Rock Branch Teacher A Veteran's Veteran — Receives $25,000 Milken Award

Janna Hamrick, a fifth grade teacher at Rock Branch Elementary School in Nitro was surprised on Wednesday, November 1st, when she was presented with a Milken Educator Award at a seemingly routine all-school assembly. Cheers erupted from students, colleagues, dignitaries and media when Hamrick laid eyes on her oversized check, realizing she would be taking home a $25,000 cash prize to be used however she chooses.

A surprised Janna Hamrick

Milken Educator Awards Vice President Stephanie Bishop was joined by West Virginia Governor Jim Justice and State Superintendent of Schools Michele L. Blatt to present Hamrick with the honor. Hamrick was completely unaware that she was a candidate for the Award.

Franks who received her Award on October 31 in Petersburg (Grant County).

"Janna Hamrick epitomizes the important role educators play today," said State Superintendent of Schools Michele L. Blatt. "Her enthusiasm for learning is infectious and the relationships she builds with her students establish connections that strengthen their learning. She creates a safe learning environment and allows them to take risks and become more self-reliant. We are proud she has earned this stellar award."

"Talented teachers hold high expectations while maintaining a high level of student engagement, passion and respect. Janna Hamrick executes this task flawlessly and serves as a role model for others," said Bishop, who is also a 2001 Virginia Milken Educator. "The Milken Educator Network will provide her with further opportunities to grow and will in turn benefit from her knowledge. Congratulations, Janna!"

There are 75 recipients across the country this school year who will receive awards as part of the Milken Family Foundation's Journey to the 3,000th Milken Educator. Milken Educator Award recipients are sought out while early to mid-career for what they have achieved — and for the promise of what they will accomplish given the resources and opportunities afforded by the Award.

Hamrick is the second and final West Virginia Milken Educator recipient this season, concluding the Milken Family Foundation's 2023-24 West Virginia tour. She joins Ashley Wilkins-

Editor's Note:

The Donel C. Kinnard Memorial State Veterans Cemetery in Dunbar bears the name of a veteran's veteran. While he worked tirelessly to establish the cemetery as Chairman of the West Virginia Veterans Cemetery Committee in the years preceding his death, Don Kinnard was a veteran's veteran deserving of honor long before the movement to establish the cemetery was born. The following article, published in the November 10, 2005 issue of the Breeze tells the story of his service.

Don Kinnard A Veteran's Veteran

By Ron Allen

What does Veterans Day mean to a veteran's veteran? Just locate a veteran's veteran and ask him. That's what the Breeze did. We asked Don Kinnard of Hurricane.

Don did not begin his military career with the intent of becoming a veteran's veteran. He joined the Marine Corps on July 28, 1952, with one thing in mind — fighting. At the time, the Korean War was in full swing. He did serve in Korea, but not until 1954 when combat operations had largely ended.

What started as a fighting mission turned into a 22-year military career. After his tour with the Marines, Kinnard went into the Navy as a frogman. Shortly after the Navy Seals were commissioned in 1961, he became a member of this elite force.

As a member of Underwater Demolition Team 12 in Vietnam, Chief Kinnard saw plenty of action in the heat of enemy territory. His job was to search out the enemy, locate his structures and supplies and assess his capabilities.

On one occasion, under the cover of darkness and accompanied by about twenty mercenaries, Chief Kinnard located two enemy sampans (flat bottom boats) and opened fire, knocking out their motors and killing several men. Approximately nine of the enemy escaped into the night as the disabled sampans drifted downstream.

Chief Kinnard and his and were greeted by deadly mercenaries turned their gunfire. The larger of the two sampans started to drift away. Kinnard swam to it and tied 100 meters downstream. When the boats came near, Kinnard yelled, "La De!" The men in the sampan stood up

West Virginia Division of Forestry Reminds Residents to Use Caution During Fire Season

The West Virginia Division of Forestry (WV DOF) reminds residents that Fall fire season started on October 1 and continues through December 31 and asks that West Virginians use caution at this time. In 2023 to date, West Virginia has experienced 916 fires, burning approximately 11,340 acres, with 114 of those fires happening since October 1.

