Amendment 2 Promises More Jobs

By Ron Allen

The turnout for the November General Election is projected to be low. Reason — There is not a single statewide political contest. The only contests of national interest are the two seats in the U. S. House of Representatives. Despite the lack of interest, approximately 20 to 25% of West Virginia's registered voters will vote and each vote will count. When the votes are counted, West Virginia's Congressional seats are expected to remain in Republican hands. Current projections have the GOP winning the U. S. House of Representatives nationally and possibly the Senate. Some look for the greatest Republican victory since 1920.

In 1920, West Virginia was represented by no fewer than six congressmen. All six republican candidates were elected. In 1922, the tables turned with voters electing four democrats and two republicans. West Virginia's representation in the House of Representatives remained at six seats until 1962 when it dropped to five seats. Representation fell to four seats in 1972, and then to three seats in 1992, and to just two seats this year.

There are reasons (mostly employment opportunities) that a state's population decreases or increases. West Virginia has not kept pace with surrounding states because better employment opportunities exist elsewhere. Other states have done a better job of making do with their resources than has West Virginia.

West Virginia's political clout was three times greater in 1920 (six representatives) than it is today. While both republicans and democrats promise more jobs, neither party has produced. Perhaps republicans deserve a pass since they were the minority party until 2014. While republicans and democrats, not actual jobs, are on the ballot, both parties receive a pass.

On November 8, voters will not receive a pass on job policy. Amendment 2 is all about jobs. If Amendment 2 is approved, personal property taxes on vehicles and property tax on business properties will disappear. If approved, all businesses in West Virginia will be on the same footing as businesses in other states. Amendment 2 eliminates the business franchise tax; the business personal property tax on equipment, machinery, vehicles, and inventory. Passage will promote job growth and foster a business environment which will make West

Hurricane Pumpkin Carving Event Does Not Disappoint

By Betsy Allen

Last Sunday, October 23, was a great day for doing some pumpkin carving at the City of Hurricane's annual pumpkin carving event. Pumpkin artists of all ages flocked to the city park, where they commenced carving at various stations around the grounds. Five hundred pumpkins were given away at the event to allow participants to express their creativity. The City provided carving kits, but more experienced carvers could bring their own as well.

Hurricane's pumpkin carving day featured several new activities this year. There was an inflatable axe toss, and a sand art booth where children could create colorful bottles filled with sand. Putnam County-based band Southridge performed throughout the day. T-shirts advertising the Hurricane Harvest Festival, which was cancelled this year due to rain, were free for the public to take. There was also free apple cider and snacks.

At the end of the day, pumpkins entered into the carving contest were judged. There were four categories based upon age group, as well as a Mayor's Choice category.

Winners of the pumpkin carving contest were as follows:

Ages 0 – 5: First Place – Isaac; Second Place – Leia Hull; Third Place – Hero

Ages 6 – 10: First Place – Christopher Sexton; Second Place – Anson; Third Place – Sawyer

Ages 11 – 16: First Place – Evan Tayler; Second Place – Cooper Ryan; Third Place – Jenna King

Ages 17 and Up: First Place – Betsy Anderson; Second Place – Laura Jarrell; Third Place – Missy Ryan

A Legal Advertisement That Should Have Been Printed 20 Years Ago

By Ron Allen

On Page 8 of this week's Breeze, readers will find a legal advertisement that should have been printed twenty or more years ago. The West Virginia Division of Highways is advertising that it has applied for a West Virginia National Water Pollution Control Permit. The advertisement is required because construction of the I-64 Culloden Interchange is about to begin.

The West Virginia Department of Highways purchased the necessary land for the Culloden Interchange more than 60 years ago. When plans for the construction of I-64 were unveiled in the late 1950's, there was no provision for a Hurricane exit. The only I-64 interchange serving Teays Valley would be Exit 9 (the current Exit 39). The first eight I-64 exits were all in Cabell County with Culloden designated as Exit 8.

Hurricane businesses and Putnam politicians protested. Public meetings followed and the Culloden interchange was canceled. Hurricane Creek Road became Exit 8. All I-64 exits were renamed in the late 70's to that of the closest mile marker.

