Former Winfield Police Chief to Head WV School Safety and Security

Ron Arthur, former Winfield Police Chief and retired West Virginia State Trooper, has officially been named the School Safety and Security Administrator for the Division of Protective Services, School Safety and Security Division.

Pursuant to the Governor's School Safety Initiative, developed through the West Virginia Department of Homeland Security earlier this year, the Division of Protective Services (Capitol Police) will now house the West Virginia School Safety and Security Division. As Administrator for the School Safety and Security Division, Ron Arthur brings over 20 years of law enforcement experience and leadership skills to assist in the program's development.

"My goal is to make the program the best it can possibly be," Arthur said. "I want it to be so good that other states want to copy it, and parents thank God their kids go to school in West Virginia."

As a lifelong resident of West Virginia, Arthur has a vested interest in the safety and security of the state. He has dedicated most of his life to serving West Virginia and the United States. After he graduated from Concord University in 1992, Arthur became a Paratrooper for the United States Army National Guard.

In 1995, Arthur graduated from the West Virginia Police Academy. He was subsequently stationed at the Logan Detachment, where he served until he retired in 2020 as the West Virginia State Police Special Operations Commander.

On May 16th, 2020, Arthur was named Chief of the Winfield Police Department, where he served until he took the position of Administrator of the School Safety and Security Division.

"Ron Arthur is exactly who West Virginia needs to ensure this program is implemented successfully," says Kevin Foreman, Director of the Division of Protective Services. "We are so fortunate to have him on our team, and I am excited for the future of" (Continued to Page 3)

It's starting to look a lot like Christmas at Hurricane's Valley Park. Seasonal decorations are everywhere, and the holiday light displays, a feature since the 1990's, have been set up around the park's driveways and parking lots to greet visitors. To celebrate this festive time, Yuletide in the Park was held on Friday,

Former Putnam County Bank Head John 'Jack' Wilson, Sr. Passes

J.R. "Jack" Wilson

By Ron Allen

On December 3, 2022, John "Jack" Wilson, former President, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Putnam County Bank and Putnam Bancshares, Inc. passed away.

Jack and Putnam County Bank were one and the same. He was the go-to person when one had a financial need. Like many in the community, I knew Jack in a business capacity. He helped me time and time again.

I knew Jack in other ways, too. He shared some of his experiences as a youth with the Breeze. Jack responded to an article which Irene Ambler wrote in 1981 in which she recounted wearing worn out shoes with flapping soles during the years of the Great Depression. Jack said that he had the same problem (Jack was 12 years younger than Irene). Irene was surprised to learn that Jack coped with his flapping soles by wearing rubber jar rings around his worn-out shoes. Irene was not aware of the jar ring method. I was. I employed the same anti-flapping technology to my shoes in the late 1940's and early '50's.

I was the son of an unemployed factory worker during the difficult economic times that immediately followed World War II. Jack was the son of a banker. I marveled that we both had need of jar rings.

Later, I learned from Jack that he and I shared a somewhat similar experience relating to dairy cows. During my pre-teen years, I was tasked, twice daily, with milking two or three of my grandfather's cows by hand. Jack milked two Jersey cows and sold milk to customers during his high school years in Hurricane.

Jack was no ordinary banker. He understood what others experience and was always ready to enable them to help themselves and to make Hurricane and Putnam County a better place.

"Without Jack Wilson, I'm really not sure where I'd be today. I owe an awful lot to this man and his bank, the Putnam County Bank. At a lower point in my life, in my 20's, I needed a loan for a car, which was provided without question. Later on, and soon after I started Netranom, I quickly realized I was undercapitalized (didn't have enough money) and needed help quick. I had 2 options (1) close down and give up or (2) ask for help. I went to see Clara Carmichael at PCB, told her my situation, she walked over to Mr. Wilson and, within minutes, the help I needed was on the way. I paid him back within 6 months and started growing the company. Throughout the years, he and PCB have helped me continue to grow Netranom, start and grow Teays Properties and continue hiring employees. Without Mr. Wilson's trust in me (and ultimately trust in my father), I'm really not sure where I'd be or what I would be doing today. Personally, I am forever grateful to him and the Putnam County Bank.

"Jack Wilson gave good advice and helped so many people and families. He believed in the people of Hurricane and surrounding areas and always wanted to see it grow and prosper.

"There are hundreds and probably thousands of stories just like mine. Mr. Wilson and Putnam County Bank have helped so many individuals, so many non-profits, so many kids groups and so many others throughout Putnam County and the entire region, including helping the town of Hurricane when needed over the years. We should all be thankful for all he and the bank have done. Mr. Wilson will be missed by many.

