HURRICANE COUNCIL NEWS
West Teays Students Get Firsthand View of City Government

By Ron Allen

Second grade students from West Teays Elementary turned out in number to attend the Hurricane City Council meeting on Monday, February 6, to watch government in action. They witnessed a meeting which included a little bit of everything.

The meeting opened with a presentation of a plaque to former Street Department head Lee Campbell who recently retired with 22 year's service.

The students next witnessed reports from the Police Department, Fire Department, City Manager, and Director of City Marketing and Development.

The Police Department reported 28 arrests in response to State charges and 6 City arrests during the month of January. Two of the City arrests involved possession of Meth. The CIU (Criminal Investigation Unit) seized 17 pounds of marijuana and $5,667 in cash in addition to the 10.5 grams of Meth.

Fire Chief Michael Hoffman informed council that he expects the new fire station to open on April 1st. The $6 million facility will allow the City to establish training programs which will benefit both Hurricane and nearby fire departments.

City Manager Andy Skidmore announced that electrical work at the new fire station would be completed by February 10. Skidmore said that the weather has caused delay in getting the sand and soil mixed for the football field at Bridge Park. When improvements are completed at Bridge Park, the section near First Baptist Church will be the home to four all-weather, lighted baseball/softball fields.

Marketing Director Amanda Ramey announced that Food Truck Fridays will be replaced Food Truck Mondays. Ramey said that the Monday date will allow Food Truck vendors to make offerings available on a day that many restaurants are closed.

In the regular business session, the West Teays visitors saw Council establish new boundaries for the Hurricane TIF district, approve policy changes relating to the appointment and termination of City Managers, and approve changes in permitted uses in residential zoned areas.

Mayor Scott Edwards announced that City offices will be closed on Monday, February 20, in observance of President's Day. The next regular Hurricane Council Meeting will be Monday, March 6, at 6:30 p.m.

Valley Cakes and Cafe invited fathers and daughters to be their guests for the Enchanted Daddy Daughter Tea Party, held on Sunday, February 12, at the Gathering Station in Scott Depot. The little girls dressed in fancy dresses and princess costumes, and dads wore their best clothing. The tea party, which is in its fourth year, has grown in popularity since its inception, with this year's event drawing over 100 attendees.

Dads and daughters enjoyed dancing, desserts, games, and professional photographs.

Clubhouse hosted a craft table, where children could make and decorate miniature hand mirrors. Beauty, who was played by Lela Ruth Simpkins, danced and played with the little girls, as well as posed for photos.

Formerly located in the Commons building at Valley Park, Valley Cakes has moved operations to Poca. The establishment is now located at 165 Main Street, across the road from Dollar General. This is a temporary location as Valley Cakes will be moving into a permanent home at the Poca Plaza

Putnam Chamber of Commerce Announces Community Service, Young Leader Awards

The Putnam Chamber recognized two community leaders at their 2022-2023 Annual Dinner Meeting & Celebrations at Valley Park.

Brandon Dorner was recognized as the 2022 Mayo Lester Community Service Award recipient for his contributions to the implementation of the Meeks Mountain Trail system.

Thor Meeks was recognized as the 2022 Young Leader Award for his contributions to the Meeks Mountain Trail, but also for his leadership within the Putnam County Chamber of Commerce and as a local business owner.

Meeks Mountain is a trail system project that began in November 2018 with a mission to build and sustain a network of trails for the health and well-being of the people and create additional opportunities for economic growth. They started building the trail system in 2018 and over the next several years plan to build out 26+ miles of trails here in our own front yard of Hurricane, WV. They are a group of folks hungry for local trails and making it happen with hand tools and grunt work led by Thor and Brandon.

To date, a team of over 450 volunteers have logged nearly 14,000+ hours clearing trails for hikers, bikers, runners, walkers, and trail enthusiasts. Individuals of all ages have dedicated time, money, and physical labor to make this community trail accessible for everyone. Due to the abundance of willing volunteers, we anticipate having a trail system that covers 26 miles in the near future, possibly more. We believe this trail system will be a top racing venue that brings in not only races but prominent athletes from all over the world- giving us the ability to consistently recognize our dedicated sponsors. If you would like to see more about Meeks Mountain, go to our private social media page, City of Hurricane Meeks Mountain Trails, where we have numerous followers.