Increased traffic proved to be too great for the Hurricane exit. Access to and from State Route 34 required widening of State Route 19 to 5-lanes in the 1990's. Construction of a continuous right turn lane on to 34 and Lynn Street is ongoing and is slated for completion before spring.

While the new lane will help relieve Hurricane's rush hour woes, the Culloden interchange will prove to be a lasting answer.

The Centennial History of Hurricane

Meet Some of Hurricane's Oldest Families

In 1988, The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV was published to commemorate the town's 100th anniversary. In 1994, the Centennial Committee published a follow up book which included family histories which were not submitted in time for the 1988 Centennial History. This week's selection is the 17th history from The Centennial History of Hurricane WV Continued — 1994.

Rev. T. M. Harbour, one of Hurricane's aged and beloved citizens died at his home here Friday Night. He was 81 years old and had lived in this community most of his life. Mr. Harbour had been a minister of the gospel in the Methodist church for many years and was very devoted to his religious work. He was a soldier in the Confederate Army during the Civil War and was one of only a few civil war veterans still living in this community.

In-person Early Voting Period Runs Through November 5

In-person early voting throughout West Virginia started Wednesday, October 26th, according to WV Secretary of State Mac Warner. Early voting will be available to eligible voters for ten days.

All 55 counties offer early voting for those eligible voters wanting to cast a ballot in person prior to Election Day. A registered voter can vote early at any early voting location in their county.

According to Secretary Warner, early voting runs from October 26th through Saturday, November 5th. The county courthouse or its annex in each county serves as an early voting location. Many of the state's counties also offer additional community voting locations. A complete list of community voting locations can be found at GoVoteWV.com, viewed on the Interactive Map for Voting Precincts and Districts at GoVoteWV.com, or by calling the local county clerk's office.

During weekdays, early voting will take place at the same time that the county's courthouse is open. On Saturdays, early voting locations will be open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.

Warner encourages voters to check their registration status at GoVoteWV.com and contact their county clerk with any questions before they go to vote. In addition, he encourages citizens to be educated voters before they cast a ballot. Sample Ballots for the November 8th General Election can be found at GoVoteWV.com.

The General Election ballot also includes four constitutional amendments for voters to consider. A summary and full text of each amendment can also be found at GoVoteWV.com. "The General Election is upon us, and thousands of registered West Virginia voters will vote early," Warner said. "We ask citizens to be mindful of our election laws and to report any irregularities that they may see or experience."

Citizens are also asked to report any possible irregularities or election fraud directly to the WV Secretary of State's Office or their County Clerk. Citizens can call 877-FRAUD-WV to make a report. They can also participate in the WVSOS "See Something, TEXT Something!" initiative. This allows a citizen to take a photo of a potential violation and text it directly to our investigations unit. To use the text-to-report technology, text "WV" to 45995.

Mister Bee Potato Chips Unveils New Bag Promoting New River Gorge Region

The New River Gorge region, national park and preserve, and southern West Virginia are being featured on a new five-ounce chip bag that was unveiled on Bridge Day - Saturday, October 15 - by West Virginia's only potato chip manufacturer Mister Bee Potato Chips based in Parkersburg.

Leaders from Mister Bee, New River Gorge Regional Development Authority, West Virginia Hive, New River Gorge Convention and Visitors Bureau, and guests unveiled the new chip bag design at the Mister Bee/WV Hive tent on the southern end of the bridge.

Mary Anne Ketelsen, president of Mister Bee, said the new chip bags will be available soon in local retail outlets throughout southern West Virginia and the Mountain State. She said 876 one-ounce bags of Mister Bee chips (representing the height of the bridge in feet above the scenic New River) were handed out free at Bridge Day. Asher Agency in Charleston (with offices in Fort Wayne and Indianapolis, Ind., and Washington, D.C.) designed the new chip bags.

Jina Belcher, executive director of the New River Gorge Regional Development Authority (NRGRDA), and Judy Moore, deputy director of NRGRDA and executive director of the West Virginia Hive, created the idea of the partnership with Mister Bee and the new chip bag.