"Rest in peace Jack Wilson."

Putnam County Bank's Facebook page stated:

"As many of you know, Putnam County Bank lost an integral piece of its history and foundation this past weekend. However, to

State Senator Glenn Jeffries, 8th District, made headlines nationally last week when he announced say Jack Wilson was merely a 'piece' of this bank, does not quite do it justice. 'Mr. Wilson,' as most of us here at the bank called him, was a CORNERSTONE of not only Putnam County Bank, but also of this small town, county, and community. If you drive through our county many of the small businesses, homes, and successes that you see would not be here without the financial help and trust given by Mr. Wilson. His generosity and giving can be seen throughout decades of Putnam County. Without his selflessness, our small bank, our town, and our community would not be where it is today. Much thanks and respect to you Mr. Wilson. You will be greatly missed."

Senator Glenn Jeffries Announces Switch to Republican Party

that he has switched his Party affiliation. Jeffries will join the Republican caucus in the state senate.

"I have the greatest respect for the many friends and supporters I have been blessed with during my time in public office," Jeffries said. "I hope to continue and strengthen those relationships going forward."

Senator Jeffries said that when he was first running for election in 2016, he pledged to work in a bipartisan way to find solutions for our biggest problems in West Virginia. He plans to continue those efforts.

"Our politics have gotten so personal and difficult," said Senator Jeffries. "I want to make sure that I serve constituents and our state in a respectful, thoughtful way that leads to a better life for all West Virginians."

Last year, Senator Jeffries wrote a letter to Berkshire Hathaway (BH) Chairman Warren Buffett inviting him to visit West Virginia. During the past year, Jeffries has hosted BH executives in West Virginia dozens of times. His persistence led the company to bring two BH subsidiaries, Precision Castparts Corporation (PCC) and BHE Renewables into West Virginia. The companies agreed to purchase from the state 2,000 acres in Jackson County, the site of the former Century Aluminum Plant. PCC will build a state-of-the-art titanium melt facility that manufactures products for the aerospace and other industries. The PCC plant will be powered by BHE Renewables with a first of its kind 100% renewable energy microgrid that utilizes solar power and battery storage. The project represents a $500 million investment in West Virginia.

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

Remembering...

We all have memories of loved ones who have left us... I write often about Mother and the Burkes... but there was another person who influenced me in ways that can't be expressed in the written word. Mama Coyner, my maternal grandmother... she took me to church from day one. I must mention here that when we lived on Cow Creek, Mother attended with us... she sang... oh her lovely voice... I remember...

Not only did Mama take me to church until I could go alone, she read the Bible continually. I remember her worn Bible... I have some of those of my own... written up so much they are difficult to read. I only remember her having one Bible. I am not sure who has it now. I wish...

The stories Mama told me came alive, and yes, she sat in a rocking chair... oh my... just like this song...

"...I saw it all from Mama's rocking chair. I was sitting in the boat when Jesus walked on water. You have been there when he raised the rich man's daughter... when He opened blinded eyes... everybody stopped and stared... I saw it all from Mama's rocking chair. When she read God's holy word to me, it was so much more than history... it came alive as we were sitting there... I saw it all from Mama's rocking chair. I learned some lessons from the finest teachers... I listened to the sermons of the greatest preachers... but everything I heard from them, nothing could compare to what I saw from Mama's rocking chair... Precious Memories how they linger."

—Ivan Parker on YouTube... sang by John Conlee in the 1980's... written by Tim Mensy and John MacRae... according to Internet...

One of my favorites... Precious Memories indeed... I love that song... I was blessed to have my Momma Coyner. We lived with her most of my life, my growing up years at 2612 Virginia Avenue, Hurricane, WV. Oh my... I remember her words, "Brenda Joyce, don't run up and down those steps." If she could see me now, one step is difficult for me to go up and down... I have now lived ten years longer than she did.

Our old black dial up phone sat at the bottom of those steps. I was on it often despite the party line. The front room was cold in the winter, to conserve heat... I didn't mind, and I just added an extra sweater. I had to talk to my besties. Those were the days... I will take the beautiful warm weather here in Florida...

I remember coming in from sleigh riding, Mama took our gloves and ice covered clothes to the kitchen to thaw... delicious hot chocolate and homemade cake or cookies awaited. She made the best pinto beans and corn bread, and her soups were delicious. No one can make her chocolate cake and white icing and her chocolate fudge... I have never been able to duplicate it.