Currently, Meeks Mountain has over 24 miles of usable trail.

The Centennial History of Hurricane

Meet Some of Hurricane's Oldest Families

In 1988, The Centennial History of Hurricane, WV was published to commemorate the town's 100th anniversary. In 1994, the Centennial Committee published a follow up book which included family histories which were not submitted in time for the 1988 Centennial History. This week's selection is the 312nd history from The Centennial History of Hurricane WV Continued - 1994.

The Matthews Children
 William Jackson Matthews
 William was the first child born to John William and Margaret Paul Matthews. He was April 29, 1881 on the farm on Sycamore Creek. I do not how close the relationship was between Grandpa and his children but I know Grandma was a loving mother. My Daddy once told me that Aunt Viney was the most strict. I have a picture of my father and Aunt Viney

West Virginia Celebrates 211 Day

Saturday is 211 Day, celebrating the go-to resource 211, which helped 30,520 people in West Virginia access help for immediate or long-term challenges last year.

Throughout 2022, trained call specialists connected people to locally available services, including help with rent, food, utility bills and health care. For example, there were 15,581 referrals for utility assistance, 7,949 referrals for rent assistance, and 3,503 referrals for shelters and other programs for the unhoused.

211 is a free, confidential, 24-hour information and referral service that connects West Virginia's residents with health and human services support. Anyone in need of help or information can call 211 or text 898-211 to reach a trained 211 Community Resource Specialist. In 2022, the service received 26,140 phone calls, 2,174 live chats, and 1,696 texts from people in all across the state.

April Knight, State Director of West Virginia 211 is encouraging people to use the service.

"People reached out to 211 this year to find information on basic needs, like heating or utility assistance, elder care, or to find the closest food bank. They also called for everyday information like where to take their child for developmental screening or how to locate job training or find free tax filing support," Knight said.

211 has helped a number of people, including a caller who needed help with an electric bill which was more than 1 month of their household income. After speaking with the caller a little more, the 211 Community Resource Specialist learned of other needs and was able to connect the family with programs to help with the electric bill and also resources for coats and shoes for the children, blankets for the family, and toys for Christmas.

A vast amount of local information is available through the service, including health and mental health resources, health insurance programs, support for older Americans and people with disabilities, adult day care, Meals on Wheels, respite care, home health care, transportation, homemaker services and support for children, youth, and families.

West Virginia 211 is supported by the United Way offices located throughout the state.

Starting on Feb. 11, 211 is currently available to 99% of people in the U.S. and across all of Canada.

If you or anyone you know needs help, call 211 or visit West Virginia 211 (wv211.org).

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

Thoughts and Remembering...

It has been almost three years since Linda lost Rodney; it has been almost three years since my son-in-law lost his dad; it has been almost two years since we Burkes lost Marshall. Difficult to believe, to imagine these three great men gone from our lives. We loved all of them.

I remember Rodney from high school, a sweet, quiet, kind boy... when he and Linda married, they and Mike and I became good friends... she and I had been friends forever... I remember going out to eat at Bennigans in Charleston or eating at Gino's pizza. Going to reunions with them; going to their lovely home after those reunions that were okay... I did enjoy seeing old friends. I remember celebrating their anniversaries... celebrating Linda's 40th birthday at Pizza Hut... her 50th and again her 60th and 70th... big ones... sorry, Linda... I remember bridal and baby showers for Lisa and Amy... those babies all grown up now with babies of their own.

One time, I remember we were at a shower at the Methodist Church. It was freezing outside. Rodney walked up to us and told Linda, "Don't go outside until I get the car warmed up." I was so flabbergasted. Since Mike traveled so much, and I took the kids to school, I was used to cold cars. I went home and told Mike about it. He was surprised also... that was Rodney. Cherishing that wife of his.

I remember once when they came to our store in Summersville to shop... the four of us, after we closed, went to get pizza. Afterwards, Mike looked at me and said, "They truly love each other forever... a true love story." That is the way it was... they, like Mike and I, grew up together. Mike was 17 and I was almost 16 when we got together. Unfortunately, we only had 30 years. Linda and Rodney had more than 50... They were blessed... we were blessed to know them together. When it is Rodney's birthday and/or the anniversary of his death, the family gets together in memories. I will visit the cemetery when I get to WV this year. It is almost unbelievable to me... Linda without Rodney... I have never seen that as I have not seen her since he died.