"Thousands of visitors from across the nation and the Mountain State are visiting the New River Gorge National Park and Preserve and taking in the sites and experiences in southern West Virginia," said Belcher. "NRGRDA, the West Virginia Hive, and New River Gorge Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) cannot act rapidly enough to respond to the tourism, outdoor recreation, community development, and business growth. Judy and I were made aware of Mister Bee's interest in reaching more customers in our region, so we proposed a new chip bag that would celebrate the state's only potato chip company as well as the new national park and emergence of the New River Gorge region."

Ketelsen said the idea resonated and the company is indebted to NRGRDA, West Virginia Hive, CVB, and Bridge Day planners for this opportunity. "The power of collaboration and dreaming and executing of big ideas are key reasons Mister Bee Potato Chips continues to grow so rapidly," she said.

Mister Bee Potato Chips was started in 1951 and is one of the most popular snacks in the Mountain State. It was voted "Best West Virginia-Made Food Product" in 2021 by the readers of West Virginia Living magazine. The woman-owned, small business has

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

Autumn in West Virginia... holidays are coming... I miss my mountain drives to see the leaves changing. I live in paradise. I still miss the leaves. The ocean, every time I leave the condo, is beautiful... my "go to" place... has been all of my life. That being said, I miss West Virginia... I miss the leaves... Autumn... beautiful time in the mountains... a place I enjoy visiting just did not love living there.

The holidays... Thanksgiving and Christmas. Holidays are different in Florida. They are more laid back. We don't stress, and we do not overwork. We take it slowly. We enjoy. We relax. The decorations are lovely but minimal. The food is the same. No huge meals anymore. No working all day to eat an hour or less. Just being with each other is more than enough. Birthdays are the same. A quick meal outside at a restaurant on the beach. A vegan delicious cake from a local bakery... gifts... time to be together. I love it. This is the time of my life when I want to take it easy.

Thanksgiving. Not sure what we will do. Last year, my son was visiting his dad, so his wife, the boys, and I had our meal at a vegan diner at the pier in St. Pete. We watched the kids play; we walked; we had the best day ever. This year, my son will be here, so we will do something special outside.

Christmas last year was fantastic. My daughter and one grand came in December, and we ate at a local delicious Mexican restaurant, outside. We had gifts. A nice time. Christmas Eve was at my condo. My son and family came with gifts; the boys opened the gifts from Nana as did my son and his wife. We had snacks from the vegan bakery, of course. Such a great been fully modernized and has expanded its market research and grown from 20 to 80 employees in the past two years.

"This success story is a prime example of how the entrepreneurial ecosystem we have built in southern West Virginia can add value to long-standing businesses as well as new start-ups and early-stage businesses seeking to grow or pivot," said Moore.

About Mister Bee Potato Chips: Mister Bee Potato Chip Company was founded in 1951 by Leo and Sara Klein and had its first offices on Mary Street in Parkersburg, West Virginia. At that time, the chips would be made in the morning and then Mr. Klein would distribute the fresh product in the afternoon. In November 1962, the company was moved to West Virginia Avenue, where the chips are still made today. Leo Klein operated the business until 1979, when he passed away at the age of 73. The company remained with the Klein family until incurring financial difficulties in 2010. Mister Bee now operates as West Virginia Potato Chip Company and was purchased in 2015 by new owners Mary Anne (Welch) Ketelsen, Douglas Ketelsen, James Richard Barton, Gregory Barton and Gregory Reed, along with Mary Maxine Welch participating in financing.

time. Christmas Day, I drove to their house, one half mile... watched the opening of gifts... little excited boys... I came home and rested awhile... later in the day, we had a minimal meal made by my loving daughter-in-law... delicious... yummmmm... simple, quick... easy... fun... memorable...

I love the holidays here. I love living in paradise where everything seems to be slower, easier.

I must add that I enjoyed my Christmases in Indiana, while living there. The Taylors and I attended service on Christmas Eve before going home for a snack/ maybe pizza. We opened gifts for each other. Special time. On Christmas Day, we had another small, minimal meal with some favorites... home to rest. Just a great holiday time... no working all day. Those days are gone... Thank you...