Remembering Mama Coyner... she loved her gospel music. One song that she played loudly, "What Heaven Means to Me..." I love that song, and I did have her actual album. In my moves, it has gone missing... I wish... I had it... oh alas...

Walking to the grocery with Mama was a delight; she never let me carry too much. When I started to drive, to work, and bought a little Mustang... I took her to get her groceries and run her errands. Wednesday afternoon or Saturday every week... whichever day I had off work... she had fun... I did too... I remember my high school graduation... the lovely card with two one dollar bills... that was a treasure to me, knowing she saved it for me...

There are too many memories... too many to mention... but the most important one is that my Mama Coyner was a woman of faith, and despite her health problems, she maintained her Christianity stance forever. She was always there... from my birth until her death in June 1974... I remember...

We had just bought our first home in Ohio; Mother called me to tell me Mama had died suddenly. I hung up on her because I could not believe that would happen, and I was in shock. She called me back and when she said, "Allen's took Mama," I knew it was real. Allen Funeral Home was our salvation back then... not just when someone died, but they often did ambulance service also... if I remember correctly... don't quote me on that... but Tony Allen was our helper...

Mama's funeral was at the Nazarene Church in Hurricane... she could walk there readily, and she did every time the doors were opened. Her nephew, Ray Hager, and his group sang... you guessed it, "What Heaven Means to Me," among other hymns. I remember Ray telling us that they would sing it the way "Aunt Opal" liked it... lively... Susan Henson and her dad did the music also. Thanks to all of them... beautiful and lovely and gorgeous service... meaningful to my Mama Coyner, Opal Francis Depriest Coyner... I remember her... I loved her like a second mother... because the way we were is the way we are... a part of our ancestors... I had the best... I am the Nana I am partly because of her.

If you have a grandmother living... a grandfather... spend time with them... listen... if you have grandchildren... do the same... you will make a difference in ways that you might never know. We have one life... we are put here to help others... prayers to all of my readers.

Meet Some of Hurricane's Oldest Families of the Shenandoah Valley, the winters were harsh and the Blue Ridge brooding.

The "good" land was claimed early in the settlement of the area, so Stewart Rowan sought other means to provide for his family. The route westward provided the answer; his land faced a frequently traveled road. The Census of 1850 titled him a hotel keeper.

The Civil War brought a different kind of guest to Stewart Rowan's inn. Depending upon the fortunes of war, guests were tailored in blue or gray uniforms. The Rowans favored the Confederate gray.

Probably sometime in 1862, a company of cavalry was quartered at the inn. A young lieutenant caught Maggie's fancy, a Lt. Charles J. S. Kirtley from Hurricane Bridge in western Virginia (Putnam County). Lt. Kirtley wore his uniform well and was ably served by his black servant, Jeff Maghee. Jeff had been with C.J.S. from boyhood and had accompanied his master when he rode from Hurricane Bridge to Buffalo Creek to be mustered into the 36 Batt'n Virginia Cavalry of the Provisional Army of the Confederate States on 1 November, 1862.

They were brothers of time and place. When C.J.S. was elected lieutenant, Jeff was filled with pride. But the brilliant autumn days yielded to the cold rains of December, which in turn yielded to the sleet and snow of January. The festivities of the musteringóin gave way to the harsh reality of skirmishes, the wounded and the dead. With relief, they paused at the Rowan Inn, to rest their mounts and their weary bodies.

Here it was that C.J.S. vowed his enduring love to promising to return to marry her and take her home to Hurricane Bridge. He described the Kanawha Valley in the most gentle terms. It held promises untold.

Return he did in 1863 to marry her on the 6th day of May. Pastor John Repass of the Evangelical Lutheran Church found them a handsome couple and prayed that peace would soon bless their union. Charles J.S. soon rejoined his company and Maggie's happiness dulled, tarnished by the despair of separation. She longed to escape the valley, the inn, the war!

The tides of war turned against the Confederacy, and the bright promise of a November day at Buffalo Creek was swept away. Instead there was hunger and dysentery, unquenchable thirst or gnawing hunger, amputation and mutilation. Death marched before them.

Death marched, as well in Tennessee, where the half-brother of C.J.S., Frank Kirtley fell at the Battle of Morristown, 12 December, 1863. Six years younger than Frank, C.J.S. held his brother in the highest esteem.

Overcome by his personal sorrow, his yearning for Maggie, his horror of the sick and dying, Charles J.S. fled to Giles County, where he reclaimed Maggie. Together they set out for the comparative safety of Charleys Creek and Hurricane Bridge. He was dropped from the Confederate rolls on 24

April, 1864.