I remember when Rodney took me on his three or four wheeler at his farm; he loved that farm. He told me that he loved Linda more than life; she did him also... almost three years... a fantastic person gone too soon. True love... forever and ever... and ever...

I remember when I met my son-in-law's dad. Pat's cousin was getting married; Kathy was in the wedding also. She and I were staying at his parents' home that weekend. His dad was so sweet and kind... just like his mom. Through the years, we have celebrated the births of our granddaughters... at the same hospital... one time when my daughter was in labor day and night, Pat's dad got us a suite at the hotel in the hospital. We had separate spaces, but we had the place to rest... he was like that... always thinking of others.

We have since celebrated their birthdays also. It has been a great relationship. Sadly, Larry, the girls' granddad died in his sleep in 2020... suddenly... unexpectedly... a wonderful man taken too soon. One grand was studying in England and had to fly home... later, came home because of Covid, of course. The other two grandgirls were home, but all three were so sad to lose their beloved grandfather... Pat, his brother, his family, and his mom were bereft. I was also. His was the last funeral I attended before the big C (Covid) hit... Larry was so unique, funny, a great family man. He and Janet married in their teen years. He was in a family of 12 or 13 children. His dad died young. His mother married their friend (who's wife died young)... between them they raised 12 or 13 kids... Larry was the only one married and he was a teenager... imagine raising that many kids... (I adored Larry's mother...) Pat's mom had stuffed animals made from some of the clothes of his dad... they all love those memories. She also gave them some of his sweatshirts which they wear, even the girls... and some cross necklaces...

And then there is Marshall, two years ago... my brother-in-law... my ex-husband's brother... my children's uncle... a great great boy... that is how he will always be in my mind. Taken suddenly... no real time to say goodbye... like his father before him... Marshall had a heart attack in church, and then he had a stroke and was gone in June 2021. Younger than I... the middle brother. Mike and he were exceptionally close. It has not been easy on the family. We miss him. I remember when Marshall started driving... Mike and I shared the family car when we went on dates. I remember when he brought Betty to Sunday dinner. I remember when we shared holidays. Oh, if we could have him back... I remember seeing him in the halls at the high school... he would ask what Mike and I planned to do that weekend... what Mike had to say in his letters... he was so sweet to me...

Three men gone too soon... three lives well lived... three husbands and fathers and granddads... three men loved by many... three men who touched so many lives... they never even knew. When spring is on the horizon, my mind goes back to the days of long ago... to the memories. I knew Marshall from the time I was 15; I knew Rodney in high school; I knew Larry from the 1990's. We never knew they would go so early; we never knew; we loved them; we cared about them; we love those who mourn them along with us... because the way we were is the way we are forever... always remembering the great ones... as the anniversaries arrive (February, March, and June), we will think about the families and what they have lost; we will remember what we have lost; we will cherish those we still have with us... this year, we will turn 76, some of us; yesterday, we turned 75... that is the way of life...

THIS WEEK IN THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

For the week ending Feb. 10, 2023

Members of the West Virginia House of Delegates voted overwhelmingly this week to increase the support given to adoptive families.

House Bill 2002, which passed by a vote of 88-8 Feb. 9, would increase the current adoption tax credit from $4,000 to $5,000. It also would allow for adoptive children to participate in the state's early intervention services, such as Birth to Three, Right from the Start and Drug Free Moms and Babies. The measure also would establish the Support for Mothers and Babies Pregnancy Support Program within the West Virginia Bureau for Public Health, to establish a mechanism for state funds to go to pregnancy support organizations. A pregnancy help organization would be required to meet a host of standards, including registering as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

"We have a unique opportunity to help adoptive families by raising their one-time tax credit ... and that goes a long way toward helping with the expenses involved in and through adoption," said House Finance Committee Chairman Vernon Criss, R-Wood. "I believe that this will help and encourage families to take that step to enjoy adoptive children."