The boys enjoy the holidays. The women enjoy the holidays...no all day or days cooking...the men enjoy the holidays... fun and family...

Holidays are coming. I have already shopped for some friends and will ship those gifts to Ohio and WV... had fun shopping for my dear friends. I have shopped for some items for the birthdays of one grandson and my daughter-in-law... bought the Hallmark ornaments... some gifts for family. I will write checks; I will buy gift cards; my son will help me shop for the boys... it is all easy... I don't have to go in a million stores; I don't have to risk Covid germs... and I don't have to become exhausted...

Simplify... minimal... easy... fun... enjoy the holidays and the true meaning... don't work so hard that the meaning is lost... something to be finished and over... instead a time for just enjoyment and family.

I do remember the Christmases we spent going to our parents. First to Mother's for a huge meal with great gifts and fun... then to the Burkes... great food and gifts and fellowship... we don't remember what we ate; we don't really remember the presents; we remember the loved ones we enjoyed being with who are now gone... the time... the memories... that is what I want for my children, their spouses, and the grands. Not that Nana/Mom worked all day to entertain... that we played games; we talked; we loved each other... because the way we were is often the way we are... doing too much... expecting too much... when we should just be together... make it easier on everyone... I love the holidays... my little tree will be decorated... my twenty boxes of decorations have become two... that is a great way to simplify... easy up and easy down... not that much time yet minimal and gorgeous. I wish for the holidays that Covid will leave us... that we don't have to be so careful anymore... that all of my readers enjoy their time with family and friends...

I have to add here that one of my grandsons told me that he wished on my birthday that I would live to be 100... that is my wish also... it was so cute and memorable when he told me...

Amendment 2 has been described as controversial. The job benefit of the amendment is not controversial. No one is against jobs. West Virginia's present business tax policy is controversial in that it hurts job producers.

2022 West Virginia Governor's Cup Marching Band Series Finals to Conclude at Marching Band Invitational

The 2nd annual West Virginia Governor's Cup Marching Band Series Finals, sponsored by the West Virginia Department of Arts, Culture and History (WVDACH), will conclude during the 2022 West Virginia Marching Band Invitational (WVMBI) Championship on Saturday, Oct. 29, 2022, at Laidley Field, University of Charleston Stadium in Charleston.

The series consisted of 12 local marching band competitions across the state, plus the WVMBI Championship. Bands collected points by competing in at least four of the local competitions, along with the West Virginia Marching Band Invitational Championship and Governor's Cup Series final on Oct. 29 to be eligible to win the overall Governor's Cup and more prize money. Forty-three bands competed in the series and are eligible to win prizes. The Governor's Cup final will award $3,250 to the grand champion; $2,000 to the 1st runner-up; $1,000 to the 2nd runner-up; $750 to the 3rd runner-up; and $500 to the 4th runner-up.

The 2022 Governor's Cup Series helps promote the department's educational Save The Music Foundation program, which provides free musical instruments to middle schools throughout West Virginia and allows the department to distribute prize money to high school bands.

"The WVDACH looks forward to the WVMBI each year and we are very excited about the second year of the Governor's Cup Series. Our hope is to continue awarding funds to help with success in promoting marching bands across the Mountain State," said WVDACH Curator Randall Reid-Smith. "We also are proud to continue our partnership with the Save The Music Foundation to provide instruments to middle schools across the state, which subsequently keeps students' involved in music and helps build band programs at the high school level."

For each Governor's Cup event, the grand champion received 5 points; 1st runner-up received 4 point; 2nd runner-up received 3 points; 3rd runner-up received 2 points; the 4th runner-up received 1 point; and 1 point for each class champion - A, B, C and D. Jerry Lee and the Chevy

By Velma Kitchens of Culloden

I realize I have written before about Jerry Lee Lewis, but I ran across another story about him that I thought was so funny and just like him, for so I read. Jerry Lee had a show to do in Jackson, Mississippi, at the request of one of his friends. I don't remember the name of his friend. Jerry Lee had his own plane and his friend made arrangement to have him picked up at the airport. When Jerry Lee got off his plane and headed to the car, he took one look at the car and said, "Jerry Lee don't ride in no Chevy."