Time passed...The heroes returned, like cousins, Mahlon and Morris Kirtley, while the one hero, Frank, continued to haunt them all. A pocketful of tears became a flood of despair when a stillborn male child was born to Maggie in 1867.

Sorrow heaped on sorrow! The grandfather, Joseph Kirtley, died "of old age" in December of that year. A few months later Frank's young sons succumbed to the flux. More despair.

Offsetting these losses in 1871 was the birth of Stewart Simms Kirtley on 25 April. C.J.S. and Maggie rejoiced in this son, Virginia B. was born two years later, but pneumonia claimed her at age six months.

Then, on a stifling day in August of 1875, double triumph and celebration...

TWIN sons, John and Mahlon Oak ("Oakie") were born. Charles J.S. was Exuberant! Then, suddenly, his health faltered, righted itself briefly, but abruptly worsened. At age 31, he died "paralyzed". Maggie's horror and emptiness was magnified when baby John fell to diphtheria. One year old and taken from her!

She never really recovered from the multiple losses. Her "sometimes" ill health became a gradual but steady decline, the cough a chronic racking one. She died of consumption on 9 September, 1877.

Out of his grief, Jeremiah Kirtley took up his pen, writing sadly to the inn in Giles County, "Our Maggie is dead this day." ... The Blue Ridge brooded even more darkly that year; the waters in Charleys Creek were frozen white, empty of any image.

our schools." As Administrator of the new division, Arthur will be responsible for hiring and overseeing the School Safety and Security Officers that will be placed within each region of the state. The Administrator is responsible for coordinating efforts between the School Safety and Security Division, the West Virginia Department of Education, the Office of Support and Accountability, the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources, and all law enforcement and first responders to develop, implement, and maintain school safety plans, protocols, and procedures. The regional officers will assist schools in their respective regions as they establish and maintain unified emergency response plans. The Officers will collect and compile all required school safety information, which will be recorded in the School Safety Officer Program Report.

"I am very excited to see such a strong start to the School Safety and Security Division within Capitol Police," says Rob

Cunningham, Deputy Cabinet Secretary of the WV Department of Homeland Security. "This program is the first step to safer schools for our children, and I know Ron Arthur will serve the Safety and Security Division with the same passion that he had while he served the citizens of West Virginia as a trooper."

in commercial interior finishing. With his partners, he purchased and renovated the Four Points by Sheraton Charleston into a multi-use residential and commercial facility, anchoring the city riverfront. Before starting Cornerstone in 1997, he worked as a union carpenter for fifteen years. He maintains his membership in the Carpenters union.

In the upcoming 2023 Legislative Session, Republicans would have enjoyed a very large majority in the State Senate occupying 30 out of 34 seats. With the addition of Jeffries, that majority will grow to 31 senators.

"I warmly welcome

Senator Glenn Jeffries into the West Virginia Republican Party," said Tony Hodge, the Putnam County Republican Party Chairman and the Co-Chairman of the West Virginia Republican Party. "Senator Jeffries has proven himself to be a very hard worker for Putnam County. His efforts to improve infrastructure such as water and sewer services as well as road maintenance have been exemplary." Hodge said.

"We watch the legislature very closely, and if there is one thing I know about Senator Jeffries, it's that he is more interested in policy than politics. This came across to me again when I met with Glenn to discuss his interest in joining the West Virginia Republican Party," Hodge said.

Attorney General Morrissey Urges Consumers to Use Caution with Holiday Credit Card Offers

West Virginia Attorney General Patrick Morrissey is urging consumers to exercise caution when evaluating credit card offers this holiday season.

The advice comes as part of the Attorney General's Holiday Consumer Protection Week.

Consumers may see an uptick in credit card offers with the Christmas shopping season now in full swing. While it may be tempting to take advantage of the "buy now, pay later" option, the Attorney General urges consumers to verify the credit card offer is legitimate.

"It's always a good idea to verify any sort of offer you may receive," Attorney General Morrissey said. "Credit cards can be attractive as they offer consumers the option to pay off purchases over time, but credit card fraud can wreak havoc on finances, so it's important to be vigilant."

Holiday credit card offers require a close reading of the contract. Deferred interest promotions may promise zero-percent interest through December 2023, but failure to pay off the entire balance by the promotion period's end could stick the consumer with an interest charge dating back to the item's original purchase date.

