City of Hurricane Responds to Annexation Request

The Hurricane City Council held the first reading of an ordinance to annex three business properties into city limits at its October 2nd meeting. The businesses are Fairways Restaurant and Marathon, 3706 Teays Valley Road; Thrush & Clark Allergists, 3977 Teays Valley Road; and Bubbarino's Bites & Bubbles, 3501 Teays Valley Road. The owners of all three businesses approached the City and asked to be brought into Hurricane corporate limits. The Hurricane Council must hold a second reading and the Putnam County Commission must grant the request before the annexations are finalized. The responsibility for providing law enforcement will shift from the Putnam County Sheriff to the Hurricane Police Department upon County Commission approval. Prior to the regular business session, Council recognized Hurricane resident Bob Anderson, winner of the West Virginia State Fair Fruitcake Contest and Katrina Kappen of Scott Depot, Mrs. All-Star United States 2024.

Bob Anderson Honored

Bob Anderson, 95, entered the fruitcake contest for the first time this year at the urging of his son. He began making fruitcakes in 1963. Anderson told the council that his first fruitcake was the result of a mistake. "I gave my mother's recipe to my wife. She followed the directions but the cake just poured out of the pan after baking. I told her that the butter (it requires a full pound of butter) must have been bad. I got some fresh butter but she was unwilling to give it a second try so I gave it a go and all turned out well."

What started as a mistake became a tradition. One cake per year turned into two, and then into

Horses, Horses and More Horses

This 4-horse hitch was one of many equine entries to please spectators at this year's Buffalo All-Horse Parade.

State Route 62 was closed for more than an hour for good cause on Saturday, September 30, in both Buffalo and Poca. Buffalo was the site of an all horse parade which three. Last year, Anderson's son learned of the West Virginia State Fair Fruitcake Contest from an individual who had won it for twenty consecutive years. His son said that the winner's cake did not come close to the ones that Bob makes and urged him to enter. Bob is now reigning champion. The old champion finished third.

Later this year, members of Bob's Sunday School class will get to enjoy a sample of the fruitcake that has pleased so many for many, many years.

The Council recognized Katrina Kappen upon her winning the Mrs. All-Star United States 2024 title. Kappen resides in Scott Depot but has strong ties to Hurricane as her husband is a Hurricane High graduate. Kappen actually has ties to many West Virginia locales because of her community service endeavors. She drew well over fifty equine participants, while Poca was the scene of the Poca Fall Festival Parade.

was followed by an Amish dinner and auction with the proceeds given to Hospice. The Poca Fall Festival is a time for the community to remember, "Once a Dot Always a Dot!" Parade photos can be found on Pages 8 and 9.

One Family, Same Teays Valley Address for 199 Years

3641 Teays Valley address has been home to five generations of the Estes family

By Helen Estes Carter

It was in 1824 when Thomas and Mary Estes migrated from Culpepper, Virginia to the Hurricane Cow Creek area, then part of Kanawha County, West Virginia. It wasn't until March 11, 1848, that the bill was passed by the General Assembly of Virginia to form Putnam County from portions of Kanawha, Mason, and Cabell.

There were several families that relocated to the Teays Valley area of West Virginia. They brought all their tools and farm animals across the Allegheny and Appalachian Mountains to make a new home in West Virginia.

Thomas Estes and his three sons were active in the growth of Teays Valley and the Hurricane area participating in the building of many of the farm homesteads in the Cow Creek area as well as one room school houses on both Hurricane and Cow Creek Road.

The Estes' families, always pioneers, brought the first threshing machine run by a steam engine to the area and ran a sawmill which supplied building lumber for many construction jobs in Putnam County through 1950.

The farmhouse was always a prosperous farm and stock raising operation also producing a tobacco allotment through the 1940's.

Lonnie Erasmus Estes owned and operated an auto repair shop on the family homestead through 1980.

Homer Estes was a well-known and respected Putnam County builder until retirement.