The driver thought he was kidding—he wasn't. The friend had to call the funeral home in Jackson for a limo to come get Jerry Lee and take him to the place of his show that night. When I read that, I thought, isn't that just like him? So I read.

Jerry Lee is still living and he lives in Nesbit, Mississippi. He is 87 years old. He has a house you can tour—for a fee, and sometimes Jerry Lee has been known to make an appearance while the folks are touring. It is not the house he currently lives in.

As I wrote before, I sent a request for an autographed photo and someone - I'm sure not Jerry Lee - said I would have to pay one hundred dollars for a signed autograph. Well, I wrote back and said, Jerry Lee, you don't need my one hundred dollars. Within a week, I got a reprint, not original, picture. Well, I don't think the letter ever got to Jerry Lee.

I'm not making Jerry Lee something he isn't, but he sure can play that piano. I guess he is just who he is, and I have enjoyed most of his music. Some friends of his had a birthday party for him and the friend said Jerry Lee had a good time but he didn't realize it until the next day. Well, as we age we do forget. And by the way what is wrong with a Chevy? I just might write and ask him.

Master the Art of Italian Comfort Cuisine

(Family Features) Cool, crisp days call for comfort foods, like the classic flavors of traditional Italian cooking. Whether you're Italian by heritage or simply by heart, learning the art of Italian cuisine may be easier than you may think.

Perfect your pasta game. Limp, mushy, overcooked pasta can ruin an otherwise delicious Italian dish. Aim for al dente pasta, which is soft but still firm. It's important to note variables like the type of pasta, size of your pot and amount of water can all affect cooking time. Treat the package instructions as a guide and start taste testing 1-2 minutes before you expect it to be done.

Be choosy about your ingredients. Many of the best Italian dishes are incredibly simple, so it's important to select quality ingredients that allow the flavors to really stand out. Made in Italy, Bertolli d'Italia sauces are available in premium red and white varieties to elevate the at-home culinary experience and bring the authentic and delicious flavors of Italy to your table. Every jar reflects more than 150 years of authentic Italian culinary tradition using high-quality ingredients like tomatoes vine-ripened under the Italian sun, finely aged Italian cheeses, fresh cream and Mediterranean olive oil.

Give seasonings time to simmer. Great things come to those who wait. That's why the best Italian chefs sample their sauces along the way, adding and adjusting until the taste is just right. Then, they allow the ingredients to simmer together to create a perfectly balanced harmony of flavors.

Experiment with proteins and veggies. For many Italian recipes, you can create an entirely new dish by adding or swapping the protein and adding fresh produce. Try introducing juicy strips of grilled chicken and fresh, steamed broccoli to an alfredo pasta like this Cavatelli with Cacio e Pepe Sauce. Or, if you're a seafood lover, reimagine this Fresh Tomato Bruschetta Chicken by swapping in a mild white fish like halibut, cod or snapper.

Get cozy in your kitchen this fall with more comforting recipes at Bertolli.com.

Cavatelli with Cacio e Pepe Sauce

Prep time: 5 minutes
Cook time: 10 minutes
Servings: 4

1 box dry Cavatelli pasta
1 jar (16.9 ounces) Bertolli d'Italia Cacio e Pepe Sauce

freshly ground black pepper, to taste

Bring large pot of cold water to boil. Salt water heavily.
Cook dry pasta according to package instructions until al dente. Strain pasta, reserving pasta water.

In large saucepan over low heat, warm pasta sauce 3-5 minutes. Add 1-2 tablespoons pasta water.

Transfer cooked pasta to saucepan.
Stir and toss pasta approximately 30 seconds over medium heat to integrate it with sauce. Add pasta water as needed for creamier texture.

Plate pasta and top with finely grated Pecorino Romano and freshly ground black pepper, to taste.

The following events happened on these dates in West Virginia history. To read more, go to e-WV: The West Virginia Encyclopedia at www.wvencyclopedia.org.

Oct. 27, 1879: Howard B. Lee was born in Wirt County. He was elected state attorney general in 1924, and served for eight challenging years. His term saw the impeachment of a state auditor, the lawlessness of Prohibition, and labor troubles in the coalfields. Oct. 28, 1972: Brad Paisley was born in Glen Dale. In 2010, Paisley received the Entertainer of the Year award from the Country Music Association.