Before responding to a credit card offer, keep these things in mind:

Do an online search if the offering company looks unfamiliar. Include the word "scam" after the company's name to see if it triggers additional results.

Call the offering company directly if an offer to increase a line of credit looks suspicious. The phone number is often printed on the back of the card.

Do not provide personal information or click on any link in an email warning of a problem with the card.

Anyone who believes they have been the victim of a fraudulent credit card offer should contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division at 800-368-8808 or visit the office online at www.ago.wv.gov.

The Things Jesus Borrowed, The Things Others Borrowed, And The Things Jesus Owned

Submitted by Alice Beaver of Melbourne,
Florida

They borrowed a bed, to lay his head, when Christ the Lord came down

They borrowed an ass, in the mountain pass, for him to ride to town

But the crown that He wore, and the cross that He bore,

Were His own. The cross was His own.

Jesus borrowed that bread, when the crowd needed fed, on a grassy mountain side

He borrowed a dish, of broken fish, with which He satisfied

But the crown that He wore, and the cross that He bore

Were His own. The cross was His own.

He borrowed a ship, in which to sit, to teach the multitude

He borrowed a nest, in which to rest, He had never a home so crude

But the crown that He wore, and the cross that He bore,

Were His own. The cross was His own.

He borrowed a room on His way to the tomb, the Passover lamb to eat

They borrowed a cave, for Him a grave, they borrowed a winding sheet

But the crown that He wore, and the cross that He bore

Were his own. The cross was His own.

Make Holiday Memories With Sweet Eats

(Family Features) Whether your festivities include immediate family or bring together relatives from around the country, the holidays are about making memories with loved ones. From the first days of the season to the last, many families spend their precious time together with favorite activities and the best foods the holidays have to offer.

This year, you can change things up and start new traditions with a fresh ingredient like Envy apples, which provide an easy way to update classics due to their sweet taste and availability. The sweet, sophisticated flavor; uplifting, fresh aroma; delightfully satisfying crunch; beautiful appearance; and naturally white flesh that doesn't brown as quickly as other apples all lend themselves to shareable recipes like this Apple Wreath Salad or Roasted Apple Macaroni and Cheese, both perfect for holiday parties.

Because cherished memories are made with sweet ingredients, you can turn cozy movie nights into festive and memorable events year after year by pairing Hallmark Channel's popular "Countdown to Christmas" holiday movies with delicious desserts like Apple Custard Sponge Trifle.

Find more memory-making recipes at EnvyApple.com.

event took place on Friday evening, and featured numerous fun activities for both children and adults.

Kicking off Yuletide in the Park was the Jingle Tails Pet Parade, in which festively dressed pets and their owners promenaded around the green space between the Conference Center and the Commons building. An Ugly Sweater contest was held afterwards, with the tackiest outfits winning prizes. Throughout the evening, the Hurricane Civic Chorus performed Christmas carols in front of the Conference Center, bringing holiday cheer with their songs.

It is not Christmas without a Christmas tree, and the enormous tree in the center of the green was lit as part of the festivities. The tree is in the midst of the Tree Jubilee display, which features thirty-nine Christmas trees sponsored by local businesses. Each tree has a different theme and features unique decorations. Visitors can vote for their favorite by going to Valley Park's Facebook page and following the instructions. Winners for the People's Choice Awards will be announced on December 30.

The Park's Choice awards were given to 1st Place - Hampton Inn; 2nd Place - Facing Hunger Foodbank; 3rd Place - Netranom. The Yuletide Queen's Choice Trees were 1st Place - All in Bloom/Cornerstone Realty; 2nd Place - Hampton Inn; 3rd Place - American Royal Beauties.

After the big tree was aglow with lights, Santa and Mrs. Claus made an appearance at the Commons building, where they arrived with much fanfare. Parents brought their children to see Santa and pose for family photographs with the Clauses.

Shortly after the tree lighting ceremony, Megan Tarbett, director of the Putnam County Library, read Christmas stories in front of the tree. Children could also participate in crafts hosted by So-Kai Kidz Clubhouse, Regional Family Resource Network, and Putnam Wellness Coalition.

On both Friday and Saturday evenings, Word of Light Community Church of Culloden hosted a live Nativity featuring both children and adults dressed in Biblical costumes.

"The Yuletide in the Park Tree Lighting went flawlessly and we were so honored to have such an incredible turnout from our community," said Justin Williams, Park Director. "It's always a great feeling to see those in our area enjoying these events. We would like to thank all of the businesses and organizations that sponsored a tree for our Tree Jubilee and took the time to come out and decorate. I would also like to thank Putnam Wellness for sponsoring the crafts for the children, Word of Light for an amazing production of the Live Nativity, Putnam Provisions, Mike Roach for carriage rides, and Mr. and Mrs. Claus. It was a great kickoff to the Christmas season and we encourage everyone to take advantage of our light and tree displays throughout the season."