House Bill 2218, the Distracted Driving Act, also received widespread and bipartisan support in the House. The measure passed the House Feb. 10 by a vote of 88-6. The West Virginia Legislature first passed a ban in 2012 on using a phone without hands-free technology while driving. HB2218, which now goes to the Senate for debate, would update the current law to extend the prohibitions to any wireless communications device or a stand-alone electronic device. It would add clarity to definitions, increase some distracted driving penalties, and add an exception for autonomous vehicles.

"We, in Judiciary, receive testimony from time to time from stories, and we had an impactful one last week in committee that was descriptive of an incident that brought to light a gap in our law," said House Judiciary Committee Chairman Moore Capito, R-Kanawha. "Sometimes, we understand that technology tends to outrun our code, and so what we're attempting to do here today is update that so that no tragic loss like we heard of in Judiciary will ever happen again due to somebody messing on their cellphone when they should be paying attention to driving."

A total of 19 bills have completed legislative action and seven of those have become law. 1,365 House bills have been introduced as of Feb. 10, and 58 of those have passed the House. The 60-day, regular legislative session ends at midnight March 11.

in her silk dress. Daddy was about five years old. I also have a picture of him and a Harbour cousin out hunting with their guns. I still have that old muzzule loading, double barrel shotgun. Daddy often told the story about how the gun came into their hands. Grandpa had sold a man a horse but the man didn't have the money to pay for it. So he gave Grandpa a large wall clock, a bible, and the gun as payment. Someone remarked that that was not very good payment for a horse. Grandpa replied, "It wasn't a very good horse".

Daddy attended the local school as far as he could and then went to St. Albans where he finished the ninth grade, which was about all that was available. He was given a teaching certificate, but when his father found out Daddy had lied about his age (he was not quite 16 as the law required, this was 1895-96) Grandpa tore up his teaching certificate. Daddy took it pretty hard and left home for a while, but did not stay away.

Will, as he was known at home, told about he and Clyde Hall hauling wagon loads of tobacco to auction at the tobacco warehouses in Hurricane. He was a charter member of the L.O.O.F. Lodge #295 in Hurricane, and a member of Sycamore Baptist Church. Daddy eventually left the farm and became a butcher, working in the company stores for various coal mining companies. While working for the Collins Mining Co. in Fayette County, WV he met Lillie Brash, b. September 23, 1893, daughter of John and Susan Hepburn Brash of Glen Jean, WV. They were married November 3, 1914, and became the parents of three children: Lillian Margaret, b. April 17, 1916; m. Ira Lee Bostic Nov. 3, 1939; Susan Eloise, b. July 24, 1917, m. H. C. "Pete" Parrish July 12, 1950; John Brash, b. Feb. 17, 1919, m. Susan Chaney Aug. 1944. Daddy went to work for the Carslile Coal Company near Oak Hill, WV and that is where I, Lillian Margaret was born. Later, we moved to Paint Creek where Daddy managed company stores in Honaker and Gallagher, WV. That is where Susan and John were born.

We visited the Matthews farm when we could. In the summer, Mother, Lizzie and sometimes Aunt Effie would go berry picking and then make blackberry jelly and jam. Mother also liked to go there in the fall and make apple butter in the large copper kettle in the backyard. Dad would sing us a little song, part of which went, "Oh the apple butter paddle is all in splinters now, and my Daddy wore it out a paddling me".

Mother (Lillie) died in 1946 and was buried at Oak Hill with her family. Daddy died February 3, 1947 and was buried at his request, beside of his mother in Sycamore Cemetery. When my brother, John, died in 1956, the Matthews family name died with him, as he had no children and was the only grandson. However, there are numerous descendants in the Hurricane area and elsewhere. Additional information on Matthews descendants is to be found in the 1988 Hurricane Centennial Book.

"The Town of Poca has been welcoming," owner Pam Fisher said, stating her appreciation for the large sign that the town erected to advertise her business.

"We have the most amazing, loyal customers and the Lord sure knew what He was doing when He sent the Mayor of Poca and his wife into our lives. Because of them we are able to open our doors back up sooner than we had anticipated."

Pair Soup and Sandwich for a Warming Winter Meal

(Family Features) Cool winter days and their cold, crisp air call for a quick warmup in the form of a classic combo: soup and sandwich. Next time you need warmed up from the inside out, go for a homemade pairing that brings together a cheesy handheld and hearty minestrone.