Oct. 29, 1861: Confederate troops pulled out of Charleston, never to return. At the beginning of the war, Charleston was a Virginia town with much sentiment for the Southern cause, but the ease of river access to Ohio and the difficulty of traveling overland to Old Virginia doomed Confederate attempts to secure the Kanawha Valley. Oct. 29-30, 2012: Following Hurricane Sandy, heavy, wet snow fell across West Virginia.

With accumulations approaching 40 inches, it surpassed all previous known October snowstorms.

Oct. 30, 1825: Randolph McCoy was born in Logan County. In 1878, McCoy accused a cousin of Anderson "Devil Anse" Hatfield of stealing a hog. It was the first episode of the Hatfield-McCoy Feud.

Oct. 31, 1877: Herman Guy Kump was born in Capon Springs, Hampshire County. He was the 19th governor of West Virginia, serving from 1933 to 1937.

Oct. 31, 1940: Gale Catlett, West Virginia University basketball player and coach, was born in Hedgesville. Catlett coached WVU to 13 20-win seasons before he retired in 2002.

Nov. 1, 1688: Morgan Morgan was born in Wales. Morgan is traditionally considered the first white settler of West Virginia. He settled in the Bunker Hill area in 1731, building a log house that still remains.

Nov. 1, 1848: Israel Charles White was born in Monongalia County. White was West Virginia's first state geologist, appointed in 1897 and serving until his death in 1927, working without pay for all but two of those years.

Nov. 2, 1859: John Brown was tried for murder, treason, and insurrection in the Jefferson County courthouse at Charles Town. Brown's raid on Harpers Ferry galvanized the nation, further alienating North and South and drastically reducing any possible middle ground for compromise.

Nov. 2, 1952: Tri-State Airport in Wayne County was dedicated, with the first official landing made at 11 a.m. by Piedmont Airlines.

Nov. 2, 1996: Baseball player Toni Stone died. Born in Bluefield, she joined the Negro Major League in 1953, becoming the first woman to play professional baseball.

BACK TO OLD TIMES

As winter approaches and the evenings grow longer, we may feel drawn to the "old times" when families settled in early for the night, gathering for a meal and a fireside chat. These are busier times, with all our activities we may not have time for the togetherness we long for. Bring your family together at your house of worship this week to honor God and share His Word. Just like old times.

Obedience in Feasts

Leviticus 23:33-43

The last of the seven feasts which the Lord instructed Moses to proclaim was the feast of tabernacles, also known as the feast of booths. This feast was to be observed in remembrance of the time in which Israel dwelled in temporary shelters (v. 43). This would be the forty years between the exodus of the children of Israel from Egypt and their crossing over Jordan into the promised land under the leadership of Joshua (Josh. 3:16, 17). Observance of this feast, like the feast of first fruits and the feast of weeks, would not take place in Moses' lifetime. In addition to serving as a remembrance to Israel's wandering in the wilderness for forty years, the feast was to be a celebration of the fall harvest (v. 39).

The nation of Israel was required to keep the seven feasts listed in Leviticus 23. New Testament believers are not under the law and do not keep these feasts. That is not to suggest that these seven feasts do not hold special meaning for New Testament Christians. The Holy Spirit moved the Apostle Paul to declare Christ to be our passover lamb (I Cor. 5:7) and Christ to be the first fruits of them who shall rise from the dead (I Cor. 15:20). New Testament saints most certainly will witness the keeping of the feast of booths in a future day. The prophet Zechariah proclaimed: "And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which come against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles" (Zech. 14:16). Zechariah is speaking of Christ's yet future reign. New Testament saints shall be part of the Lord's administration during His one thousand year reign upon the throne of David in Jerusalem.

Because the seventh and final feast marks the completion of the last harvest of the year, it marks the beginning of a period of rest for the land. Rest, coupled with remembrance of years of wandering, is a picture of that which shall be realized when the Lord rules upon the throne of David in Jerusalem. Israel shall be at rest in the land which God promised Abraham.