While the main festivities of Yuletide in the Park may be over, the light displays at Valley Park will be operating until the New Year.

SLEEP IN HEAVENLY PEACE

Peace...the stillness of a baby sleeping, a quiet walk in the woods, the silence of falling snow...peace, a contrast to our busy, noisy lives this holiday season. The world around us may not be entirely peaceful, but we can find our own peace within. To achieve a calmness of mind and soul we can turn to our house of worship. There we can find guidance and get a better perspective on life. Let God help you find peace within as you worship each week.

God's Promise to David

II Samuel 7:4-16

God's ways are different from the ways of men. The text before us is given such that we may know and understand His ways and know Him.

The text opens with the words: "And it came to pass that night" (v. 4). These words introduce God's response to the events recorded in verses 2 and 3. In verse 2, King David is troubled by what he perceived as an inequality. David dwelt in a house of cedar—a house of luxury—while the ark of God dwelt in the tabernacle (a tent). It is apparent that David's sense of fairness prompted him to call upon the prophet Nathan for advice. Nathan reasoned that God had been with David and that David would do well to do what was in his heart. Nathan knew that it was in David's heart to honor God. There is little doubt that the manner in which David intended to honor God was by building a structure that would house the ark.

It was not the Lord's will that David should build a house to honor Him. God intervened such that future generations might know and understand His grace.

God spoke to Nathan on that very night and said: "Go tell my servant David . . ." In the message that followed, God presented a synopsis of Israel's history from the time of Israel's coming out of Egypt to David's rise from a shepherd boy to become king of all Israel.

Why did God answer in this manner? God gave David (and us) a history lesson because the history of Israel and the tabernacle is representative of spiritual things that God would have us know and understand. It was God's will that Israel should come out of Egypt with great gain (see Gen. 15:13-14). The Lord caused the Egyptians to heap jewels of gold and silver, and raiment upon the departing people whom they had held in bondage (Ex. 12:35). Israel was delivered from Egypt by God's grace, and His grace alone. David, likewise, was elevated from tending sheep to become ruler of Israel by God's grace alone.

Consider the tabernacle—a tent, a nonpermanent structure. In its innermost part was the Holy of Holies which contained the Ark of the Covenant. The ark contained the testimony of God. The ark held the ten commandments (God's law), Aaron's rod (symbolic of God's power), and a container of manna (symbolic of God's provision). The only light within the Holy of Holies was the Shekinah which is of God. The tabernacle (a temporary dwelling place) was the house of God by God's choosing; it was not the house of God by an accident of history or by will of man. The tabernacle was fashioned from the abundance which Israel took from Egypt and all of it furnishings testified of that which God performed.

David's rise from a lowly shepherd boy to king of Israel, like the dwelling place of God, was of God's choosing—a choosing that illustrates spiritual things that God would have us know and understand. God told David that the day would come when He (God) would establish the kingdom of David's seed, and, he (David's seed) would build a house for my (God's) name (v. 13). God also stated that this kingdom which He (God) would establish would be forever (v. 16).

God stated that these things would come to pass after David died. David's son, Solomon, ruled from the throne of his father and Solomon constructed the temple. These things took place after David died. Solomon most certainly was the seed of David, and, Solomon most certainly built a house for God's name (the temple), but Solomon's kingdom was not the kingdom that God promised to establish. The promised kingdom would endure forever. Solomon's kingdom did not last. It was immediately divided following Solomon's death and ceased to exist in any form 2,600 years ago.

When God stated that He would establish the kingdom of one who would proceed from the bowels of David, was he speaking of Solomon or of Christ Jesus? Bible believing Christians are now (present tense) members of the spiritual kingdom established by God. We await the day of Christ's return when He physically shall sit upon the physical throne of David in Jerusalem. That physical throne is the throne of which God speaks in verses 13 and 16. God states that the throne upon which the promised seed shall sit shall be established forever. The everlasting throne and the physical throne will be one when Christ returns. The physical throne upon which Solomon sat when he built the temple was established before Solomon's birth.

"I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men" (v. 14). These words of God the Father are not directed to the preincarnate Son who was with God and who was God from the beginning (see John 1:1). They are words which were for the ears of all who would follow David—a father-son relationship with the Lord awaited every king who would sit upon David's throne.