When you sit down for a wintertime meal with the family, Gourmet Grilled Cheese with Aunt Nellie's Pickled Beets provides the comfort you crave with caramelized onions, gooey melted cheese and toasted sourdough. Gourmet Grilled Cheese with Pickled Beets

Recipe courtesy of "Carlsbad Cravings"

Prep time: 60 minutes

Caramelized Onions:

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 3 large yellow onions, halved, sliced 1/4-inch thick
- 1-2 tablespoons water (optional)
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon red pepper flakes

Sandwiches:

- 8 large sourdough slices, 1/2-inch thick
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 4 ounces fresh goat cheese, at room temperature
- 8 ounces shredded gruyere cheese, at room temperature
- 1 jar Aunt Nellie's Sliced Pickled Beets (about 32 beets)
- 2 cups baby arugula
- 2 tablespoons butter, divided
- 2 tablespoons olive oil, divided

To make caramelized onions: In Dutch oven over medium-high heat, melt butter and olive oil. Add onion and cook, stirring occasionally, 5 minutes then reduce heat to medium.

Cook until onions are caramelized and rich, deep golden brown, about 25 minutes, stirring often. Turn heat to medium-low or add water if onions are dry or start to scorch before caramelizing.

Add sugar, balsamic vinegar, salt, pepper and red pepper flakes; cook 1 minute. Onions should be jammy and darkly caramelized when done. Remove to plate to cool.

To make sandwiches: Spread out bread slices on flat surface. Spread thin layer of mayonnaise on one side of each bread slice.

Turn four bread slices over and spread goat cheese on plain side. Top goat cheese with gruyere, even layer of beets, caramelized onions and arugula. Top with remaining bread, mayo side out. Secure with toothpicks, if desired.

In large skillet over medium-low heat, melt 1 tablespoon butter with 1 tablespoon olive oil. Add two sandwiches, cover and grill until bottom of bread is toasted, about 5-7 minutes, and cheese starts melting, checking often. Flip and cook, uncovered, until cheese is melted and bottom of bread is toasted.

Repeat with remaining sandwiches.

Blessing of Godliness

II Peter 1:3-14

“According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:” The verse before us is a reminder of that which God has done and His purpose for so doing. His divine power is not separate from God. He is Divine Power. The Creator of all has given us all things that pertain to life and godliness. Life is eternal life and godliness is godly living.

These words were penned by Simon Peter. This epistle is a record of Peter’s last words. He would soon suffer death by crucifixion (see v. 14, Jn. 21:18-19). The Lord Jesus Christ rose from the dead and was seen of Peter and many others some thirty years before this epistle was written. On the third occasion in which the Lord appeared to the disciples, He spoke to Peter saying, “Feed my sheep” (Jn. 21:15, 16 and 17). Let us feast upon the meal which Peter has set before us.

In verse 3, the apostle reminds us (His sheep) that God has called us to glory and virtue. In the English language, glory serves as both a noun and a verb. The Greek word which Peter penned is doxa, a noun alone. It means a glory which is of God. It is an awesome glory, a glory which radiates upon all who hear His call and come to Him. The virtue to which we are called is, likewise, of Him. He has given us exceeding and great promises.

In verse 4, Peter states why God has given us such marvelous and wonderful promises. The Lord God of all would have us partake of His divine nature. He would have us experience the fullness of knowing Him. Peter is writing to “us.” Us is all who escape the corruption that is in the world through lust. There is only one means of escape. No man can save himself from himself. Us is all who have called upon the only name by which men may be saved. Us is all who have been saved by grace through faith. Saving faith is the gift of God (Eph. 2:8). We have escaped the corruption which lust wields by believing upon Him who paid our sin debt.

“And beside this” (v. 5). His great and precious promises exceed the gift of saving faith. Saving faith is not an end. It is the beginning of knowing God. Faith removes the barrier that separates man from God. Through diligence, we can add virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, and charity. Through diligence, we are able to experience the divine nature. Diligence requires us to pay attention to the tasks before us.

Virtue is listed first because everyone can distinguish between good things and bad things. When one receives a good thing, one is moved to respond. New believers respond to that which has been given to them by doing things which are pleasing to God. We know to live for Him who died for us.

Some new believers are diligent and some are not. Those who fall by the wayside do so because they lose sight of that which Christ has done. Peter wants what God wants. Peter wants us to remember always that which Christ has done. The apostle wants us to build upon the knowledge that Jesus has made us free from sin.