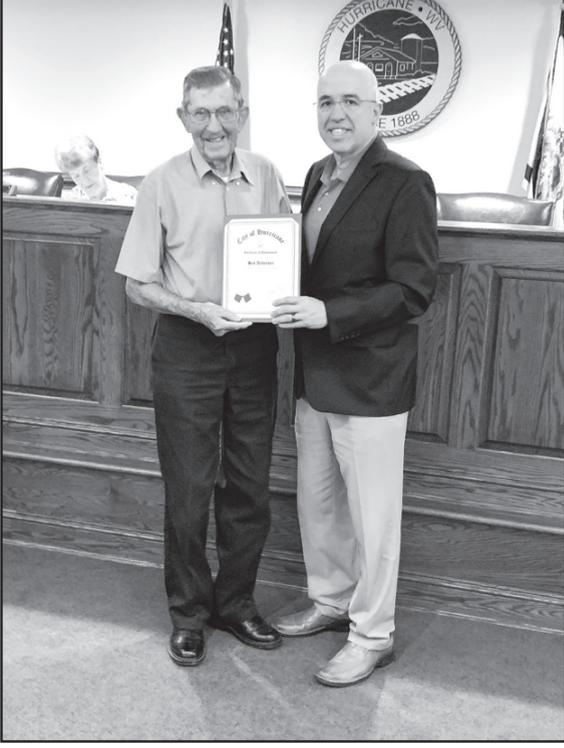

The Estes home place is on a tract of land originally encompassing from the RR tracks across Teays Valley Road past I-64 and ending at what is now named Cow Creek Right Fork, just before the Dwayne Bird farm almost at the end of Cow Creek Road. The east-west borders were approximately Oak Street on the east and Cow Creek Road on the west.

The north side of Teays Valley Road encompassed 72 acres and was sold in 1962. Included in these 72 acres were two Estes' cemeteries, one located on Dwayne Bird's farm and the other in the Woodridge Estates subdivision. Both are still accessible. Also in the 72 acres were other Estes' homesteads and farms during the period 1820 through 1860. None are still in existence.

The homestead built by Erasmus Estes II as his family's farmhouse is 3641 Teays Valley Road and was built in 1900. The homestead continues to be in good condition and sits on approximately 5 acres

Girl Scouts Begin Selling Candy, Nuts, Magazines and More

You may be familiar with the popular Girl Scout Cookies in the spring, but have you heard of Dulce Daises, Peanut Butter Penguins or Mint Trefoils?

These are just a few of the delicious options the Girl Scouts of Black Diamond are selling as part of this year's Fall Product Program.

"If you've had a Girl Scout Cookie, you know how delicious Girl Scout products are," said Beth Casey, CEO of Girl Scouts of Black Diamond.

"They are great and make perfect gifts for friends and family. And all the while, you're supporting Girl Scouts to help them learn goal setting, decision making, money management, business ethics and people skills."

The Fall Product Program launches online and in person Sept. 28 with an assortment of nuts and candy, such as: chocolate covered pretzels, pecan caramel supremes, chocolate covered raisins, dark chocolate sea salt caramels, English butter toffee, fruit slices, honey roasted peanuts, honey vanilla cashew halves and so much more.

Select specialty items also come packaged in a seasonal tin, which makes them perfect for holiday gifts.

The sale is also set to include magazine subscriptions, like Vogue, Bon Appetit, Better Homes & Gardens and two new products: Tervis Tumblers and Bark Boxes for four-legged Girl Scout fans.

Girl Scouts sell these products through their online storefronts and physical order cards. Contact your local Girl Scout to place your order for candy, nuts, magazines and more. You can also purchase directly from the council by emailing productsales@bdgsc.org.

If you are interested in supporting local Girl Scouts but don't need treats for yourself, consider purchasing items as part of the "Care to Share" initiative, where candies and nuts will be donated to West Virginia Gold Star Mothers and the West Virginia National Guard Foundation.

For more information, visit BDGSC.org.

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

Picture this... I wish I had pictures. A little girl, probably holding her Mother's hand, walking up Virginia Avenue... down the hill, crossing the railroad tracks, and behold, a whole new world. Don't forget waving to the men sitting at the depot... watching for the big, scary, noisy trains, trying not to stumble on the tracks...

Main Street was crowded. People to people... one could get lost in the crowd... a different world for this little girl. First, the BANK, Putnam County Bank, of course. Putting in money... getting out money... cashing a check perhaps... if there was even a checking account... going into Tallman's Jewelry... maybe for a gift... that is where the little ring and the necklace came from. Next, a Coca Cola at Raines Drug Store... look at the menu... the magazines... the books... sitting on the stool, trying not to fall.

