Town of Eleanor Pardons 'Ellie'

Ellie the turkey crosses Cypress Street in Eleanor.

By Betsy Allen

November is not exactly the safest month to be a turkey, but that does not stop Ellie the Turkey from roaming the streets of Eleanor. The rogue bird, which was sighted on November 8 in front of the Piggly Wiggly, has taken Facebook by storm as local residents share photos of their turkey sightings. Ellie's presence has attracted the attention of PigPig of St. Albans, a Facebook page which shares local animal-related stories, as well as WOWK 13 News, which did a write-up on the turkey's adventures in Eleanor.

Ellie makes her rounds up and down Route 62, frequenting the Town Hall, Fire Department, Raines Funeral Home, Fruth's, Walgreens, Putnam Career and Technical Center, and other businesses. She has been photographed in yards and on patios. While many reports call Ellie a wild turkey, she seems to be at home in a suburban environment. However, while Ellie does not flee at the sight of humans, she does not allow them to approach her, either.

Many people have expressed concerns on social media about Ellie's safety, because her wanderings often take her across roads, where she could be hit by motorists.

According to PigPig of St. Albans, police have had to stop traffic to help Ellie safely cross streets. There are also concerns that

Joseph married Elizabeth Simms (Simms) of Orange County, born 1786, in Virginia, the daughter of Jeremiah and Margaret Taylor Simms. Their fortunes waxed and waned. Blessed with three sons, Thomas, Jeremiah S. and William, they moved into western Virginia in the 1830's, locating on Charleys Creek, then in Cabell County. Ten years later, Joseph Kirtley purchased 100 acres on Trace Fork.

What was to be known to later generations as the Kirtley homeplace was a tract of 373 acres on Charleys Creek, settled upon by Joseph's middle son, Jeremiah S. Kirtley in 1844. (When Putnam County was formed, these several holdings were within the boundaries of that county). Joseph died of "old age" 6 December, 1867.

Quilting

Submitted by Myra Simmons

She learned to quilt on Monday,
Her stitches were very fine,
She forgot to thaw out dinner,
So we went out to dine.

She quilted miniatures on Tuesday,
She says they are a must.
They really were quite lovely,
But she forgot to dust.

On Wednesday it was a sampler,
She says the stippling's fun.
What highlights? What shadows?
But the laundry wasn't done.

Her patches were on Thursday,
Green, yellow, blue and red.
I guess she really was engrossed,
She never made the bed.

It was wall hangings on Friday,
In colors she adores.
It never bothered her at all,
The crumbs on all the floors.

I found a maid on Saturday
My week is now complete.
My wife can quilt the hours away,
The house will still be neat.

Well... it's already Sunday,
I think I am about to wilt.
I cursed, I raved, I ranted,
The maid has learned to quilt!

Today in the stock market, helium was up, feathers were down. Paper was stationary. Elevators rose, while escalators continued their slow decline. Mining equipment hit rock bottom. The market for raisins dried up. Soda fizzled. Balloon prices were inflated and toilet paper reached the new bottom.

Little Dennis attended his first formal wedding. Sitting next to his mother as a bride and her father walked down the aisle, he whispered, "Mom, isn't that guy a little old for her?"

OLD IDEA...NEW SETTING

When the Pilgrims held their first Thanksgiving celebration, it wasn't a new idea, it was a new setting. On a strange shore, barely settled and surrounded by dangers, but grateful for the bounty God provided, they found a way to say thanks to Him. Wherever we are, whatever our circumstances, He provides. Take time this week to say, "Thank you, God". Worship with family and friends and honor that first Thanksgiving celebration.

Obedience in Celebration

Leviticus 25:1-12

God, in His foreknowledge, knew that men would read the instruction that He gave Moses instruction three thousand-plus years to the future. Let us open our ears such that we may hear.

"When ye come into the land . . ." (v. 1). All who have studied God's word know that forty years would pass before the children of Israel would enter into the promised land and that all who heard Moses announce these words, excepting Joshua and Caleb, would not enter into the land.

". . . then shall the land keep a sabbath unto the Lord" (v. 2). The manner in which the land keeps the sabbath is the manner in which men keep the sabbath — the land was to be rested on the seventh year after producing harvests for six years.