Building knowledge requires diligence. In a classroom setting, one cannot learn if one does not listen to the teacher. One must push distractions aside. Jesus went to be with the Father so that the Comforter would come and teach us all things (Jn. 14:26). The diligent hear and come to know Jesus more fully.

Temperance is built upon knowledge because it requires appropriate response to the freedom which Christ has purchased. Temperance is action tempered by knowledge of His righteousness. Partaking of the divine nature involves acting upon knowledge.

Patience involves waiting for opportunity. It is temperance in action. Patience produces the right action at the right time.

To patience we are to add godliness. Godliness simply means to do things God’s way. Virtue, knowledge, temperance and patience all combine to manifest God.

To godliness we are to add brotherly kindness. Peter lists qualities in sequential order. Brotherly kindness can be evident in the homes of pagans. Brotherly kindness speaks to them who lack knowledge of God.

And to brotherly love we are to add charity. Charity is a selfless love. It is a love that goes beyond brotherly love. Selfless love is the ultimate expression of Jesus Christ. It is the fullest portrayal of the divine nature to which we are called.

If these things abound in us, we shall be fruitful. His purposes will be realized through us.

God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. God has called us to deliver that message. In so doing, we are to make our calling and election certain. Let us do as He has said. Let us never forget that which He has done.

GARRY LEGG, SR.

Husband, father, and grandfather, Garry Brent Legg, Sr. entered fully into the presence of the Lord on Friday, February 10, 2023, at Duke University Medical Center following a brave fight with leukemia. He was 66.

Happy 73rd Birthday Sue Gillispie Chapman

Happy Belated 73rd Birthday to my longtime/lifetime friend, Sue Gillispie Chapman that was on February 7, 2023. She and I practically grew up together, even though she was a 1968 graduate of Winfield High School, and I was a 1967 Hurricane High School graduate. Her mother, Virginia Young Gillispie, and my mother, Eva Young Fisher were cousins and best friends. Susie's dad, Henry Eugene Gillespie, and my dad, Delmar "Pete" Fisher were best friends. Sue's dad and my dad were longtime deacons at 5 and 20 United Baptist Church, Fraziers, Bottom, West Virginia. We all attended the same church for several years. Her mother and my mother sang in the choir and church quartet. Dad lead the church service many times and Henry took up the offering. Our parents are buried at Lower Hodges Cemetery, Winfield, West Virginia, and when Sue's time and my time is up we also will be buried there - all in the same row. Sue has 2 children, Bryan (Mandy) Chapman of Milton; and Wendy (Greg) Tomblin of Apple Grove, W Va and 6 grandchildren. Sue used to work at Heck's Department Store, Hurricane W Va and Morris Memorial Nursing Home, Milton, W Va. Sue has been a lifetime friend of who she and I shared/share many secrets, good ones and bad ones of which we had/ have full trust of each other's confidence that they would go no further. Life has not dealt Sue the best over the past years as she is in Genesis, Hurricane, W Va for therapy. It has not turned out like she had hoped. Sue would enjoy a card, visit or phone call from her family, friends and church family. I Love You, Sue! - Linda Fisher Armstead

Winter Blues Farmers Market Returns February 25

Winter Blues is back! The indoor farmers market makes its return on Saturday, February 25. More than 60 vendors from across West Virginia will be on hand to sell products grown and sourced right here in the Mountain State. The event takes place at the Charleston Coliseum and Convention Center from 1-5 p.m. It is free for the public to attend.

"The pandemic and supply chain issues highlighted the importance of local agriculture in regard to food security and economic development," said Commissioner of Agriculture Kent Leonhardt. "The Winter Blues Farmers Market serves an opportunity for agribusinesses to feature their local goods to consumers, as well as further create resilient food systems. Don't miss your chance to support local agriculture and its producers."

The market will feature everything from soap to salsa, fresh vegetables and fruits to pure, West Virginia maple syrup. Shoppers will have the chance to talk to vendors and find out how they grow, make or produce their goods. Many vendors will also be sampling their products.

In 2022, the total sales for the Winter Blues Farmers' Market topped $60,000. Winter Blues is sponsored by the WVDA and the WVU Extension