Ah, there are the Searls' children with their parents... grocery shopping... other friends and their parents... big families... small ones... all together on Saturday at Main Steet, Hurricane... a big day for families... exciting days... a time to do errands and a time to be together. Waving hello and goodbye...

Clark's had gifts for our families... birthdays and Christmas... and later, 45's... adding to our collections... small gifts or big ones... and the crowds in that store...

Don't forget Billups and A to Z... the treasures in those stores... always seeing friends and/or family... stopping to chat... carrying packages... walking to the other venues... going to The Breeze to say hello... a day of "hello" and "see you later."

Picture this little girl with big brown eyes, open wide, looking... laughing... enjoying the day with her Mother... seeing those people not seen during the week... Christmas every Saturday... excitement at its best... (Where have the years gone?)

Hurricane, WV, used to be a thriving area on Main Street. One did not need to leave town unless it was to purchase school clothes and shoes. What we needed we could get locally. Later, Mrs. Bennett's shop for our children, when we visited family. We adored her, and she helped Mike choose the first outfits for our babies... loved her...

We cannot forget the restaurants with delicious hot dogs with chili and mustard... yummm... and those crispy fries... cake for dessert... sitting with Mother, enjoying a meal... not every week as the budget did not lend itself to eating out.

If I could paint, I would paint the stores that used to be on Main Street. The crowds rushing here and there... the train going by frequently... those elderly gentlemen passing away the time at the depot... those who waited on us with such patience and kindness. Oh, I wish I could have a painting of that... I did not get that talent unfortunately... I tried but to no avail...

That little girl was yours truly, and I remember the first time Mother let me go to "town" alone. I was in elementary school, and I remember the paper bag burst (from the grocery). One early trip was precarious as I fell on the concrete step at Eloise Henderson's beauty shop, resulting in a cut that scarred. All of that aside, I loved going and doing the errands for Mother. Times change. My little grandsons live within walking distance of Nana. No main drags... just behind the trail and on another street. However, there is no way they can walk here alone. They walk with their parents or ride their bikes. They won't know the experiences their Nana had... sad but true...

When I lived in Indiana, I remember telling one of my granddaughters that she would never know the freedom I had as a child. In fact, when Margaret finally started driving, she had NEVER gone anywhere alone. It was not safe. Once she started driving, she had freedom to run errands. It made me sad that my girl could not walk anywhere alone... it makes me sad the boys can't either.

I don't look at the world as negative; I do just being realistic. I do not think that things are so bad that we must despair... things change that is all. I am not saying it is for the better or not. It just is the way it is now. Once I took the girls for a long walk in Hurricane... the places I lived, shopped, visited... one asked, "Nana, where are the people?" They were all inside I suppose... we did not even see residents sitting on their porches... days long gone...

I believe our lives are great... we are blessed to have cars to get where we must go. We can walk together; we can ride bikes together (or they can)... people are still basically good... most of them... we speak when we walk... we wave... we laugh... we look for the best in others... If I have to read (on a blog) or hear (when walking) another person tell me that this world is the worst ever... that things are awful... good grief... I love life... I love being with my family and making the most of each moment... our journey... just because the way we were is the way we are... okay, not that little bright-eyed girl, but this elderly (aged really) woman living her life to the fullest... loving each day... thankful for my family and what I have... isn't it great that we are still here enjoying our lives? Wouldn't it be great to see a crowd of folks shopping on Main Street? The way that was... I must add here that I am older than my loved ones were when I thought they were OLD... such is life...

organized. Then, on March 13, 1912, William Searls deeded to G.W. Roberts, Samuel Mercer, and William Searls and their successors in office, trustees of the Mount Olive Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the one-half interest that had been reserved in the deed of November 26, 1909. Each church organization was to share equally in all respects in regard to the said property.

The Mount Olive Missionary Baptist was organized on February 11, 1921. W.J. and W.R. Mitchell were the first deacons, C.A. Nicholas, clerk, and J.M. Searls, treasurer. Then, on July 21, 1921, Big Creek Baptist Church and Sycamore Baptist Church met in council for the purpose of ordaining or recognizing the church. The charge was given to the church by Bro. M.F. Mitchell and to the deacons by Bro. W.H. Curry. Members of the council participating were as follows: Bros. W.H. Curry, minister; H.C. Fugate, pastor; M.F. Mitchell, minister; Damon Welch, deacon; A.L. Mitchell, deacon; Lum Fizer; councilman, and R.L. Campbell, deacon.