A similar relationship is promised to New Testament believers (see Jn. 1:12-13). Let us claim the promise which He has given.

She loved her family, friends and everyone in her life.

She was preceded in death by her father, John W. Mobley and her cousin, Beth Reeves.

Megan is survived by her loving husband, Daniel Good; mother, Regina Mobley of Buffalo; sister, Katie Mobley (Billy Matthews) of Teays Valley; grandparents, Willis and Phyllis Williams of Buffalo; nephew, Christopher Williams. She is also survived by several aunts, uncles and cousins.

CAROLYN ADELE GROOM

Carolyn Adele "Dale" Groom, of St. Albans, passed away unexpectedly on November 22, 2022. She is now with her parents: Harry and Adele; her brothers: John and Tom; and Aunt Marian Hillabold.

Adele was a devoted Christian and a member of First Baptist Church of Hurricane where she had taught Sunday School, traveled on youth mission trips and sang with the New Disciples.

She graduated from Morris Harvey College (University of Charleston) with a B.S Degree in Education with teaching fields in Health and Physical Education. She was a teacher/coach at Hurricane High School for 43 years and a 'mighty, mighty' Redskin. Following the passage of Title IX, she started girls' sports beginning with volleyball and shortly thereafter, adding track and field as well as cross country events. Adele was an ardent fan and could be found at all athletic events. She supervised the intramural activities in the gym each day and could be seen at the gate at football games. Adele created Grooms' Games held during Homecoming Week each year and creating lots of rivalry between classes. Her retirement in 2015 did not end her support of all things Redskin. She was also a member of AFT.

Even though Dale lived her whole life in St. Albans, she was an integral part of the Hurricane community. At her retirement Mayor Scott Edwards presented her with a proclamation of "Adele Groom Month", June of 2015.

Her smile, laugh and positive attitude inspired everyone with whom she came in contact. She had so much energy and always motivated others to achieve in life. Dale took a genuine interest in all of the kids she taught and coached over the years. They have called her their cheerleader, a role model, an optimist, an inspiration, and THE Ultimate Redskin. She made a deep impact on every single person she met in life and to quote one of her students, "To know her was to love her." Dale loved to be with friends and family and often was the life of the party. She was passionate about all sports but especially football and golf. This spring/summer she was consistently shooting in the low 80's and loved traveling to play different courses.

Adele leaves behind her twin sister: Micki (David) Marra; brother: Bob (Kathleen) and many nieces and nephews. Her beloved dog, Hokie, named for the Virginia Tech team where her brother, Tom, played and coached, it was the love of her life.

Funeral service was Saturday, December 3, 2022 at Teays Valley Baptist Church with Pastor Jerry Losh officiating. Burial was in Cunningham Memorial Park St. Albans.

Code §63-7-2570(4) (1976 as amended) and ask that this Court grant them the same.
10. It is the desire of the Plaintiffs to establish the relationship of parent and child between themselves and the minor children. The Plaintiffs are fit and proper people and are able to care for the minor children and to provide for their welfare.
11. The Plaintiffs desire that the name of the minor child, Ryder Wayne Furr, be changed to "Ryder Wayne McGuinness" and the name of the minor child, River Bryson Furr, be changed to "River Bryson McGuinness" and ask that this court allow them to do the same.
12. The minor children do not own any real or personal property.
13. There are prior court orders concerning custody, visitation or child support concerning the minor children, Heather McGuinness and Timothy McGuinness vs. Cory Anthony Furr, Alexis Leanne Faulkenberry, and Carol Jean Furr, 2020-DR-26-2063 and South Carolina Department of Social Services vs. Cory Anthony Furr, 2021-DR-26-1942. Plaintiffs are not aware of any other court orders that affect custody, support or visitation of the minor child.
14. Plaintiffs are the paternal grandparents of the minor children. Due to the relationship existing between Plaintiffs and the minor children, Plaintiffs are informed and believe that it would be proper for this Court to dispense with any preplacement, postplacement and background investigation reports pursuant to §63-9-1110, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976, as amended.
15. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that due to the relationship existing between them and minor children, the ninety (90) day waiting period between the filing of this action and the final hearing should be waived pursuant to §63-9-110, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976, as amended.
16. The minor children are a sibling group. The minor child Ryder endured trauma when in the care of the Defendants. He is receiving counseling now to treat that trauma. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that the minor children are special needs children and asks that this Court so find.
17. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that someone may use the Social Security number of the minor children for fraudulent purposes. Plaintiffs ask that this Court order that the minor children be issued new Social Security numbers.
18. Plaintiffs request that a Guardian ad Litem be appointed to protect the interests of the minor children.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray this Honorable Court inquire into this matter, and grant them the following

JOHN 'JACK' WILSON

John Roger ("Jack") Wilson, 92 of Hurricane, passed away on December 3, 2022. He was born in Huntington, West Virginia on November 28, 1930 to Louis Locke and Lillian Margaret Dorsey Wilson.