If the feast of booths were to be reinstated in the present day nation of Israel, the remembrance would not be for the forty years of wandering in the wilderness alone. It would also be in remembrance of the many, many years (almost two thousand) in which the sons of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were separated from their home and found temporary shelter in foreign lands.

Because both the keeping of the first feast and the keeping of the last feast are pictures of future events (one fulfilled and one to be fulfilled) that are found in scripture, some New Testament believers look upon all the feasts of Leviticus 23 and see a larger picture of prophecy. Each feast involves the Lord Jesus Christ.

The prophecy of the first three feasts was fulfilled in the space of three days. Jesus is the passover lamb who was sacrificed such that men might enjoy a new and pure relationship (unleavened) with God. The certainty of man's new relationship with God was confirmed when Christ arose upon the third day to be the first fruits of them who shall rise from the dead.

The fourth feast, the feast of weeks, marks the falling of the Holy Spirit upon believers — an event which was dependent upon Christ's presence with the Father (see Jn. 15:26). The coming of the Comforter (the Holy Spirit) marked the beginning of the church (Acts 2:2-4). The church age shall end with the coming of the fifth feast, the feast of trumpets. When the trumpet sounds, the church will be taken up to be with Christ (I Cor. 15:52). The feast of trumpets is set by the beginning of the seventh month (seven signifying completion).

Following the removal of the church, Israel shall experience great tribulation that shall not end until the sixth feast. On the day of atonement Christ shall pour "the spirit of grace and supplications" upon Israel and Israel shall "look upon me whom they have pierced" (Zech 12:10).

As previously noted, the seventh and final feast coincides with the Lord's reign from the throne of David in Jerusalem.

God moved Moses to record the seven feasts of the Lord in the manner that He did such that both Old and New Testament believers might be His testimony. The Lord shall return after He has finished preparing places for all who believe upon Him. New Testament believers are not called to sit and wait for the trumpet to sound. The harvest is not quite gathered. We are to declare His love until the end.

That at a regular meeting of the County Commission of the County of Putnam, State of West Virginia, held on the 30th day of August, 2022, The County Commission of Putnam County being of the opinion that the maximum levies for current expenses authorized by Article 8, Chapter 11, of the Code of West Virginia, as amended, will not provide sufficient funds for the payment of current expenses of Putnam County including expenditures for the purpose or purposes hereinafter set forth, and that an election should be held to increase such levies under the provisions of Section 16, Article 8, Chapter 11 of the Code, as amended, it is hereby ordered:

- 1. That the purposes and amounts for which additional funds are needed are as follows: a. Putnam County Emergency Medical Service = $1,200,486.80 b. Putnam County Fire/Rescue Service = $1,800,730.20 2. The additional levy rate being requested is $0.03 cents per $100.00 of assessed valuation for Class I following W.Va. Code §11-8-16 for the remaining classes. Class I $0.03 Class III $0.12 Class II $0.06 Class IV $0.12 3. That the annual amount intended to be generated for collection as calculated for said purpose is to be approximately $3,001,217.00, allowing for delinquencies and discounts. 4. Total assessed valuations for tax purposes in Putnam County as certified by the Assessor: Class I $ 0.00 Class II $1,927,648,812.00 Class III $1,558,462,462.00 Class IV $ 222,687,562.00 5. That after passage of the special excess levy, that in the event the separate and aggregate assessed value of each class of taxable property within the County increases during the term of the special excess levy, the special excess levy rate will be adjusted so that the projected tax collection will not exceed $3,500,000.00 6. Upon the passage and beginning of revenue collections of the levy, the Putnam County Fire Service Fee will be suspended and not collected for such a period of time that the levy is in effect and providing revenue. If the levy would fail at any time, the Putnam County Fire Service Fee will be reinstated at the current rates to begin at the time the levy revenue collection expires. 7. Upon approval of the proposed increased levy, the Putnam County Commission will not issue bonds as authorized by West Virginia Code Chapter 11, Article 8, Section 16, as amended. 8. That the question of such additional levy shall be submitted to a vote at a General Election to be held on the 8th day of November 2022.