New Testament believers have been freed from the constraints of the law by Christ Jesus who satisfied every requirement for us. How then should we regard this instruction given to Israel? Jesus answers this question in Mark 2:27: "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath." God issued this instruction for the benefit of men. God is love. God would not have any perish, but have all come to Him in repentance.

In Exodus 19:6, God declared that Israel was to be a kingdom of priests, a holy nation. Israel was to be different; it was to be an example by which all people could know God. In the text before us, we see just how different that Israel was to be.

Israel was to be different from other nations in that it was to plant neither fields nor harvest produce every seventh year. The opening verses of Leviticus 25 state that there will be no gathering of the harvest in the sabbath year but that produce of the land may be consumed by the landowner, the servant, the hired servant, the maid and the stranger. In Exodus 23:11, God makes provision for the poor to gather food from the uncultivated fields in the seventh year. That which was not gathered for immediate consumption was left for cattle and wild beasts to consume.

It is difficult to imagine how that any nation could shutdown its agricultural plantings and harvestings for a whole year without experiencing extreme famine. That said, it is likewise difficult to explain the manna which the Lord supplied to Israel. The Lord caused manna to fall six days and to cease on the seventh day (Ex. 16:14-22). The amount which was gathered on the sixth day was always sufficient to feed the congregation of Israel on the seventh day. God made it possible for His people to keep the sabbath and declare His name to all peoples.

Just how different Israel was to be is spelled out in verses 10 and 11. Israel was to cease its agricultural operations for a two full years once every fifty years. After the forty-ninth year (a sabbath year), in the fiftieth year, all debts were to be forgiven and all slaves were to be set free. And the fiftieth year, like the forty-ninth year, was to be a sabbath year.

Every fiftieth year, on the tenth day of the seventh month, the trumpet was to sound, proclaiming freedom for all. In the course of a natural lifespan every inhabitant would hear the sound of jubilee at least once. While slavery is generally regarded as an unwanted institution that is forced upon individuals, slavery was also a voluntary option for individuals who possessed no other means by which to settle their indebtedness. They could temporarily sell themselves into slavery. Because the years of jubilee were fifty years apart, its date had a bearing on real estate transactions. Since all land was to be returned to the original owner in the fiftieth year, all real estate transfers were temporary and the value of land decreased with the approach of the year of jubilee.

The release from all debt, the release of all slaves, and the restoration of land to the original owners once every fifty years was to characterize the economic system under which the children of Israel would function in the promised land. It is the economic system which God gave Israel through the lips of Moses. God wanted all people from every nation to look upon Israel and know that it was He, the Lord God, who authored the release of all debt, the release of all slaves and the restoration of all land to the original owners. All people would know that it was His plan because the fiftieth year was to be a sabbath year. People of all nations would look upon Israel and know that the Lord God is the author of freedom who liberates all men.

The elements of every plan reveal the intent of its author. It is God's intent that any and all indebtedness be temporary. It is God's intent that any and all slavery is temporary. And, it is God's intent that any and all land transfers be temporary. It is God's intent that His people should not economically oppress one another.

New Testament believers know the Father through the Son. All who call upon His name believing are given a fresh start — a new life unencumbered by past sin. The God who instructed Israel to keep the year of jubilee is the same God who lifts men up to be a testimony unto Him. He is the God who does the impossible.

It is by and through His grace that believers are empowered to be a testimony to all people and all nations that He is faithful to provide the needs of all who trust in Him. Let us do as He has instructed — Matthew 28:18-19.

CHARLES HOGSETT

Charles Haynes Hogsett, better known as "Charlie", was born on December 11, 1933, in Huntington, West Virginia, to Charles Henry Hogsett and Mary Louise (Haynes) Hogsett. He was preceded in death by his father and mother, his sister Flora Ann McClure, and his baby son Charles Timothy Hogsett.

He is survived by his wife, Patricia Sue (Shelton) Hogsett, the love of his life, and wife for 69 years; by his daughter Rebecca (Becky) Susan (Hogsett) Burke, married to Dale Burke; and his son Charles Haynes Hogsett II, married to Kathy (Shafer) Hogsett; and by 6 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his brother-in-law Donald E. Shelton.