"Right now, we are asking West Virginia residents to refrain from calling local county emergency services centers for smoke complaints in an effort to reduce false alarm calls that can pull resources away from local volunteer fire departments," said State Forester and Director of WV DOF, Jeremy Jones. "However, if you see a fire or column of smoke rising from a specific place, please call 911 immediately."

Debris burning is the single most common cause of wildfires in West Virginia, averaging more than 35% of all wildfires over the past 10 years. WV DOF reminds West Virginians to confine their outdoor burning to the hours of 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. according to the West Virginia State Code Chapter 20-3-5. Fires set during that time must be put out before 7 a.m.

Burning is banned during the day because even in fall, relative humidity typically increases in the evening.

A summary of forest fire laws and safe fire practices can be found on the state Division of Forestry website.

The forest fire law includes:

- No outdoor burning from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- Any fire set between 5 p.m. and 7 a.m. must be extinguished before 7 a.m.
- Before leaving any fire for any length of time, the fire must be completely extinguished.
- Clear at least a 10-foot area (safety strip) around the fire and make sure all burnable material has been removed.
- Any equipment that can throw sparks and operating on land subject to fire by any cause must be provided with an adequate spark arrestor.
- If your fire escapes, you are liable for the costs of fighting the fire and any damage the fire may cause.
- Violation of the burning law is punishable by a fine up to $1,000.

To burn during prohibited periods for commercial burning, a permit must be obtained from the Division of Forestry.

The Division of Forestry protects nearly 12 million acres of forestland across West Virginia. More information on fire safety and programs such as forest legacy, logging and landowner assistance, visit the website wvforestry.com

The Way We Were, The Way We Are

By Brenda Burke

I was writing several columns the other night. I realized that there are so many Burkes from Hebron and Maxine. I was surprised. I decided to write about one of the families from Hurricane, the Burkes. I had never thought about what a large family they had. Only four children... married... but then the grands and the great grands. I was amazed. Sitting at their table, there were six of them. I made seven... then Betty... later Becky... and then Sandy... that was a large family... in the meantime, we had Nathan and Kathy... the first grandchild. Then ended up with eleven grands... I am still counting the greats...

Hebron and Maxine met as teens... married in 1945... May 12... Mike was born the next year on May 2... Marshall was born August 1, 1949... Dale on Dec. 20, 1953... Patricia in November 1956... I probably do not have the dates right... alas... I do remember that there were ten years between their first and last children.

So many birthdays and anniversaries to remember... I loved it... we were close until...

Hurricane has families that have been there forever. The Burkes moved to Teays Valley when Mike was ten years old... from Fort Hill, Charleston. Hebron drove to Carbide with other workers... a car pool. Often the family had one car... sometimes two... I do remember the fun times we all had together... a close family. Hebron died suddenly in 1986... Maxine died in 2012. She remarried to a great person, Lat... what a family...

My grandchildren have never experienced the huge family gatherings... those ended with Hebron... Maxine usually visited her four and spent holidays with all of us... when she remarried, she divided her time among her kids and his... the Burke family times were gone... mostly.

Mike is remarried, but he and I had Nathan Daniel (Yuliya) and Katherine (Kristen) Burke Taylor (Pat)... our grandchildren are Katelyn Jessica Taylor, Sophie Olivia Taylor, and Margaret Taylor. We also have Aidan Connor Burke and Nicholas Michael Burke...

Marshall and Betty had Jennifer Lynn Moeschberger (Scott), Jonathan Blair (Kristy), Mary Elizabeth Auxier (Jonathan), and Christina Dawn Cudney (Steven). Their grandchildren are Jackson, Grace, Eva, Andrew, Ciaran, Ronan, Penelope, Matilda, Hazel, Finnegan, Adeline, and Nadia.

Dale and Becky had Bethany (Josh), Paul (Becca), and Jaime (Tom). Their grandchildren are Alli, Caleb, Josiah, Maggie, Molly, Asher, Sam, Sophia

Patricia and Sandy had Harrison and Sarah. Harrison is married to Gabriella with a child...

That numbers almost 60.

Imagine that. One young couple met long ago... they married... now there are all of these children from that couple... Hebron would be so excited to see all of his family, and I have no doubt that he would plan his own family reunions for all of the family to be together.