Preceding him in death in addition to his father and mother, were sisters Mary Catherine DePaulo, Margaret Ann Durham, Victoria Elizabeth Davis, and brothers R. V. Dorsey Wilson and Louis Locke Wilson, Jr.

Jack is survived by his wife of 34 years, Betty Parsons Hunt Wilson. Also, his daughter Susan Leigh Wilson Patterson Becka of Zionsville, IN; his son John R. Wilson, Jr. (Joyce) of Scott Depot; his stepson Dr. Jeffrey A. Hunt (Kristen) of Tampa FL; his stepdaughter Beverly Hunt DeVoss (Kent) of Hurricane. He is survived by seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Jack was a graduate of Hurricane High School and Greenbrier Military Institute and attended Marshall University and Stetson University. Among his fondest memories of youth, was his time spent caring and tending the cows on his Grandfather Dorsey's farm in Hurricane.

Jack began his career with the Putnam County Bank in 1952 and rose to President, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of the Bank and Putnam Bancshares, Inc.

While Jack served on several Boards and was well respected statewide in the banking community, his greatest passion in banking was not for personal attention, but by helping his community and his customers achieve their dreams. His participation with local leaders has resulted in Putnam County's first hospital, the development of the City's water treatment facilities and the establishment of a regional call center for Appalachian Power. No less important was providing counseling to help start a new business or to provide an individual their first mortgage loan. While Jack helped many schools and local organizations, he was passionate about Putnam County and Cabell County 4-H livestock sales and participated

Remembering Mom

By Linda Fisher Armstead

December 10, 2022 will be Mom's first anniversary in Heaven with Dad and the rest of her family and friends. Mom was the 10th child of C. L. Locie and Dona Harbour Young of Hurricane. Mom lived to be the last one to die out of the 13 of them. How painful that was to watch each sibling die.

Mom hadn't wanted to live since Dad left on November 6, 2010. He was the love of her life.

As time lingered on, Mom's desire to die increased. She told me not to mourn for her after she was gone - just to remember, "That she got what she wanted." But, she knew that wouldn't be easy for me not to grieve because I am tender-hearted and I cannot get over the loss of losing my dad twelve years ago and now one year without my mother. It's a different world now.

Life isn't the same for any of us as we lose our parents, grandparents, siblings (I don't have any), other family members, friends, neighbors and our pets.

Delmar "Vernie" "Pete" and Eva Young Fisher were my Precious Parents.

Happy Anniversary

Joe and Valerie Meadows of 2090 Glenwood Road in Milton will celebrate their thirty-sixth wedding anniversary on December 9.

Bub and Barbara Hedrick of North Fort Myers in Florida will celebrate their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary on December 9.

Spencer and Susan Adkins of Huntington will celebrate their thirty-third wedding anniversary on December 9.

Jack and Dianna Pritchard Black of 1000 Jane Drive in Culloden will celebrate their twenty-first wedding anniversary on December 10.

Ed and Debbie Young Brooks of 11050 Bristol Bay Drive, Apt. 906 in Bradenton, Florida, will celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary on December 10.

Jonathon and Krista Meadows Cummings of 1769 Butcher Road in Pt. Pleasant will celebrate their seventeenth wedding anniversary on December 10.

Charlie and Karen Chase of Brentwood, Tennessee, will celebrate their fifty-first wedding anniversary on December 13.

Andy and April Jackson of 35 Timothy Lane in Milton will celebrate their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary on December 11.

Kenny and Linda Legg of Frazier's Bottom will celebrate their sixty-third wedding anniversary on December 11.

George and Alice Armstead Morris of 525 Albert Way in Petaluma, California, will celebrate their forty-first wedding anniversary on December 11.

Barrie and Becky Foster of Hurricane will celebrate their twenty-third wedding anniversary on December 11.

Wayne and Paula Jean Chapman Johnson of Dry Ridge Road in Milton will celebrate their forty-first wedding anniversary on December 11.

Rob and Tina Edgar of 14 Haynes Lane in Hurricane will celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary on December 12.