Charlie graduated from Huntington East High School in 1951, then spent two years attending Marshall University (where his grandfather played on the first Marshall football team). After two years, he left his studies to enlist in the army to serve the United States during the Korean War. He was married on May 28th, 1953, to Patricia Sue Shelton, who also graduated from Huntington East High School (class of 1953).

He spent most of his career working for Union Carbide Institute, being awarded multiple recognitions for excellence in service, retiring in 1989. He was the Past Master of the Masonic Lodge 139 of Hurricane, West Virginia, and an active member of the First Baptist Church of Hurricane for over 60 years. His favorite question to ask friends, old and new, was "Do you know the Lord?" He cared about people's eternity.

More importantly, Charlie loved his Lord Jesus. He began his days reading his Bible and asking God to bless his much-loved family. He was a husband who faithfully loved his wife, Patty, for over 69 years, often declaring her to be "his whole world". He raised two great children, his daughter Becky (of Carlsbad, CA) and his son Chuck (of Mineral Wells). He enjoyed the blessing of 6 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren as his legacy. He was a great neighbor, loving friend, and life-long explorer of God's great outdoors as he hunted and fished the mountains and streams of West Virginia. He and his wife enjoyed travel, their friends, their church, and their family until he passed into the presence of His Lord Jesus as he slept on November 16th, 2022.

WILLIAM D. LETT

William D. "Bill" Lett, 77, AKA "The Mayor of South Street," passed away November 12, 2022. A longtime resident of South Charleston, Bill was the son of the late Rev. Dave and Avalee Lett. He was also preceded in death by sister and brother-in-law Ruth Ann and Richard Swanson, and in-laws Douglas and Rose Spaulding.

Survivors include Bill's devoted wife of 54 years, Elaine Spaulding Lett, and son, Kristopher, (He was a wonderful, loving husband and father.); sister and brother-in-law, Marjorie and Jerry Ledson of Myrtle Beach, SC, (If her stare would not suffice, a swift fist from Marjorie made any bully think twice! She let it be known, when you step up to Billy, you best be real nice.); The family that became his even before he married Elaine, brother-in-law and wife, Douglas C. Spaulding II and wife Linda of Scott Depot, and sister-in-law and husband, Pamela and Dana Gibeaut of Poca, (All shared a deep love and admiration for one another.); To say Bill adored his nieces and nephews, as well as great nieces and nephews is an understatement. They loved, adored, and respected their Uncle Billy and were saddened to lose him. Amy and Johnny, Lisa, Mary, Ayden, and Makenzie were real lights in his life. Happy moments and long talks to impart his wisdom, (whether they wanted to listen or not!) took place a lot on the back porch. He was so amazing! A brilliant mind, ever ready to take on any task, understand any problem and find the solution. Tenacious and self-reliant, Bill Lett would not stop until the job was done and done well.

Of course, Bill was helped by many dear friends in his work throughout the years, and so very grateful for their love and support. They just had to be able to keep up with him. It took roughly 30 minutes to get from the plant to the house and eat a peanut butter/honey sandwich. After that, he was back at it, ever eager to start in on the project of the day. Whether working on his home, a family member or a friend's - there was always a project. All can look around to see one of Bill Lett's jobs well done. Any day he could stand on his own two feet, he needed to accomplish at task, it made him feel whole. He often commented on an elderly neighbor who had passed away cutting his grass, "That's the way to go."

Upon entering heaven, there was surely a golf game with dear buddies Papa Joe and Pete. Whenever he found Johnny, wild stories and laughter soon would abound. What a great day for him!

Bill was a proud "Dot" from Poca High. Each out-of-town band trip had its own story to remember. He attended WVIT and graduated from WV State. In high school his escapades usually involved lifelong friend Danny Ingram. In college, he was fortunate to cross paths with artistic soulmate and confidant Ron McCracken. He truly loved both of these dear friends.

Bill retired from Monsanto/Flexsys. He was a chemical operator, but the job he relished was "in house" video production guru. It fulfilled his creative side and he loved it.

There will be no service or memorial at this time.

In the Spring we will have a celebration of his life well lived.

A Message from the Mayor...