Their home in Teays Valley, across from the golf course, has been sold. Before I left West Virginia, I used to walk in that area and remember... I could hear the laughter... and even remember the tears. I could remember sitting on that porch swing... eating in the kitchen... washing dishes... opening gifts at Christmas... hugs... good times... and then...

That fateful time in August, 1986... Hebron died in Ohio... but after the funeral at Mount Vernon Baptist, we all gathered at the home... no more with Grandpa... he was gone... he was the center of the family... he was gone too soon... but we know that he lived a great life... he centered his life around his wife and family... he was the best father-in-law... he was the best Grandpa... best husband... best dad... it would be difficult for anyone to fill his shoes... we remember him...

We remember my mother-in-law who was one of my best friends for 30 years... she was the best wife and mother... no one could measure up... trust me... she was amazing... she is missed...

Once the two of them were gone... the house changed... the shadows were obvious because the family was gone... we know that a house does not make the home... the family does... I can hear the echoes of all of us sitting around the dining table... I can remember the laughter as we played numerous games of Canasta... I can remember Hebron's stories... learning to make those chocolate chip cookies with Maxine... and learning to make the best apple pie from the one who did it best...

I remember those times... they will never be forgotten... not only were they my in-laws, they were the grandparents of my two children... they were the great grandparents of my grands... they left a legacy of love and caring... I remember because we do remember always... the way we were is the way we are... I hope and pray that each of their descendants go into the world and make a difference... that they all become good people like their ancestors...

My son and daughter are the best of the best... they take care of me and are loving caring children... in their fifties... lol... they are magnificent... anyone who knows them know that they come from good stock... their children are productive, not spoiled, and are hard workers... they work for what they want... they expect nothing to be given to them... I am blessed, and I know that I have Maxine and Hebron to thank for raising Mike... my kids' dad... prayers for this huge family.

Remembering Don Kinnard

fire from the opposite shore rained near him but missed. His mercenaries returned fire, allowing him to scramble from the water.

More enemy gunfire hailed upon his group. This time from the left in the form of B-40 rockets, machine guns and AK-47 fire. For a period of time, the fire was so intense that he and his group were unable to return fire. The shrapnel from one rocket tore into his leg and foot, but failed to disable him.

When the barrage slowed, Kinnard and his men returned fire. Then, out of the blackness, a hand seized him from behind by the back of his neck, pulling him into the water. His assailant, welding a pistol, was every bit Kinnard's size. The two struggled in the shallow water until Chief Kinnard found firm footing. Forcing the Vietnamese's head below water, Kinnard was able to wrestle the pistol from him. At point blank range, the Vietnamese fell victim to his own weapon.

The exchange of gunfire continued into the night. Kinnard countered rocket and machine gun fire with grenades which he hurled at the enemy's position. About midnight, the enemy rocket and machine gun fire fell silent but small arms fire continued until daybreak.

The dawn revealed the dead assailant to be a North Vietnamese Lt. Colonel. Papers found on the officer revealed that he was a ranking officer who was in the area to attend a planning conference. Four of the dead in the sampan were his staff officers. All told, daylight revealed 18 enemy dead. Supplies in the sampan included four AK-47's, four pistols, 3,800 rounds of ammunition, one B-40 rocket launcher, three rockets, six radios, two sampan motors, spare parts, tools, clothing, uniforms, medicine and documents.

The documents gave crucial information on upcoming operations and the location of base camps and headquarters, and identity of undercover Viet Cong.

Chief Kinnard was awarded a purple heart and the Navy Cross. The Navy Cross is awarded to members of the Navy and Marine Corps who set themselves apart from their contemporaries in risking their lives in combat. It is the second highest honor that the United States bestows for combat heroism.

Kinnard has been an active member of the VFW for more than 25 years and has served as post commander of Mountaineer Post 9097 and as State Commander of the VFW. He is currently a member of the Governor's Veterans Council.

He has participated in somewhere between thirty and forty Veterans Day ceremonies, counting the ones which he participated in while on active duty.

This Veterans Day, Friday, November 11, 2005, promises to be his most memorable as he will be in Clarksburg with Governor Manchin to participate in cornerstone laying ceremonies for a Veterans' Nursing Home.