Both churches worshipped together and prospered for a few years, after which the Methodist Church became inactive. However, the Baptist continued to support the ministers sent by the Methodist conference. Finally, in 1947, the Baptist purchased the Methodist interest for five hundred dollars and the money was paid to the Hurricane Methodist Church to use on their church parsonage debt.

The church was affiliated with the Teays Valley Association and the American Baptist Convention from 1929-1953. Various changes and improvements have been made to the church through the years. In 1964, an addition to the back of the church provided four Sunday School rooms with a pulpit and choir loft. Also, a foyer was annexed to the front of the building in 1981. The present building is a red brick structure with a grey shingle roof.

An addition of real estate has resulted in fifty acres, adjoining the east side of the church, given by R.H. Adkins of Hamlin, West Virginia, and a plot on the west side, lying between the church and Buff Creek Road, given by Jay Taylor of Hurricane, West Virginia.

The church was reorganized in 1973 to become an Independent Missionary Baptist Church. A written constitution was adopted along with a church covenant and articles of faith. Since 1929, the church has had sixteen pastors. The longest pastorate was that of Bro. Homer Curry, Sr. who served at different times, for a total of thirteen years. The present pastor, Bro. Walter Wade, came to the church in May, 1987. Mount Olive Baptist has always been a small church. Membership was at its peak in 1936, with eighty-seven active members. Now, there are thirty active members. Bro. Russell Beckett has served as church treasurer since 1950, and Bro. J.W. (Bill) Tincher has served as deacon of the church since 1941. To All The Todays

The sun awaited me today
And met me when I rose.
Today might be mistaken
for all others I suppose.

But then a quiet whisper
Used my ear to find my head.
I heard it say, "Remember why you got out of bed."

So don't mistake a single day
for others that have passed.
Today might be the best you live;
today might be your last.

Today might be the promise that was meant to be your chance.
So when you hear the music please let go... begin to dance!

We live our lives in moments
Strung together one by one.
And finding good is all we have
when all is said and done.

Celebrate the Season with Pop-able Fall Flavors

(Family Features) As part of the season of change with leaves crunching underfoot and a crispness in the air, remember to pause to celebrate a food known for its change, crunching and crispness - popcorn.

In honor of National Popcorn Poppin' Month, a time when farmers head to the fields to harvest crops, gather with loved ones to celebrate this humble yet extraordinary snack. Whether it's prepped on the stove, in the microwave or purchased ready-to-eat, Americans consume around 14 billion quarts each year of the wholesome whole grain, according to the Popcorn Board.

With each kernel, popcorn's tantalizing aroma fills the air, setting off a journey of sensory bliss, as the sound of popping echoes in ears and the taste of buttery goodness dances on tongues. Whether enjoyed at the movies, during a cozy night in or at festive gatherings, popcorn brings people together, creating moments of shared joy and laughter. Catering to every palate, popcorn's versatility knows few boundaries, as it can be dressed up with caramel, chocolate or even savory seasonings.

Join the celebration this fall with a fitting recipe like Old Fashioned Bourbon Maple Popcorn with Pecans. Accented with warming flavors of bourbon, orange and bitters, this maple-glazed treat offers a fun, cocktail-inspired snack perfect for sharing.

Discover more snacks that celebrate fall flavors at Popcorn.org.

Old Fashioned Bourbon Maple Popcorn with Pecans

Servings: 4-6

- 8 cups popped popcorn
- 1/2 cup chopped toasted pecans
- 1/3 cup maple syrup
- 1 tablespoon bourbon
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon orange zest
- 1 dash bitters

Place popcorn and pecans in large bowl.

In small saucepan over medium-high heat, combine maple syrup, bourbon and butter; bring to boil. Cook, swirling pan, 3-5 minutes, or until mixture thickens to corn syrup consistency. Stir in orange zest and bitters.

Drizzle maple syrup mixture over popcorn; toss to evenly coat. Cool completely and serve.

Tips: Substitute bourbon with rye or whiskey. For "mocktail" popcorn, substitute with non-alcoholic bourbon or whiskey.

Have you ever woken up in the night and, out of the corner of your eye, seen something move? In the dark you are afraid, but when you switch on the light there's nothing there, it was just a shadow. We are often afraid of the dark and unknown; what if we could always have a lamp? Psalm 119:105 tells us, "Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path." With regular Bible reading, prayer, and weekly worship, those things that frighten us will diminish as our faith and knowledge of God's power and love increases. God can light the shadows in our lives.