November is traditionally a month that we take the time to count our blessings and remember to be grateful for the blessings and the people in our lives. With that in mind, I want to express how thankful I am to be the Mayor of Hurricane and for the people I'm able to work with through this role – not just this time of year, but every single day of the year. It's my opinion that we live in the best place in the world and you, the people, are who make it that way! As we near the end of another year, I am reminded how fast things can change in a day, a week, a month or a year. Many have experienced great joy in 2022 and some have experienced great sorrow. But, no matter what situation we face, I love the way people join together to care for others in times of need. For example, when our neighbors in Eastern Kentucky had devastating floods this summer, I watched as people in our community rallied together to collect thousands of food items and supplies, send money and even put boots on the ground to help. There are so many examples like this that I could share. It makes me proud to know there are truly good people in this world – and thankful that so many of them live right here in our city!

Shop Small in Hurricane

It's hard to believe, but the Christmas shopping season is already in full swing! Have you started your shopping yet or are you a last-minute person? No matter whether you are a planner or a procrastinator, I strongly encourage all of you to "shop small" this season as much as possible. This means spending your dollars at locally-owned shops and restaurants. We have so many awesome places to buy gifts, clothes and food in Hurricane - and when you buy from a local business owner, you are helping that person realize their very own American dream!

To further promote this idea, I recently issued a proclamation denoting that this Saturday -- November 26th - is Small Business Saturday in the City of Hurricane! The Saturday following Thanksgiving has been promoted for several years by the Small Business Administration as a time to shop small following the traditional Black Friday. It is my hope, of course, that you will shop at local businesses all year long, but this is a day that we really do an extra push to encourage you to show our local business owners an abundance of support, love and appreciation.

While you are out shopping, be sure to bring the kids down to our "Letters for Santa" mailbox which will be set up at the Gazebo on Main Street from November 28th until December 13th – and don't lose track of that deadline. It makes us sad to hear about anxious kids not getting to mail their letter because the magical mailbox has gone back to the North Pole, but we also need to make sure our elves have time to get all the letters to Santa in time for him to write return letters! We're also hosting our Third Annual Main Street Snowman Contest this season thanks to some great local businesses and organizations. We need you to vote for your favorite snowman at the ballot box at the Gazebo. Each business/organization that participates in this contest gives an entry fee and names their favorite non-profit organization. Then, our winning snowman's favorite non-profit will receive all the proceeds from the entry fees! That truly is a win-win for the Christmas season! While we are beginning to see the snowmen pop up on Main Street soon, the voting will officially kick off on Monday, November 28th. We'll announce the winner on December 19th.

Christmas in Hurricane

Mark your calendar! The City of Hurricane's annual Christmas Parade will be on Saturday, December 10th beginning at 4:00 pm. It will begin at Hurricane Bridge Park and continue to First Baptist Church on Main Street. The theme of the parade this year is "A Candyland Christmas", and we already have a lot of entries, so I know it'll be our best Christmas parade yet! If you want to participate, but you haven't signed up yet, it's easy to do – just go to hurricanewv.com and click on "Events". The Hurricane Civic Chorus will be singing at the Gazebo at 3:30, so be sure to arrive early enough to get a great spot along the parade route and listen to some wonderful Christmas music. We're also sponsoring some free crafts for kids at My Messy Desk before and immediately following the parade!

On Saturday, December 17th we will be hosting free horse and carriage rides on Main Street from 4:00 – 7:00 pm. This could be an awesome "date night" or "family fun" opportunity! You can go to downtown Hurricane, grab a bite to eat at one of our awesome restaurants, take a leisurely horse and carriage ride and enjoy some Christmas cheer! The loading and unloading zone will be at the Putnam County Bank parking lot.

Speaking of Christmas cheer, we are once again hosting a Christmas House Decorating Contest! Now in its fifth year, the contest gives anyone who lives in city limits a chance at some bragging rights and a trophy. All you have to do is decorate the exterior of your house and fill out our entry form on our website, submit a photo (and video if you choose) and you could win! There are three categories: Traditional, Clark Griswold and Crazy Inflatables. You can find all the details including due dates and the entry form on our website. If you have questions, you can call City Hall at 304-562-5896 or email events@hurricanewv.com. This contest is designed not only to make the City look beautiful but also help everyone experience the joy of Christmas. I hope you will take the time to load up your family one evening in the middle of December, grab some hot chocolate and drive around to look at all the lights. A list of participating addresses will be posted on our website and Facebook page after the entry deadline of December 12th.