What does Veterans Day mean to Don Kinnard?

"It is a heart-touching day — a day on which the sacrifices of veterans, especially combat veterans are recognized," he answered. "Civilians have not walked in the vet's shoes. It is hard if you have not been there and experienced it to understand a lot of it," he added.

Post Note:

Before his passing on February 14, 2009, Don Kinnard asked that his final resting place be at the new State Veterans Cemetery. The site for the State Veterans Cemetery was chosen in 2008, but development did not begin until a funding award of $14,118,456 was obtained from the US Department of Veterans Affairs in 2010.

The official dedication of the cemetery was held on Memorial Day, May 28, 2012. Don Kinnard was the first veteran to be interred in the cemetery.

Rock Branch Elementary Teacher Receives $25,000 Milken Award

innovative approach to education contributes to the high achievement growth of fifth grade students at Rock Branch Elementary School, a 2021 National Blue Ribbon School. According to the 2022-23 West Virginia General Summative Assessment, Rock Branch's fifth grade mathematics proficiency is not only among the highest in Putnam County, but also in the state. That is because Hamrick's classroom is in a constant state of motion: Whether students are engaging in hands-on classroom activities like Jeopardy to master comprehension or consistently interacting with Hamrick to track their progress, they are developing skills to become solutions-driven critical thinkers. Weaving in her own personal stories and experiences, Hamrick has her eye on the whole child, skillfully humanizing the classroom and building a strong, approachable rapport with students.

Passion for Instruction: Hamrick's energy in the classroom serves as motivation for students and teachers alike to continuously grow as learners and educators. Rock Branch utilizes the Eureka Math curriculum, an initiative that benefits greatly from Hamrick's leadership and expertise. She researches best practices and shares her knowledge by training and presenting to teachers and schools across the county on how to implement Eureka Math in their own classrooms. Hamrick also leads professional development for her colleagues, working together to plan lessons and target strategic analysis of student data. Most notably, she has become a reliable and accessible resource for students, teachers, and parents. Ensuring that her classroom is a teamwork-driven environment, she encourages parent involvement by opening her classroom for their observation and initiating meetings before and after school to answer questions regarding her instructional methods.

Hamrick's school-level involvement is integral to its success. She serves on the leadership team, is a member of the intermediate professional learning community, and participates on the student assistance team and safety committee. Additionally, she works as Rock Branch's webmaster, updating the school and surrounding community with important news, events and reminders. As a member of the local school improvement council, Hamrick has helped build strong relationships with organizations and businesses and collaborates with a local church each Christmas to send boxes overseas to countries in need.

Hamrick earned a Bachelor of Arts in elementary education K-6 in 2008 and a Master of Arts in secondary math education 5-9 through Algebra 1 in 2011, both from Marshall University.

The $25,000 cash Award is unrestricted. Recipients have used the money in diverse ways. Some recipients have spent the funds on their children's or their own continuing education, financing dream field trips, establishing scholarships, and even adopting children.

Ring in the Holidays with Regionally Inspired Recipes

(Family Features) When Thanksgiving hosts and their guests ponder must-have desserts, one of the most common favorites is an oh-so-delicious pie. More specifically, with nearly endless possibilities and its familiar festive flavor, pecan pie is one of America's most beloved holiday treats.

From nods to the Northeast's love of maple to celebrating sweet tastes of the West Coast with a citrus twist, the American Pecan Promotion Board is celebrating regionally inspired recipes. While the classic pecan pie is a hit at the Thanksgiving table, you can make it a perfect palette for creativity this year by enjoying local flavors that take the festivities up a notch.

For example, putting a festive spin on the holiday favorite can be as easy as this sweet and savory Bourbon Bacon Pecan Pie that's a mouthwatering take on tradition.

When it comes to pecans, great taste is just the beginning. They're the ultimate supernut due to their flavor versatility and nutritional benefits. Next time you're shopping for pie ingredients, remember you can pick up an extra bag to add to favorite appetizers, snacks, meals, desserts and more all holiday season long.