The Sin of Achan

Joshua 7:1, 10-12, 20-26

When the camp of Israel took the city of Jericho, Joshua instructed them not to take of the accursed thing. This is exactly what Achan did. Achan took a fine garment, silver and gold and hid them beneath the dirt in his tent. No one in the camp of Israel knew that Achan had done these things. But God knew. God knew Achan, Achan's father, Achan's father's father, and Achan's father's father's father. God knew and God responded by denying Israel an easy victory over the small city of Ai.

Upon the defeat at Ai, Joshua was distraught and fell to the earth before the ark of the Lord. He did not know of Achan's transgression. Joshua thought that the Lord had turned His back on Israel. God had told Joshua that He would be with him and that He would not fail or forsake him (1:5). Joshua could not understand the reason for defeat.

The Lord told Joshua to get up and asked why that he was lying upon his face. God knew why Joshua was flat on his face. God's question was not a question. God's question was a mild rebuke. When we fail God (and Israel had failed God), God does not intend that we should wallow around upon the ground in misery. He wants us to get up and do that which is right. He wants us to do the tasks that He has put before us. In this instance, God wanted Joshua to address the taking of the accursed thing by Israel.

In verses 11 and 12, God tells Joshua the reason for Israel's defeat at Ai. Israel had sinned. Israel had disobeyed God. The children of Israel could not stand before their enemies because they had become accursed. One should avoid leaning upon human understanding when analyzing God's actions. One man, Achan, sinned, yet, God punished the entire nation. The sin of one man resulted in a defeat in which 36 men of Israel perished. Those 36 men would never have perished at Ai if God were willing to overlook one sin. God's righteousness is perfect. He is not blind to a single sin and He does not pretend to be blind to a single sin. Achan's sin was a secret from Israel but the consequence of his sin (36 deaths) was secret to none.

Because of one man, Israel had broken its covenant with God and God would be with Israel no more. In verse 12, God reveals His mercy; He provides a means by which Israel can be restored to Him. They must destroy the accursed among them. Israel was to destroy an unknown individual in their midst who had secretly sinned and had made the whole nation accursed. How could this individual be identified? Israel could not be restored unless the accursed were destroyed. Israel, of its own power, could not restore itself unto God. Israel was blind. Only God and Achan had knowledge of this secret sin. God, in His grace, revealed the guilty person to Israel.

God instructed the children of Israel to sanctify themselves and He would identify first the tribe, then the family, then the household, and then the very man. The manner in which God would identify tribe, family, household and individual is not specified in the text before us but it possibly involved the casting of lots. The manner in which God identified the guilty was witnessed by the entire nation. When Achan was identified, he promptly confessed to the things that he had done.

The closing verses of Chapter 7 record the execution of Achan. Once the accursed was identified, he was destroyed in the manner that God had specified. Achan and all that he had was destroyed and burned with fire.

Israel obeyed God and did all that the Lord had said to do and God was with Israel again. Israel was restored after they did as the Lord required. New Testament believers fall from fellowship with God and from each other when we sin. The Lord is quick and just to restore us to Him when we confess our sin. There are no secrets from God. Confession by believers is a profession of belief that God is all knowing. We are to confess and to go and to sin no more. We are to trust in Him.

Chapter 8 records the fall of Ai. It turned out that Ai was not as small as first perceived. The men and women of the city were numbered at twelve thousand. The messengers that Joshua sent prior to the initial attack on Ai reported that an attacking force of two or three thousand would be sufficient to take the walled city. With God, two or three thousand can conquer twelve thousand. But God was not with Israel in its first attack because of disobedience. At Jericho, the victory was made easy because God caused the walls to fall. At Ai, the ultimate victory was made easy by the luring of defenders from the city.

God gives the victory when we do things His way and He knows when we do and when we do not do. He knows when we depart from His ways. We fool only ourselves as Achan fooled himself if we believe our transgressions go unseen.

There is bad news and good news. The bad news: God requires a perfect righteousness of all men. The good news: God provides that perfect righteousness in His Son whose righteousness is imputed to all who believe. The really good, good news is that His good news overcomes our bad news.

Let us walk in God's way so that His righteousness may be seen by all men.
