (v. 12a). While the use of the pronoun, me, is specific to Paul, every believer is "me" in the sense that we are all washed in the blood of the Lamb and are justified in Him and have the Holy Spirit of God in us (see v. 11). While all things may be lawful, not all things are expedient.

Paul, in writing to the church at Corinth, is speaking to all Christians of every era. His words are for all who have been saved or who ever will be saved from the judgment that awaits unbelievers. Christ has made us free of the law and its consequences. Not all things, however, are in keeping with the purpose for which we were made free of the law. Paul vows that he will not let freedom from the law to have power over him. We, like Paul, must face and deal with non-expedient choices.

It is apparent that there were many in the church at Corinth who were doing the very thing that Paul shunned — non-expedient things. What is a non-expedient thing? For Paul, it was indulgences which could have power over him.

In verse 13, Paul addresses a specific indulgence that troubled the church at Corinth: fornication. Fornication refers to any kind of sexual misconduct or sexual impurity outside of the bounds of marriage. In the text before us, fornication is the translation of the Greek word porneia.

There were some within the church who regarded fornication as meats for the belly and the belly for meats. Tasty foods are provided by God and God has given us an appetite for tasty food. Both food and our appetite for food are temporary; they are destroyed when life is taken from the body. The relationship between fornication and the body, however, is not the same as the relationship between food and appetite. The body of the believer is a duplex. It is both the house of our old self which was under the law and the house of the Holy Spirit which is of God. It is not expedient to reside in both sides of this duplex. It is expedient that believers should reside in the half that is forever.

The dead body of the believer shall be transformed. We have the promise that we shall be raised up by the power of God in the same manner that God raised up Christ, our Lord. The problem in the church at Corinth was simple: they did not regard their physical bodies in the same manner as does God. The Holy Spirit of God moved Paul to ask: "Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ?" God views our bodies as members of Christ. God views us as joined to Christ. In God's eyes we are joined to Him who knew not sin. We are the bride of Christ. We are joined as one flesh (see Gen. 2:24).

In verse 15, Paul uses the pronoun, I, in asking if he shall make the members of Christ into the members of a harlot. There is only one individual member of Christ (Paul, himself) that Paul could possibly join with one flesh to a harlot. The apostle recoils from the very thought: "God forbid." In verse 12, Paul stated that all things were lawful to him. Paul (and all who are joined in the body of Christ) are made free of the law. The law does not apply to fornication because we are not governed by the law. We are not governed; we are bound as one to Him who is without sin. We are not independent of Christ. All who are saved are joined to the Lord in one Spirit (v. 17). The Holy Spirit cannot be divided. Paul could not divide the Spirit that bound him to Christ and we cannot divide the one Spirit that joins us to Him. Every sin is a sin which is outside of the body (outside of Christ). Fornication, while outside the body, is a sin which joins that which is pure to that which is not pure. It is a sin against one's own body.

Paul implores the Corinthians (and us) to flee fornication for this reason. Fornication is a sin against that which God shall raise up. It is a sin against the temple of the Holy Ghost. It is a sin against the temple that houses the Holy Spirit which is given of God. It is a sin which is against that was purchased with a price. It is a sin which is against that which was purchased by God's love. It is a sin against that which was purchased upon the cross of Calvary. It is a sin which joins in one flesh that which was purchased by God to that which is impure.

We, like the Corinthians, need be mindful of the fullness of the price of our purchase. We, like the Corinthians, were purchased for a price. We are not our own. We are called to glorify God in body and in spirit. We are called to glorify God with that which He has purchased and that which He has given. In his epistle to the Romans, Paul was moved to write: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service" (Rom. 12:1).

Let us do what is expedient. Let us do our reasonable service.

Dad's 98th Birthday

By Linda Armstead

On Friday, March 25, 2022, my dad, Delmar "Vernie" "Pete" Fisher would be celebrating his 98th birthday. This makes 11 heavenly birthdays for him but the first one with my mom, Eva Young Fisher, by his side. Things have really changed in my life since I don't have my parents. My family was already small but now it has sadly almost diminished. Nothing or no one can take the place of those missing in my life.

If dad was still in Hurricane, I would bake and decorate him a cake.

Hurricane Native In 'Dancing with the SRU Stars'

Just like on the reality television show "Dancing with the Stars," where celebrities learn to dance and compete with one another while partnered with a professional dancer, there's a similar event at Slippery Rock University. The dancers are students, and the "celebrities" are, well, at least well-known professors to those taking their classes.

"Dancing with the SRU Stars," which was held on March 23, is an annual fundraising event hosted by the National Honors Society for Dance Arts' SRU chapter.

"This is a really great community-building event where our professors and our students interact with one another," said Rachel Male, a senior dance major from Columbia, who is the president of NHSDA at SRU. "It's also special to have one of our dance majors awarded a scholarship to support their educational endeavors."

Five professors have been paired with SRU dance majors to perform choreographed routines for a panel of judges, and, of course, to the delight of spectators. The duos have been rehearsing their routines once or twice a week since November. The judges are SRU dance faculty and former "Dancing with the SRU Stars" contestants.

Jeremy Lynch, associate professor of special education, was paired with Jade Daniels, a senior dual dance and exercise science major from Hurricane.

Slippery Rock University is a four-year, public, coeducational, comprehensive university in western Pennsylvania which offers a broad array of undergraduate and select graduate programs to more than 8,800 students.

George and I, along with Brad, Julie, Kelci and Braeden, would join him and Mom with desserts as Dad dearly loved sweets. Dad was blessed to be able to eat anything he wanted without it causing any health issues.

Somehow, I never thought I would have to go through many years without my dad. He was a dad who couldn't be beaten in any way. He loved to come and visit us. He loved his family dearly. When I talked to him on the telephone, I could "hear" a smile in his voice. He loved gardening and he certainly had a green thumb.

Spring has arrived and Dad would be sitting under the carport with his empty, plowed garden that George had plowed, waiting on it to be disced so he could start planting a few things in a couple weeks. He kept his garden weedless. Anyone who saw it knew Dad kept it well maintained. He harvested lots, and he shared with his family, friends and neighbors with what he and Mom didn't can or freeze.

I've been told that 5&20 church was never the same after he didn't get to attend. I'm sure it was true because my dad was a "fireball" in the church with his testimonies and amens, being a deacon for over 40 years, he preached a few sermons, Sunday School Superintendent for several years and he taught Sunday School even when I was a teenager and in later years. That was when I learned the most from the Bible from his teachings.

Dad was the kind of father anyone would have loved to have had. I didn't have to share him with anyone else. He was mine! The Best Dad any son or daughter could have had! Dad and I got along great! We were very close. I visited my parents almost every day. I have no regrets for that. If you have parents you need to visit them, make time for them and show your love for them as they show their love for you. One day our parents will not be in their home and all there will be is an empty house with their chairs setting there empty. Sad.

Dad's loving parents were George McKinley "Ken" and Lola Sovine Fisher. His siblings were Freda Gibson, Velma Sowards and Ivan Hope Fisher all of Hurricane.

I want to wish my Dad a Happy 98th Birthday - I wish I could spend it with you! Each birthday brings me closer to being with you. The closest I can get to you is to spend time in the cemetery.