Bourbon Bacon Pecan Pie

Recipe courtesy of Emily Caruso of "Jelly Toast" on behalf of the American Pecan Promotion Board

- Prep time: 20 minutes
- Cook time: 70 minutes
- Servings: 10

- 1 pie dough (9 inches)
- 4 strips thick-cut bacon
- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1 cup light brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted
- 2 tablespoons bourbon
- 3 large eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 1/2 cups raw pecan halves

Place baking sheet in oven. Preheat oven to 350 F.

Gently line pie pan with rolled out pie dough. Press into edges and up sides. Use fingers or fork to create decorative edge. Set aside.

In skillet, fry bacon until crisp. Remove from pan and drain on paper towels then chop into small pieces and set aside. Reserve 1/4 cup bacon grease.

In large bowl, whisk dark corn syrup, light corn syrup, brown sugar, reserved bacon grease, butter and bourbon. Add eggs and salt; whisk until mixture is even. Fold in pecan halves and chopped bacon.

Pour mixture into pie crust and spread evenly with spatula. Gently cover edges of pie crust with aluminum foil. Place pie on preheated baking sheet and bake 60-70 minutes, or until pie is set in center.

Remove pie from oven and cool completely before serving or chilling.

Notes: Pie can be made 1 day ahead and refrigerated overnight. Allow pie to come to room temperature before serving.

HANDLE WITH CARE

Each of our lives is precious and fragile. The question is...how can we protect our spirits from breaking when we encounter life's hard knocks and bumps? The Psalmist David had a life that was strewn with trouble, much of it his own doing. When his spirit was nearly broken, he turned to the Lord. In Psalm 18:2 David joyfully proclaimed..."my God is my rock, in whom I take refuge. He is my shield..." Talk to God and He will help cushion the blows in your life. Handle it with care, handle it with prayer.

BASIC BIBLE

By Ron Allen

A Rebuke from the Lord

Amos 5:14-15, 18-27

Amos prophesied to the northern kingdom of Israel more than 2,700 years ago. His ministry to the northern kingdom was predated by ministries of Elijah, Elisha, Micaiah and Jonah.

"Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live . . ." (v. 14). The call for Israel to seek good and resist evil is from God. God directed Amos to deliver this message because Israel was far, far from Him. Amos was a herdsman and a native of the southern kingdom of Judah. God called him to prophesy at a time in which Jeroboam ruled over Israel and Uzziah reigned over Judah. Scholars have determine the historic date to be between 760 and 750 B.C. This would have been approximately 30 years prior to the fall of the northern kingdom of which fall Amos prophesied.

II Kings 14:23-29 paints a picture of the time. Jeroboam did evil in the sight of the Lord. Jeroboam's evil, however, was not cause for God to shorten his reign. The Lord used Jeroboam to restore lands to Israel that had been lost to the Syrians. The nature of Israel's evil ways is revealed in verses 11-13. The nation of Israel was guilty of oppressing its poor, afflicting the just, taking bribes, and ignoring needs of its impoverished. Israel was blind to its transgressions against God. The spiritual leaders falsely claimed that God was with them (v. 14b).

"Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord . . ." (v. 18). The leaders did not fear the day of the Lord. They thought they were exempt from the judgment to come. Amos makes it clear that this is not the case. They could not escape judgment to come. One fleeing from a lion shall be met by a bear. One seeking refuge in a house shall be bitten by an unseen serpent (v. 19). The day of the Lord shall be darkness; there shall be no light.

In verses 21-23, the Lord makes it known that He is provoked by their insincere acts of worship. His judgment would pour forth like an overflowing river because Israel, while making claim to worshiping Him the Lord, had actually served a god of their own creation (v. 26).

Amos states that God will cause "... you to go into captivity beyond Damascus" (v. 27). Beyond Damascus was Assyria. This prophesy was fulfilled according to all that the Lord had said in less than a forty-year time period.

These things have been preserved by scripture for God's purposes. They are written for our admonition (see I Cor. 10:11). Through the fulfillment of this prophecy, all New Testament believers are put on notice that all which God has said shall come to pass.

We know that our Lord shall return and that we need be ready for that day. We know that we shall stand in judgment before Him. We do not want to be like the Israel of Amos' day.

We note that Israel of that day had two problems. First, Israel did not do as God had commanded. They looked to themselves for deliverance. Second, they did not see themselves as God saw them. Their wretchedness was hidden from them.

New Testament believers most certainly look to God for deliverance. We know with absolute certainty that it is by His grace through faith that we are saved from the great white throne judgment to come (Rev. 20:11). That certainty does not, however, preclude our erring as Israel erred. We err when we do not do as He has commanded and when we do not see ourselves as He sees us. While believers shall not stand in the judgment that awaits all who have rejected Christ, we all shall stand before the judgment seat of Christ (II Cor. 5:10) where we shall be judged according to our works. It will be a time in which every believer's works shall be tried by fire. Some shall receive a reward; others shall suffer loss (I Cor. 3:13-15).

Some expecting reward shall suffer loss because they, like Israel, have not done as the Lord has commanded. Jesus has told us to love one another as He has loved us and Jesus also has told us to reach out to the world and declare His truth to all men and to teach them His ways. There is no substitutionary action. Every work that is not built upon Christ Jesus shall be consumed by fire.

The Lord has told us these things because He does not want us to suffer loss. He sees us as we are. He has called us to seek good, and not evil, such that we might cast a crown at His feet. The day shall come when some shall have nothing but ashes alone.

Let us buy of Him gold tried in fire and white raiment and eye salve (Rev. 3:18) that we might be ready for that day. Let us do as He has commanded.

DOLORES JEAN HOLSTEIN

Dolores Jean Holstein, 88, was born on February 15th, 1935. She was adamant believer in divine healing and passed away peacefully and pain free without medication on November 8th, 2023 after a short illness in the home built for her by her late son, Timothy, and that she recently shared with her daughter and caregiver, Teresa, in St. Albans.

She was preceded in death by her son: Timothy Mark Eskins; grandsons: Christopher Eskins and Dustin Fitzgerald; parents: James and Virginia Holstein; siblings: Mary Keffer, Freda Brogan, Carl Holstein, Lorraine Roberts, Donald Holstein, Bill Holstein, Ethel Gravely, Evelyn Fowlkes-Edens, James Darrell Holstein, Della Holstein and twin boys that died at birth.

She is survived by son: James H. Eskins, Jr.(Kathy); daughters: Teresa G. Eskins and Patricia R. Eskins; grandchildren: Angela Miller (Bryan), James H. Eskins III, Josephine Collins (Shawn), Jessica Nelson, Richard Toler (Denise), Lonnie Paul Nelson (Pauline), Isaac Eskins (Rachel), Lisa Parsons (Richard) and Patrick Nelson (Emily); 28 great grandchildren and 5 great great grandchildren; Many nieces and nephews.

Dolores was born in a little two bedroom home in Ashford in a little community called "Bull Creek". She was the fourth of thirteen children born to her parents. She published a book about her life growing up in the Appalachian mountains titled "A Diamond in the Rough" in 2010. She spent the majority of her adult life as a holiness preacher and was a Pastor at several churches throughout her lifetime. She traveled and preached in many different country churches in West Virginia, Florida, and the surrounding states doing evangelical work as well as Haiti and the Six Nations Reserve in Ontario, Canada, where she ministered along side many of the Native American pastors and evangelists. She wrote several songs during her life that have since been posted on YouTube. Among them was the album "Jesus is Heaven to Me".

Later in life she worked as a Home Healthcare Assistant in both West Virginia and Florida. She had so many funny and heartfelt stories to tell about those of whom she built bonds while caring for them during the last years of their lives. She retired in 2007 and was the caregiver for her disabled son until his death in 2019.

She always dreaded the cold dark days of winter and rallied on a beautiful sunny day. It is so 'her' to leave us before the winter days have arrived and during the sunny days of autumn. After several years of being confined to a wheelchair, this winter will find her bathing in the sunlight of God's love and running through the wild flowers in heaven picking blackberries and paw paw's. She loved animals and had a bird sanctuary on on back porch. She was loved and honored by many and will be missed immensely. Most of her friends have gone on before her and we find joy in knowing that she is reunited with them, talking, laughing and sharing the goodness of God while bathing in the light of His Glory.

Her wake was held in the home of her daughter, Patricia, on the evening of November 9th and her service was November 10th. She was buried next to her son's home in the Eskins' Cemetery in Hurricane.
